Lani speaking to you. Are you ready to begin?

Take in a lovely natural breath, a conscious breath, breathing light into you and using it to connect with your spiritual aspect – your pure essence that is you – that level of consciousness that is you.

Come with me and all of us and gather in the receiving area of the Station of Light.

I am aware that they are waiting for us. Take in another breath, naturally breathing it in and out and focus yourself into this aspect of the Station of Light.

“Welcome. Welcome, indeed. Orem addressing you on behalf of all the gathered Beings who come forward and also welcome you and greet you in their own way. Many of us are familiar to you as a different type of Being, perhaps named to some of you as part of your supporting team. I am Orem delivering this to you.

As we begin this session you will be aware there is a deeper connection being made for you. There is visible, if you perceive this, pathways and steps as you continue to expand and to acknowledge yourself as connecting into a pure light stream. We refer to this of course in comparison with what is normally observed and what is presented to you in your current circumstances in the civilization. We remind you that is only one aspect of creation of the civilization.

The civilization already contains and is existing as this extra-dimensional existence in that aspect of Earth that you as a Being of Light would prefer and would focus into as the existence that you choose to be within – your choice.

Are you choosing to focus into the supporting system of the greater consciousness field of creation? We often refer to this as the dimension of crystalline cities and referring you to these energy spheres of existence, you may be feeling you have moved directly into one of those existences in a parallel reality.

It exists around the currently manifested civilization that people are relating to and in expanding your awareness and focusing into these cities of light, then you are already aware you are presently existing in those spaces.

You may draw upon aspects of those particular existences and how you exist in those existences to fill you, perhaps you would identify completely as your physical body at present. Remember, the physical body has received sequences in the energy patterning that helps you respond to that greater light state of existence and this places you directly and strongly within the supporting light field emanated and passing through your solar gateway.

Connect again into this. It may have the effect of flushing out of your layers of energy and thought field components and aspects of miscellaneous and unnecessary thought field patterns. Thought field patterns can be created to manifest diverse realities and being aware of this you are also aware that you contain the elements that resonate with the higher light field.

Having brought this to your attention again and you will be absorbing all of that light field, we now have you observe planetary Earth Station and observe the shifting patterns. These patterns we refer to that are shifting, are shifting the Earth energy field and in this sense it is being drawn into a higher space of resonating frequency patterns with the light field. Every time you resonate with the greater light field and the light civilizations, it is also including the patterning of the Earth Station.

Choose. Choose your reality and allow the synchronization to occur of your energetic field that is located where your physical environment is. You will feel the light field helping to disengage you from some – perhaps they are limitations that you may be aware of but because your resonating field is within the light field, there is not the complete overtaking of what you might call your life pattern.

This was necessary again to help you more strongly engage in the systems of light.

There is the transportation available which is a mechanism of energy that can shift and also bring in opportunities that will help the overlaying consciousness field around other people who have not actively and consciously engaged the light field into their entire systems. This of course means that they are not fully aligned and connected to the light field consciousness. Engage that light field into that overlaying thought field that surrounds most people and then it is available for those ones who become aware of it and who could have made an agreement as part of their purpose for their present existence in the physical body to engage with that higher purpose.

The focus is on this because many of you have called upon this action and connection and support from the galactic fields of light and the Beings who are actively supporting you all and the Earth pattern.

There is the enfoldment of all in a field of support which you may label love. You may label it light, you may label it joy, you may label it peace. The higher field in the consciousness field is simply a radiant light frequency pattern. Engage this for yourself so it strengthens your alignment and the patterning, the sequencing that you have already adapted to.

From your conscious presence here with us, you also can access aspects of your own source pattern that exists and you are able to access support systems and the potential and the way you have existed and presented yourself into other realities.

These realities we refer to are experiences within fragments of dimensional existences and in all of these there was the single prime purpose for your existence. There was the motivation to move into life patterns to bring in that higher alignment and activity in the way that is individual for you to express the energy system.

Therefore, that all exists and you can draw upon aspects of those that you could utilize now in your patterning and your presentation in life around you. You also have that energy field which is similar to what could be called an imprint, an imprint of the pure design and purpose for you and this you are putting all through, releasing it all through, your current life body and the experiences and having done that, you will be experiencing the greater shift, the greater motivation in you as you move forward and continue activating the light field through you, around you and extending out from your locality around the Earth Planet Station.

This is what is required of you and having achieved this process, we bring your attention back to being in the receiving space in this Station of Light.

You may experience having had another aspect of you activated in line with the light field.

Thus, my purpose of being with you in this session is fulfilled and I step back to allow you to fully integrate this pattern.

Orem out “

Lani again back with you in my essential light form with you.

I would ask you now to view planet Earth and to feel yourself merging back, being drawn back into your physical location, and yet, do remember your linkages with the dimensions and existences that you orient yourself towards. You know there are aspects of you already living in that higher dimensional state – that civilization that already exists around you, around us all.

Now take in a lovely natural breath again and as you let it out be fully back in your physical location. Remember it has expanded to embrace that higher light city civilization. It seems important that it needs to be expressed consciously and consistently reminding yourself that is where you choose to be.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Bring yourself fully back into Earth time as we measure it.

Thank you

Lani
