Lani presenting this energy journey into expanded fields of consciousness into the Station of Light.

Begin as usual, making sure your body is relaxed, your mind is open and take in a natural breath, breathing it into you like it is the most powerful, pure essence that you need on every level of your Being. As you continue to breathe easily and naturally, place yourself in the receiving area in the Station of Light.

Be with me and be aware of the assembly of Beings around you. It is very natural to have an affinity with this type of gathering and to open to receive energy and information appropriate for you. You will receive the words and energy appropriate for you right now.

This is how we begin this session today.

"We begin. Orem addressing you and I am amongst you and I already have been reviewing what you are bringing in to this assembly area. Some of your questions, some of your anxieties, and your trust, and many more of these things which are part of you as you know yourself to be, with your thoughts and experiences and also your deeper connections into the field of consciousness where you exist as an elemental Being yourself.

In essence the elemental state we refer to is what we refer to as your consciousness – your Essence. Your essence is not the physical and it is not the physical arrangement of manifested matter, in what you call your current civilization. All of this is changing because you are changing and the emphasis is always on you to connect with your original point of existence, the pure essence of you that is consciousness and that chose to manifest as a form, in your particular form that you have inhabited and have formed yourself.

You will be aware, because you are energy, the energy can be transformed and that transformation can change the outward appearance of you and perhaps the inward appearance of you. It is all energy. You have a structure, and we refer to structure as energy structure and the energy can change.

You are also aware that your energy field and structure can be changed by environmental conditions and what you allow to come in around you in your energy field.

In this space now you are given the opportunity for your energy field to be reinstated to the original true essence of you. From the moment you stepped into this state of existence within this Station of Light, within this field of light, the energy processes that are present as an energy structure, an energy field, continue the process of disengaging – or, clearing in your language – clearing what is not in harmonic resonance with the true essence of you. Therefore, every time you come into this space it is aligning you and clearing you of infinite structured matter that is not applicable to the true essence of you and for the purpose of your presence in what you have participated in as current civilization.

There are many opportunities being presented to you in this current civilization through many different voices and so you need to come back to your original point and this is the point of your presence here – to remind you and assist you always to reconnect to the original point and the pattern and purpose for your presence.

Take in the renewal for you. As you do this, also become aware that there is a layer, an overlaying layer around the population that continues to be cleared and dissolved and you are reminded that many of you are working in conformity with the Galactic Beings present here. You will be aware of their presence. You will be aware that you are present with them and you also in effect are working with them. This particular way of working with them we refer to is your consciousness field engages within the greater consciousness field of existing within a formation of livingness. It is restoring and upgrading, because it is not being restored to an exact state simply because consciousness is evolving, so you are implementing the consciousness field in accordance with quantum light fields of energy, of existence.

The point of presenting this to you in this way is you are being presented into an existence that will come into focus for you and for many others of you who are working to exist above a level of control.

This that is appearing to you is another state of conscious living. This is appearing through the level of pattern existing around the planet and through the planet. In this sense, you are living in a creation alongside, and yet separate from, a constant creation that is vibrating at a lower level. You are vibrating at a frequency pattern that has established and is establishing this existence referred to and as you connect with the consciousness of the other Galactic Beings, then this is reinforcing the establishment of this higher field energy existence.

It will seem apparent to you the contrast between this state of existence that you are manifesting and the contrast between the other field. Keep aligning yourself with your pure intention into this quantum light field existence – a conscious construction of expanded consciousness field and you will feel the shift taking place in the energy field enveloping Earth Station – Earth planetoid – and the consciousness field of this living organism named the Earth planetoid.

In the same way, you could be referred to as a human being. In an expanded field of consciousness you could be referred to as a humanoid. It takes you away from a limited understanding because you are more than what science measures as a human being. This is brought into this presentation to you so that you shift out of any confinement and you move into this pattern that you present yourself into of full support and alignment with the channels of energy presented to you coming through Source Creation. It comes through Source Creation directly into your original point of existence. Always we bring this into your alignment pattern, restoring you. This is creating a clearer energy pattern field around you.

In this communication field you are enveloped in there are many new concepts presented to you again and the concepts contain certain material for you. The material, again, is energy material for you to manifest, for you to bring in through you.

Many of you have an ideal concept and this gives rise in you the sense of what is right, of what you align with and there is much of this to become more evident in you. There may have been thoughts in you that your life should be easier, your life could be easier and of course, this is part of your true essence. In this receptive state that you have allowed yourself to be within, there are these energetic patterns you are receiving and some of these are already initialized in you, that is, in your daily life you have been receiving ideas of what to create next, a different pattern to present or different actions to take. When you initially are aligned back with the quantum field of your existence, these flow in naturally to you.

All the while you have been receiving this, the adjustments are happening for you naturally. Change. Allow the change to happen because you know the change is happening as a result of your connection to the higher quantum field of consciousness. In that way, do not react to changes from that other lower created field. Remember to come back into sensing and knowing what is right.

This was the information you were to receive and have received in this way in this session.

Be aware of your surroundings here in this initial receiving area of this Station of Light. We will continue in this way with you.

Orem out “

Thank you, Orem.

Again there is expansion, filling in gaps we have been thinking about or we need and it is always about reconnection back to the true pattern of you, the core energy essence.

This is what you bring back into you now as you take in a conscious breath and you breathe this higher consciousness state of existence into you, fully in your energy field that envelopes you and into your physical formation, right down to the soles of your feet and into the Earth, grounding it and feeling the connection. It is a resonating field between the consciousness of Earth and the consciousness of the quantum fields of existence.

This is how I end this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Thanks for being with me, thanks for sharing and I know you share it through your energy field through your presence with other ones on Earth.

Thanks to all the creative artists and the expanded field of technology. Always we align our technology with the higher field of rightness, of the highest order.

Now bring yourself back into Earth time space as we acknowledge that, and even that seems to be changing. I end this session with my love and light to you.

Lani ❤️
