It is all One. Centre of Creation

Hello. Lani speaking with you again and I am ready to link with you and to link in with the Beings in the Station of Light, so that together we move easily and freely into a state of relaxation and enter the receiving area.

Remember, you do this by taking in a natural breath and as you let it out, be in the gathering in the receiving area of the Station of Light.

"Welcome to this space. Welcome, as you enter into this connection that is naturally your awareness and your space to be in to expand into the field of consciousness that is represented here, brought forward to you in a space where you are easily able to receive the information within you.

We are a collective Group of Beings and this day we are speaking as One, communicating to you as One and so you may hear a multiple connection and collection of voices communicating with you and thus it is coming to your awareness of your ability to perceive a higher field of intention. Your intention is always important as you enter this space as you gather in a collection of information in readiness for your next move and that move may entail physical activity or it may entail a shift in some form of your perception and activity.

It is all One.

As you move with the flow of energy and information it becomes clearer, as you take that first movement to follow the impressions and the information which comes to you and this is a way you process the incoming flows that are available to you.

This is your consciousness which is already receiving, and has received, all the information necessary as a renewal for you and it may be to be restoring some patterns that had been left behind in some way and it can also be energizing you in a new way.

There are multiple facets to the energy that you receive in such a way that the multiple facets of you in the energy pattern, the energy matrix around you, receives different elements and information contained in those different elements. They are encoded information packets, they are the concepts that contain all of the information codes and packets of information. We wanted you to realize this in the beginning of the session so that you will have a greater viewpoint of what is around you as an individual.

There are patterns shifting and changing in you and through you and this will also be indicating changes within your structure. This is the base structure referred to as your physicality. The energy which you receive as you open to receive the streams of encoded packets in the potential received, will be activating certain processes within your body field and the processes are all to do with replenishing, regenerating, restoring you and actually moving you into a new pattern. It is new in your way of thinking and yet it is part of the original creation for the base units. We simply refer to base units collectively as the body forms for the facilitation of higher field energy to come in to be functioning throughout the Earth station that you are on.

There are lines of connectivity running through the field of the earth in its physical energy and there are lines running through the energy field matrix surrounding the planet in various levels and layers, in the same way that these function throughout your dense base unit of the physicality and all the multi layers of you in an energy field.

We are needing to continue to bring this to your attention and this is because the change is happening rapidly. It is being offered to you to accept, whereas in earlier civilizations this may have taken a number of years, as you measure it, a number of generations. You are receiving a great deal in the current phases of existence and patterning.

Assistance is coming in from multi areas around all of the creation, around the particular starfield, galaxy you are aware of and that is just one central point of the activity of the acceleration movement happening through all of creation. Remember this. Some of this data will be realized and analyzed through scientific modalities. They will be measuring energy and particular impulses and what becomes visible to them. You are already receiving it and knowing it in your multi dimensional existence. You also are receiving the gentle drawing into the centre of Creation. You will have been aware of this and reminded of it in various word frameworks, so the sensation you will be aware of in this deliverance is that you are being drawn into a central point of existence and creation. Initially this is giving you the essential elements to recharge you, to refuel you and the natural process of absorption originates first in the wider energy field, then that gets brought through in the different layers and there are layers that are necessarily adapting to it, so that it is received fully throughout all of your physical systems, the energy systems which process it and deliver it into what you term your physical cells.

The field of energy you are receiving that you are enveloped in is also effectively giving you new realizations. It is the natural activity of the energy that activates certain responses within you. Connecting in during these sessions is increasing the receptivity of you so that you receive beyond the words, you receive the concepts and those concepts are what you naturally, in levels of your consciousness, interpret in the particular ways for you.

This will keep you, in a sense, grounded into the Earth energy consciousness field. This is where you chose to embrace the light within you and each of you is like one aspect of the entire creation that is activated, that is being brought online. It is in the energy network. You are a communication network yourself. You are also providing the necessary elements. Of course, there are different layers as different people become more aware or choose to not be involved in this activity of creation.

Identify where you are and your point of connection. Stepping into this field of existence within the Station also helps you identify where you are and what you are doing in this vast communication state within the Oneness of this field that is conscious and you are conscious of the field of communication of the network. You will be conscious that it is being enlivened to a greater extent than you have been aware of previously. Relate that to your own energy field and acknowledge this expansion and awakening throughout you.

More is being revealed of the communication between different Beings who come forward to Earth Station at this time. Remember that Earth Station is not one single sphere, or planetoid. It is a combination of the links with all other spheres of creation. Remember that as a concept of what you know already of the nearby planets that you identify. Then become aware around Earth planetoid there are higher energy fields of existence already that are not clearly known to most people, but they are pockets of groups of people, numbers of people, already aware of what is happening and even if you feel you are just an individual and have no connections with anybody else physically with whom you can converse on this level of communication, you will be aware you are naturally connected to some of these other spheres of civilization that are naturally working in the expanded field. Realizing that also will help you sustain what you are receiving and enliven your particular energy sphere with all of this. This process is overseen and is assisting you. Even though you are also One with us, as part of One consciousness field, there is the natural absorption of energy that you may be needing.

This is the activity that was presented to you in this way at this time, so that you realize where you are and why certain events are taking place around you. You will also be aware of the greater flow of energy that you receive.

This is for you in this moment. We withdraw. “

Acknowledged.

This is Lani again and I was aware of many different Beings in that group they simply referred to as One. “One” being a whole group of Oneness and we were all enveloped in that.

I trust you have taken in the energy to refuel you and to use for your higher energy field to naturally use and absorb. Perhaps it explains to you what you have been feeling or experiencing.

Take in a natural breath and as you let it out, bring yourself back into your physical body and location.

Feel yourself immersed in that greater energy field and now bring your awareness back into current Earth space time.

This comes through the Omega Communications Portal today

Thank you.

Lani
