

Lani Calkin. Auckland, New Zealand
ph. 027 291 0165
email: lani@omegacommunications.co.nz
web site: <https://omegacommunications.co.nz>
YouTube: https://youtu.be/xqnCZA_SfD8
FaceBook: @omegacommunications

Session: 1135
Earth Date: August 11, 2022, Thursday
NZ Time: 9 am

Omega Communications Portal

The Cosmic Self. Inspiration. Creation

Hello, Lani speaking with you and already I connect with my very high consciousness, quantum consciousness, the cosmic energy field. As you do that also, then this enables you to clearly connect with the consciousness field within the Station of Light and all the energy and information which you will draw into you for you and your presence in the current circumstances that you experience, and moving forward, creating, moving forward into expansion and light.

This is how we begin today. This inner journey connection.

"You are acknowledged here, Beloved. I am that known as Orem and here to facilitate your presence here in this energy field transmitted to you, received by you, received by you in the way that you are comfortable with and as much information and energy as you are comfortable receiving.

You will be aware that you are here receiving in this space and state of this dimension and you are also aware of receiving it in all of the elements and energy field that you relate to as your physical body self. Everything you have been receiving enables you to be at one with the aspect of you that always is present that does not actually appear as a physical form but you would feel the appearance as the energetic self. This is what is moving into your energy field as part of your expansion of consciousness, expansion of your existence and moving into what you call the timeline that was apparent to you before you chose to come into this physical style existence, in the current phase you experience. It is all part of the consciousness that is You, named as You in whatever way you would address yourself and consider yourself to be.

We continually remind you of the greatness of the true aspect of you and when you become aware of that, you are aware that you are maintaining balance within the lower field of experience. In the quantum self level, balance is always there and balance enables the interaction with the field of consciousness of that cosmic level which is always expanding. Your balance point allows you to be much more aware of that and to be connected in with it.

Experience this in all of the experiences you are aware of and all of the aspects that have ever experienced specific evolving conditions, or processes, happenings, circumstances. We use a variety of words to describe what is held within the concept of what we bring to you.

As your conscious mind may be trying to analyze that, the true essence of you knows already the intention and the energy field which is being brought to your memory again, brought into you. You are in a continual state of clearing pathways which reconnects you to the original processes and purpose for your presence. The more you experience this and allow this to happen, then you have a closer association with the commissioned Beings who support you and surround you and who move within the field of your consciousness and that field of your consciousness embraces the planetary situation and the planet station, the planetoid named Earth or Gaia or whatever other term you have to acknowledge it as. Perhaps it is just the support system for you as an energy essence, a cosmic Being, to manifest certain patterns. Here you are bringing all of this element of creation into all the aspects of you.

You may be experiencing letting go of previous thoughts and ideas. This is part of the process when you align yourself to the cosmic essence of what you are - that Self - the consciousness. It is a process which happens naturally as you unfold the packets and streams of energy information that you have taken into you.

This is individual for you and as you fully understand and realize that, then you also realize the extent of your consciousness touching other Ones. You will realize you do not engage with lower thought patterns that might be coexisting in your civilization and you realize you are fully engaged in the existence of the pure element of creation.

Now you will feel a level of adjustment happening in that overlaying matrix field that is consciousness, that is an energy and information system.

There are now many of you who are linking into that and drawing upon different aspects to create different energy support systems, enlivening new methods of travel, new methods of presenting what you term electronic devices. The inspiration for creation of stepping into new formations and level of existence is already happening. It is part of the core base system and this is necessary to be revealed and to be active within this level of consciousness known as the planetoid Earth. Be aware that this is being engaged and received by many other Beings who are here to expand consciousness. By being aware of this you are assisting the process and there is merging of the galactic field of intelligent consciousness with the field of intelligent consciousness emanating through you and many of the others who have come into reconnection and full alignment with that process.

There is some minor releasing still occurring in some of you who are aware of this and are aware of it, the shifting process, clearing away lower energies that you have felt the impact upon your physical element, the base unit, and the other levels of the energy patterns. The more that you enter into the state of clear connection with cosmic intelligence that is you, then you feel release, you feel the clearing patterns and this reveals the aspect of you that has been waiting to come forward. This is what you are experiencing in this transmission and in your receptivity in this deliverance to you and the deliverance of you into this.

As you experience this, you are within this vector of creation beyond measurement of time space that is relative to the revolutions of planetoid Earth. You are simply in the state of resonance and coherence with the cosmic intelligent field of creation, because that is what it is. It is a continuous creation that you connect with.

I leave this with you for you to absorb and integrate and initiate within you the various streams and patterns appropriate for you.

Orem out “

“Assisting you with this process, we come forward introducing ourselves to you as Cosmic Beings from star systems that you recognize are patterns within the overlaying matrix field of life, of vital creation.

As we bring this around you, it does help you to allow the clearing to occur within your energy field. As we observe this, it moves more deeply within the energy patterns that are you, that you are, and this is what you will be already allowing the process to occur within the energy fields incorporated in your physical body form.

We are helping that connection for you.

Acknowledge this.”

Lani again speaking and. I am aware that the group of Beings put around each one of us a very fine, scintillating mesh. I guess that is part of the energy matrix referred to in the dimensional field. It is simply an energy pattern that enlivens and clears and I feel it is opening up more of the natural processes that perhaps we have forgotten existed and that they are there ready to be utilized.

As you allow all this to happen, take in a conscious breath, breathing it all into you, breathing in your acceptance of what you are doing as part of this intelligent cosmic group of Beings, galactic, international, multidimensional Beings. It is vast and is present. Be aware of it always.

Now take in another conscious breath and bring your awareness back, bringing in the energy from above your head through your body down to your feet, connecting into the consciousness that is Earth. When you are ready, orient yourself back into your body form – your station – and into the current Earth time as we measure it in this space we identify as this planet and all of the natural beauty that exists all around us.

Thank you, all these wonderful Beings who came forward in this presentation today and who exist with us.

This ends this presentation through the Omega Communications Portal. Go forward in this process of happiness knowing you are doing the right thing in order with your purpose. I congratulate you! Thank you for being here.

Lani

Next Gathering: 18 August, 2022
