Omega Communications Portal

Come with me into the expanded dimensions of consciousness, your consciousness, because as you expand your consciousness and step into the dimensional light field, you explore more options for yourself, and you experience a different sense of yourself and your life. These inner journeys bring you into the receiving area of the Station of Light.

Lani bringing you into the Station for you to commence this part of the inner journey today.

"I am the one known as Orem welcoming you into this space and state and dimension and as you have come forth into this space, you are more clearly connecting with the higher evolved aspect of you.

This higher evolved aspect from your Source creation is always with you. It is an aspect of you. It cannot be separated from you. What separates you from the communication and clear linkage of the pattern with you is simply experiences and how you react to experiences and what has come around you in a sense that distracts you from the true connection. In this Station of this dimension you are more clearly able to reconnect with all of those truer energy aspects of all that is you.

It is necessary to bring you into this synchronicity and adapting to the light field in the present phase of experience you are moving through. The light field will shift. It is not a fixed state. The light field adapts to the processes which are necessary for the evolutionary process of the planet and the light field, as you step into the light field available coming through from Source creation, you also adapt to the energy patterns that are appropriate for you. It is all one and yet, you will find at times you are consciously aware that there is something needed in you in your energy pattern as a physicality type unit on Earth. As soon as you reconnect with your original point of existence you are connecting with the light field and the light field will come forth to make the appropriate adjustments. An aspect and integral part of the light field is the sequencing which is ongoing for you – the activation of the natural sequences, or the codes within you, that continue to change as you experience situations that you feel in your personal energy field around you.

There is again, choice pointed out to you. You have the choice to recognize there is a disturbance in your energy field and the choice is what you do around that. There are various levels and components that are available to you in different dimensions which will assist the reconnection back to the higher pattern of the light field. Your intention is important because that will generate the activity in the light field that is appropriate for you and that may appear in multi-dimensional ways of energy components.

Be conscious that you are an energy form, and you respond to the natural energies that are available in the biosphere that is Earth and the Earth's biosphere receives the light field that is always coming through the solar portal. That might reflect off different other planetoids in the immediate vector of creation that is available to you but remember the Prime Source.

We have initially addressed some elements that you presented with your presence into the Station. Moving forward, you will be able to perceive many other portals that are opening for you to allow greater elements of assistance to come forward from other galactic dimensions, or areas. We refer to them as dimensions because everything is moving and expanding, and this helps you to move away from the idea that everything is fixed and cannot be changed. Remember the light field will adapt to and will bring you into the appropriate energy fields necessary for you.

You have presented yourself into the Earth construct for multiple reasons but above it all there is a prime purpose for your energetic presence within the field known as the consciousness space named the planetoid Earth. Again, we are referring to it as a state of consciousness and your consciousness was drawn into the state of consciousness that is the planet, so that you would experience what it is necessary for you to realise, perhaps to adapt to, but primarily to bring in the Prime Source energy you connect with from the light field. You may perceive yourself as a sphere of light, or a field of light, connected to this planetoid named Earth and yet still connected to other dimensional existences.

In this present moment you are receiving the attention of many aspects of you that continue to exist in a sense beyond time, outside of the framework that you know as time and so you have the opportunity to receive all the elements that will be helpful to you, to the environment, to the energy field that is experiencing certain constructs around all living forms presently connected to the Earth space. Again, we refer to the many groups and the many individuals who are drawing on a higher field of light so that in drawing on it, individually you enter an environment of expanded consciousness and in that state, you will be aware that there are many manifestations, creations, that simply do not exist in the higher light field.

Be aware that every individual is working within a pattern that they perceive is what is needed. In a sense, you can have no judgement on anyone else, because when you have judgement, it puts that individual or group in a framework, within an energy construct, but when you focus within the light field then this opens up a level of consciousness that is always present as the Prime Source energy.

Perceiving this, you will also perceive the shift taking place in the energy field of this planetoid consciousness. It is shifting and you and everyone else has this need to constantly reconnect and readjust to the light field and to the original point of Creation.

You may be wanting to be physically active in a way perhaps you have seen presented through various media types of stories. Withdrawing from a sense of – mostly the stories are all about fighting and resisting – remember that you purely and simply need to realign to your original Prime Source. This stabilizes much of what you observe and feel within you and around you.

Focus your attention on that and then you are connecting into the light field existence, or the civilization, and you manifest that around you. Of course there are many of us who observe and also work with the overlying energy matrix field that contains the higher light field and there are many of us who work simply in the field of making minor adjustments. Where we see areas around populations that may be greatly disturbed or out of synchronization with the light field, then the work of the galactic Beings is to adjust the light field. This gives the opportunity for involvement for those ones who are ready to connect into the one light field.

There is, and can be, misinformation and distortion of what that can be. Your higher consciousness field, the quantumness of you, understands this and is always present with you in what you do and present in the method that you use of connecting to the light field and bringing that in around you.

Some people refer to an energetic plan and the plan must have a fixed set of circumstances. Again, this will change in accordance with the amount of the light field that comes in and for what is appropriate in the present moment and the present moment changes. So, in a sense, no predictions can be entirely accurate because predictions are based on one point in consciousness and as soon as that consciousness opens, or expands, into the greater light field, circumstances change.

Be connected. Remain connected to the light field of your quantum consciousness.

We refer briefly, because many of you are wanting to know this, we refer to this Station and this Station of Light is a grouping of conscious Beings as a way that many Galactic Beings can come into and observe the changes and be part of the expansion and, of course, the evolving consciousness of you the people and the planetoid consciousness. We contribute by assisting you and you may be aware there is always an aspect of you present here in the Station which is why you have been attracted to connecting in. You are simply reconnecting with an aspect of you here in this space.

Indeed, there are many assembled here who have a different form to your humanoid form adapted to Earth and it will continue to adapt because you are receiving the transformation codes, the sequences, coming through the solar portal helping you to adjust to the changes. This is a natural transformational energy encoded streamed information. Receive this. Even in this state in the Station you are able to be in the flow, the energy, of the solar portal. Some of you have come in especially for this moment and you will remember this. You will remember how easy it is to simply align yourself to that stream of energy. Whether you do it in your hours of darkness or hours of direct sunlight is irrelevant. You can receive it whenever you choose to receive it. It is a constant renewal needed for you to reconnect to that pattern. This is simply because there are different layers of you. There is the quantum consciousness, but there are different layers of the vehicle, the physicality of you, the physical form in the locality for you to receive.

You will be receiving this as you assemble here in the receiving area of the Station. As you assimilate that I withdraw now.

Orem out “

Thank you, Orem, I acknowledge all of this. Lani speaking again to you and so this is the moment when I ask you to be aware of your energy form here, breathe in all the energy and information received, and breathe it out all back into your physicality. Connect back into Earth time, bringing it into all physical and energy aspects of you – your personal light field. This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Thank you.

Lani
