"Welcome into this gathering again. With you I am that one known as Orem, representing the combined galactic beings, dimensional beings, who exist around you but who come into this space as a focal point for you to recognize us. From the moment you intentionally assemble here, your energy shifts into the resonating field that is here. Thus, you will be experiencing an expansion of your energy field and in that, you realise you have moved beyond any possible limitations or interference that do exist in the dimensions of the collective lower consciousness field.

You might call this a time for you to recharge, every time you enter this space and deliberately accept the higher energy field which helps you to reconnect with our original point of existence of consciousness of the unfolding creation and here you are able to realise more of the energy and information you are receiving as a vibration when you do align yourself with the energy of Source Creation. It is very simple, but we understand there are many layers of conflicting information you are exposed to, simply because it exists around the Earth planetoid itself.

We remind you that you were aware of this before you chose to come into the life you are experiencing and we remind you also that as you accept the renewable energy flows coming through the solar portal, you are bringing that directly into your life plan, the experiences you are moving into and having. It is this ongoing energy which revitalizes you and charges you and brings you into the state of existence where you recognize a shift has already happened that you were perhaps anticipating would come forward at some point in your lifetime. There is currently around you an alignment of energy patterns and systems and this has an effect on your energy form and the energy form also has an effect within you emotionally and therefore physically. The alignment you experience when you come directly into this state of consciousness of reconnection clarifies some of the information that is not appropriate for you to receive and it also helps you to identify the information that is appropriate for you and the energy systems involved in the ongoing support systems for your presence on Earth naturally draw upon the energy and utilizes it.

You will be aware you need to bring this deeply into your receptors initially in your energy field. The energy field contains that system – the matrix we referred to – and there are points of connection, just as there are in any grid system, or the matrix system around your energy field, which receive specific energy patterns and distributes it into the many ways that are needed directly into the cellular pattern deep within you. The cellular pattern we have referred to previously as the sequences that are maintaining and supporting and also transforming much of your energy pattern and that includes all of the layers of your physical form. This energy flows through every cell that is known as you, so if you could, and you will be able to, view your life pattern and your physicality as we view it, you therefore can identify the layers and patterns that are continuously in motion deeply within you, deeply within the energy structure of you. We needed to remind you of this again, simply because of the sequences which are ongoing in the transformation process.

Here we refer to the balancing required for the stability of you as everything becomes moved into a different cycle of energy pattern for you. This is called upgrade, this is called transformation into a different style of processing of your body. As we bring this to you, there is significant change as the flows of energy move into different energy particles within you.

Session: 1119

Earth Date: April 21, 2022, Thursday

NZ Time: 9.30 am

Omega Communications Portal

Hello, Lani presenting this to you and reminding you that you are on Earth fulfilling a purpose that you decided, or agreed to, before you were born into the body you have.

The inner journeys to the Station of Light help you reconnect with that pattern, with the purpose, and much more.

Allow yourself to be curious to receive and allow yourself to disassociate from the conditions currently around you and step forward into the receiving area of the Station of Light, with me. Here we are gathered together, more people coming in, more light coming in and the light is your consciousness which is measured, or seen, as an energy form and an energy itself.

Be present. Focus into this space.

We are focusing on this in this session so that as you assimilate it more and you become more of the energetic structure, some of you might refer to this as your diamond body or the crystalline body form, it signifies to you using those words that you are becoming more enlightened and more energized, vitalized through the vital essence you are receiving in this time.

Now we are able to draw you into another state of patterning. You will be aware you are present in a different field which is a dimensional energy construction, because it exists as a modality of civilization. This also is around you. It is appearing in many places to different people. People of course interpret what they see sense and feel in their own patterns as they can identify it and perhaps they identify it in relation to something that they have heard or something they have experienced within the deep inner connection to the full consciousness state. As you identify what is happening in your expanded consciousness field, then there is a different presentation of where you are living locally and where you travel to. Always look into the energy field beyond what you might be seeing as a physical type construct.

Do the words moving up in the world trigger a response in you? That response of course is measurable. It is discerned. You are surrounded in this energetic dimensional existence by your team of beings existing in that state already and they are assisting you in this expansion of your consciousness field, the raising of your vibration. These sessions are a continuation of that.

You will be aware that what has been occurring around the world was only one apparent identification into a pattern of life and that was accepted by many people as the reality. We remind you there are other realities and what you are moving into and accepting yourself into is a different reality. This will help you understand why many of you have happily responded to the inner linkages you have and to separate you from the program of the reality that many other people have accepted as the only reality.

It was necessary to remind you of all of this and as you are aware now that you have greater freedom to move into the higher energy reality, then you are aware of the patterns that Earth is receiving through the solar portal which also affects the other bodies of dimensional existence and these are also referred to as the known planets in the particular solar system you are existing in. Many of you travel beyond this and are familiar with existence and patterns of life outside of the Earth field construct and into a more easily acceptable state of a combined consciousness which sets out to establish in your terms, cities of light, a higher valued system, indeed. Remember this is available, it is present alongside, within and throughout the Earth construct where you are and you are helping to manifest it and to strengthen your connection into it. You will also realise in what we are describing to you and reminding you of, there is no warfare, there is no antagonistic or controlling situation because you share in the life process and from that particular life process you recognize it is part of your original point of existence where you travelled and you maintained a higher set of values and you offered that system everywhere you existed. So, remember to draw on that energy which is inherent in you. It is part of your essence and even part of your essence as being the current humanoid aspect of you.

Let this fill every aspect of you as you bring it all into you and where you now reassemble in the initial receiving area of this Station of Light. You will have encompassed in your awareness all of your extended self, the consciousness of you and what that means as you encompass yourself and stabilize yourself within this field within this Station and you bring all of this into you. You are one with us who exist in this space in this reality, the reality which is also known as a dimension, just as your life on Earth is known as a dimensional reality. Be very clear in your focus within the higher energy field. Maintain that light frequency pattern from within the core essence of you. This is required of you. I withdraw now,

Orem out “

Thank you, Orem.

This is Lani again with you, identifying you as everything that you have experienced in this session.

Bring this all into you now, grounding it. From above your head down through your body into the soles of your feet, into the core energy of the planet. You are revitalizing yourself and perhaps accepting the vital essence that is the planet and of course you are linking with the higher light field beings within the Earth and around the Earth.

Take in a conscious breath, breathing the vital essence into you with all the energy and information needed for you, surrounding your energy field in this same vibration you have been receiving.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Thank you. Make sure you are fully present again in Earth time as we recognize what that time is.

Lani ❤️
