Omega Communications Portal

Lani with you again, opening the Portal, welcoming you as you ready yourself to step with me into the gathering within the Station of Light.

Take in a conscious natural breath and be with us in the gathering within the dimensional field of the Station of Light. This separates you from the daily activities and the location where you are so that you fully absorb the higher energy field, the frequency patterns, that surround us here within the dimension of the Station of Light.

And so we begin.

"Welcome into this space and come forward and be within the energy field we surround you with.

I am known as Orem, some refer to me as Commander Orem. I simply represent the commissioned Beings and we are one entity who come forward to envelop you and to uplift you and to explain the process of the transition between different levels of energy patterns which are available to you.

We have been presenting consistently to you the information that you are being upgraded, that the energy sequencing for your energy patterns is being activated which, in a sense is being upgraded, but the activation is activating more of the essential codes that have been inherent within your energy field, within the structure.

Your energy field is part of that which you could call your consciousness and your consciousness was of that original point of creation and the consciousness was aware of the necessity to expand into other areas of manifestation. Your particular point of reference in the body form you have now is one particular location that your consciousness chose to be within and to work through.

Again, we bring your focus into that point of origin to help you adapt to the information that you are receiving from that point of consciousness.

The reconnection is initiated and the downloading to you of the information begins when you consciously make that reconnection. During your days and the patterns of what you are mentally and physically engaged in, the linkages, the connection, become diluted. It is never lost. It is simply that your focus is within matters that need your mental and physical and emotional attention, but when you focus back to connect with that initial consciousness point, again you receive what is appropriate for you and indeed, what is appropriate may be the energy patterns needed to assist with what you are manifesting, in any way. You manifest in multiple realities and in multiple ways with every breath you take, with every thought you have, so you will realise from this, your focus within the energy network that is expanded consciousness is necessary for you. It maintains and sustains you and it energizes you in every way. Therefore, as you receive this, receive into you the frequencies which are appropriate for you. You may not even realise what is appropriate or what is needed to fulfil or balance, to create, to eliminate other energy patterns and systems within you and around you. So the ultimate connection and your core energy essence of course, knows this and waits for your conscious connection and so there is a natural process of what is needed for you.

Moving your attention to the overall experience upon planetoid Earth currently, be aware that there is a shifting in the multiple fields of attention, or consciousness, in the lower energy field that is perhaps engrossed in and focused on statistics, whereas when you, in your true essence, expand and receive the expanded state of consciousness, your focus is on the light field that encompasses all and it is from this light field the appearance of the shifting and disintegration is revealed.

It is occurring because of the many more people who are actively engaged in their true connection and realizing through that connection there is an alternative pattern of life that is needed to be manifested on Earth and this has to be through the individuals.

So, you will be moving through pockets of experience where specific groups will be gathering to impart how they see the necessary elements to create a different civilization. There will be overlapping creations which you do not need to involve yourself within. Simply observe from the expanded consciousness field of the network of the quantum consciousness which is overlaying and surrounding all – ready to emerge. Stand firm in your intention that the quantum field of the light consciousness – these are simply your words that we are utilizing to describe this – with your attention and intention of that coming forward, you are creating the clear pattern and pathway. Observe it will be unfolding and working in that natural expansion.

Be aware also of the energy pattern coming through the dimensional gateways and particularly the major solar portal and this is providing the level of frequency patterns to be received. This is what you are connecting with in this session, so in this session you may be aware that you feel some relief and confirmation as you may have already chosen to withdraw from any manifested scenarios that may be imploring you, or compelling you, or drawing you into specific patterns.

Observe, observe, observe from a higher viewpoint. From that higher viewpoint you trust the natural process, the natural vitality, the natural field of knowledge – the knowing that many of you have lived your life by.

We also have you aware that there is a group of younger Beings who have been born in the last one to two decades who are ready to be with you so that you share a unified field of intention and understanding. There may be some of these younger ones who need some clearance of patterns that have been around them and they just need reminding of the way to reconnect to their source which they chose to bring into the current body form.

You will be aware from your own experience and ones close to you from their experiences, that there is the attachment to what has been experienced earlier in the life pattern and this often triggers elements of distrust or fear or other processes which, in simple terms, interfere with your clear connection to the expanded field of consciousness.

We draw your attention to this and now you will see those have no relevance in the present moment that you have. In the present moment, in your presence here, you are completely clear and you are functioning as part of this grouping of consciousness here with us. You are communicating in a multi-dimensional field. Therefore, you are receiving patterns and you are releasing patterns from you of those limiting thought field experiences and you step into the pureness that you are, and also we could reframe you as a Galactic Being, we could refer to you as that Energy Being who has existed in other galactic dimensions – dimensions in consciousness.

Therefore, as your Self recognizes you are a Being of Light, this is achieving the purpose and intention of you gathering into this space in this session. Enjoy the way you feel as you experience this.

I withdraw now

Orem out “

Lani speaking again and Ulea is with me, sometimes I feel we are One and the feeling is that we are all connected in the same dimensional field of energy when we are here.

Gather all of the realizations and experiences you have received today and bring this into you as you connect back into this physical Earth body and I mean the Earth itself as the planetoid conscious Being, and take in that lovely breath again that connects you back deeply and completely back into the physical form that you have manifested and continue to manifest in the way that you choose and bring your attention back into Earth time, as we measure it today.

Enjoy who you are. Enjoy this time and take into you all of the energy pattern coming through from your expanded field of consciousness, from your original point of existence.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Thank you.

Lani ❤️
