Omega Communications Portal

Regenerate

I am Lani presenting this communication through the Omega Communications Portal to you and to everyone who shares in the consciousness field that we connect with. I welcome you into this space and initially we connect in on the Earth-plane physically as if we have come into a meeting room space and then the energy that we are, when we realise we are conscious Beings of light, energy, information, this makes it easy for us to step into the dimensional existence of the Station of Light. Again we assemble in the transition area, so stabilize yourself in this space and be ready to absorb the energy and information coming through to you. It feels like we walked many different pathways and experiences to come to this point of existence, so from this point, where we will expand into, what will you choose and tune into on this continuing journey? With these thoughts in mind I step back and allow the Galactic Beings here to come forward to us.

“Orem speaking to you. We welcome you into this space once more and in a continuous way as we progress together and as we move amongst you as you are gathered here and greet you as an individual.

You may have experienced this throughout other dimensions and activities where you have experienced receiving a meeting or greeting with a Being who seemed to be not in the reality that other people exist in around you, and in fact you may have been sensing us and receiving a Galactic companion which nobody around you would perceive. This is the existence that you move into and will continue to experience and you will also continue to experience an inner communication with you. We welcome you into this extra communication for you.

As you identify yourself as bringing in the appropriate energy field around you and for you as an individual, then you have to acknowledge that you are doing that in a collective consciousness field and that consciousness is the intelligent consciousness from the Point of Creation, not the diluted, distorted and different assimilation of the process of absorbing the streams of consciousness. You will remember there are many ways you connect into the stream of consciousness. We have introduced you to the pathways and connections from your pure point of creation and existence. This is the spark of creative consciousness where you accepted and you chose to present yourself into different significant elements and aspects of creation.

That could be described as different evolutionary patterns in different patterns of creation, or in other words, different lifetimes in different civilisations wherever they would be.

Remember, it is the essential energy field, the essential energy consciousness of you, that manifests in direct connection and accordance with the principles of life - the flow of life essence of what is required. What is required in your existence currently, and is that why you have presented yourself into this session - so that you will receive the appropriate energy system to enable you to move freely in your existence and to be clearly connected with the streams of consciousness?

We remind you to be aware of the many Galactic Beings surrounding you. Remember, you are a Galactic Being and you simply have entered into this space so that you could continue revealing and performing the purpose and you could continue to bring in the activation processes and codes necessary in every way for enlivening the correct energy systems around Earth. They exist in that universal matrix of consciousness we referred to in other sessions, around you.

Remember the intelligent consciousness that you are and if you perceive that as an energy field around you - an energy matrix with particular connecting points, the nodes that connect you into the greater overlaying matrix around planetoid Earth and around other beings and stations - then you see the importance of where you are and the importance of realizing these connections.

You will have already stepped beyond limiting beliefs and the imposition upon many people and so you have done the ground work. You have connected the higher field of conscious intelligence into you as the vessel bringing it all into you in the ground. It is not to stay that the physical ground, the patterns of earth, sand, water are deficient. They are sufficient because they are receiving the energy patterns quite naturally.

It means that you are bringing the higher consciousness field into the lower levels of energy framework and allowing the energy, or the light and information, to be present beyond distortions.

In this way you will be fulfilling your prime purpose of existence, which has always been to bring in this light field of consciousness expanding outward and throughout energy fields of creation in the evolutionary processes. In the phase that you are within, bring in the higher field conscious creations that you link in with and you will see they have no limitation. They are beyond the expression that may have not anything to do with the higher field of creation. You simply maintain your connection into the light field.

We understand this is described to you as specific named dimensions. There is an overlaying escalation and expansion of dimensional fields which are simply consciousness fields and there is the rippling effect that passes through all dimensional fields of creation. In this way and in this instance we are referring to the streams of consciousness that ripple through all layers of dimension that might be described to you. Do not limit it in any way. You can choose with your free choice, where you want to place your point of existence and you may step into fields of expanded consciousness to regenerate yourself. Always, there is the natural regeneration process as part of the prime source code for all life that you tap into. You could be connecting to this now, receiving the elements of creation necessary for you as you process what you engage with, in your activities around this world that you exist in. You may already be holding that clear energetic space around you in your energy field and so you remain clear and strong regardless of what is occurring around you which other people might be talking about and focusing on. This again is a reminder to initiate the natural response in you that resonates with the higher energetic field of consciousness, naturally, the natural components of that.

Continuing also, you will be aware that there are natural elements around you that you can draw energy in from. This might be a plant, a mineral, a mineral that you could extract from the earth known as a crystalline form, it might be the essence contained in the process of water infusion. You are collecting all the energy fields of that and these are components of your physical form and again, you bring in the essential energy pattern into you. There is cohesion of what you perceive around you in the natural kingdom, the cohesive effect of that with the pure element, the pure codes of creation, the intelligent energy systems. As you continue to do that, then you may perceive you are engaged more clearly with some of the other Galactic presences and their purpose for being present as they assist you in your purpose for being present. You share energy information systems, just as you receive energy information systems through the centres of creative intelligence. We call it intelligence because there is the natural process encoded in the flows of consciousness and that will give you the idea presented of the specific order and processes.

You are being refueled with all of this, re-energized throughout your energy systems. You may also be aware that you are drawing upon information - you might say it is coming into Earth, it is not actually as part of the current civilization on Earth, but whatever you draw upon from other galaxies has already been present because Earth is within a galaxy. There is the connectedness in Creation. You simply retain your conscious awareness within that evolving stream and process of the Prime Source Codes for all.

The focus is upon this because it shifts you and it shifts the Earth simply in a process of refinement and alignment into a higher coordination of the energy fields. Enjoy this.

Be aware now of being within the receiving area in this Station and I withdraw now.

Orem out “

Again, Lani addressing you, as a vehicle for all of this. As you take it all into you, you may feel a rearrangement around you, shifting of people's perception as they also connect into and receive, because everybody basically has the prime source code already inherent within different aspects of every individual. It is just that you have chosen to align yourself into the essential elements of that prime source code.

This again is for us to bring back into the physical body form, establishing yourself again as the centre of consciousness, pure energy systems.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Take in a natural breath and as you let it out, focus back in the body and into current Earth space time as we measure it. Enjoy who you are.

Lani

You are a receiver ~ receiving energy from the Point of Origin - expanding the field of consciousness in you and around you.

You are loved and supported.
