Omega Communications Portal

Lani bringing you into the Station of Light again when you are ready and willing to lay aside the activities in the physical world and enter the dimension of your own consciousness.

When you are ready, take in a natural conscious breath into you and as you let it out, move forward with your intention to be within the receiving area of the Station of Light.

It is as simple as that to begin the inner journey. It is simple because your consciousness has expanded and knows how to shift into the higher dimensions of your consciousness.

We wait here for the Beings in the Station of Light to come forward.

"Orem welcoming you here into this dimensional space, into this area where you are free to examine your role on Earth and to participate in the group who are bringing forward the higher light field.

This is important for you to realise. Those of you who access the quantum field of consciousness are already gathering together and creating a field of information and the information is energy patterns, but the type of information is to be distributed in the greater energy field surrounding the mass population.

The energy field that we refer to has been named for your purposes, an energy matrix of the higher consciousness field. Not to be confused with current labelling of situations and always to be aligned with as part of your quantum field consciousness. It is a network of connectedness which exists beyond Earth space time in the reality that you are experiencing and in the realities you have always experienced and continue to experience. You are bringing in the information that is appropriate for you to orient yourself in the correct connection and alignment to the quantum field of your original point of existence which holds the informational patterns that you are already informing yourself with and as we have referred to in previous gatherings, these are encoded patterns which activate within you sequences and the sequences can relate to physical activities, or they can relate to thought patterns which also generate an activity within your physical form, but beyond that, it is a sequence of energy.

This is informing your pattern of construction of your physicality in all its aspects into the energy field that is becoming evident to you that it is moving beyond certain limitations and controls and what has been fed into the lower information pattern that many people have been receiving. We come back to remind you to always access your original point from your quantum consciousness field.

With all of this being delivered to you, there is the continuation for you to be discontinuing previous thought patterns that you have held onto. The thought patterns do create pathways, so as you always reconnect back to the quantum field, the pathways become clear or they become re-aligned to the original sequences that are necessary for clarity of information to come through to you. There have been minor adjustments being made in and through you and whatever situation you have been experiencing in your physical energy field or your location, remember that accessing the quantum field of your highest point will naturally bring into you the energy required that is appropriate. It is a continual presence. In that way you might call it a continual flow of vital essence, absolutely necessary for you and for life, if you want this to continue on the planet during all the changes which are occurring.

In delivering these phrases and words to you there is also an adjustment in the energy field of the planetoid, adjusting it to the energy pattern coming through the solar portal which is also affecting everything within this vector of creation. All of those star systems, galaxies, that you are aware of that have been named – they are all receiving informational patterns. Many of those are reflected to you in the same way that all of the other aspects of you existing, and we are speaking beyond the limits of time measurement – all of those aspects are also receiving this higher grade energy system and you are drawing that all into you to assist you in the presence, in your presentation in the expanding field of consciousness on Earth Station and in turn, all of the other aspects of you respond to that higher energy field.

It creates an energy field resonating out and in that resonance the effect of that carries a vibration into many fields of light pattern existences.

Bring your attention into this awareness of all of that pattern because it is assisting your transformation and moving into repositioning yourself into the quantum consciousness field. So, you may have been doing this and have been realizing there is a limitation to it or a field that you may sense is not functioning to allow you the fulness of that experience. With the shifting and alignment of the Earth Station consciousness field into the correct alignment and pattern coming through the solar portal, then this is creating the clearer pattern and pathway for you. Continue to connect and reconnect with the quantum field of consciousness for all of your answers, for all of the energy patterns needed for you and then allow that to come into your energy field. There are those of you who will sense, see, have an awareness of what is occurring and there are others of you who simply need to think about it and acknowledge it and it is the same effect to expand your consciousness field, to keep you synchronized into the resonating energy field that you resonate with that comes through the solar portal in direct connection to your quantum consciousness point and field of existence.

This also relates to what you would call the reality that you have chosen to be in, in the current body form and in every body form where you exist. The relevance of this is that you are participating in the shift in consciousness and there will be the revealing of a different type of existence again. This continues to occur in certain dimensional alignments which come, and they come in through the consciousness field of individuals and it depends on the group of individuals level of consciousness as to what will be created. That is the importance of you linking clearly and connected to your quantum field of existence – the original point – because then you are bringing into alignment the reality that you connect with in that expanded field.

You will be taking this into you in every way that you recognize is part of you and this has a method, a pattern, that it follows. There is a direct link with your original point of existence in an energy pathway, an energy channel and this is like a central axis that you resonate with that you are aware of from your point of origin – a clear pathway that moves through all of the layers of your energy field and directly is within the core energy channel of what you call your physical body form. This is how the consciousness, your light body essence, continues to exist within the physical structure and form as you know it to be, even though that itself is an energetic presence.

When you assemble in the receiving area of the Station, it is your energetic presence that receives all of this that you are drawing into it and it is through your energetic presence in the presentation as a form, that you connect most strongly with the different layers of existence – what you might call your current body form and the higher consciousness field of you. This is why you enter within the receiving area of this dimensional presence of the Station of Light existence. It is you receiving the pattern within you. This was appropriate for it to be presented to you in this way.

I withdraw now.

Orem out “

Lani again and thank you Orem for this additional information and expansion of what we have been realizing ourselves

My sense is that there is a growing presence as we connect with communities all around the planet and perhaps beyond our planet, who connect in with us in this quantum energy field.

Stabilize this around you in your energy presence here, drawing it all into you, and also, I am aware that we are within the presence of what we name as the Council of Light who are assisting all of this, all of us, and in effect we are with them in that space. Different layers to our own consciousness field and communication always present. You can call on all of this at any time.

Now I get your attention again and ask you to return your energy presence back through the core energy channel into your physical location, into that energetic bio-organism that you are. Do this simply and easily by taking in a conscious breath, breathing it all into you – the energy and information – and continue moving forward into that pattern of light beyond all of the apparent disruptions, all of what we might perceive happening around us with friends or family or cities or lands, everywhere, and realize there is a higher quantum consciousness field that is able to be tapped into because it is present, to bring forth a higher state of livingness. You are bringing the appropriate lightness into this so-called reality of existence.

That is all from me now, so I end this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Thanks to Karen Elsworth for the image of Orem and the unknown creator of the blue light beings that I use and all the ways that we are able to come together in the internet system to receive in a very physical way the energy through the sessions. Bring your focus and attention back into current Earth time as we measure it and to where you are located. Thank you.

Lani ❤️
