Consciously, powerfully, present

Hello, Lani with you and I offer this moment in time to initiate the deeper connection that you always have and in this moment you step out of the measurement of time, gathering all your inner connections, from the core energy essence of you which connects naturally to the core energy essence that is Creation and that is the centre of this planetary consciousness.

So, everything that you are is present within your essence, so your essence, or your essential body of light, comes into the gathering within the Station of Light. Take in a lovely natural breath and focus your presence within this Station of Light to begin this energy transmission today.

"And so it is that we come forward surrounding you and embracing you in the energy field here that you are familiar with.

Orem addressing you because I am the presenter of all of this, as you enter this space beyond the perceived limitations that you might consider yourself to be existing in, in the current civilization. When you change your perception, or you perceive into the outer field of your consciousness, then you already have accepted yourself in the principle of life, in the principle of creation and as the essential Being bringing in the light field uplifting different areas in the consciousness formation around the planet and therefore within and through you.

You will be aware and remembering and have noticed that the emphasis appears to be solely on changing the energy field of you and correcting any limitations or misinformation processes and this is primarily necessary so that you bring in more of the potential that you had realized you would be offering into the presentation in the civilization. This is why we prepare you fundamentally with the thought process and with all the energy field and clearly connecting you to the core energy, the true process of the original pattern for creation before and beyond any inserted misinformation packets in any way that you have accumulated.

As you have ventured into experience the energy coming through these sessions, also be aware that the energy is not of this that we present to you that is known as the Station of Light.

This is an intermediary process which enables the transformation of the various higher field dimensions in the quantum areas of creation to come through easily into your presentation as you are here, which is of course your energy field which is existing within and through your base physical unit within the planetary sphere.

Even if you are ones who have already travelled beyond the Earth energy structure, you are still receiving the energy and information necessary to help you sustain the vibrational frequency patterns which you are naturally receiving, which all of creation is naturally receiving. Inherent within every formation of a body form there are receptors, there is the sequencing of codes that naturally receive the increasing pulsations and information streams.

Perhaps you see the similarity to what you can currently stream through your video information presentations into your frame of existence for you to understand or interpret. In the same way, your energy field and the energy field of all the quantum Beings existing within your energetic pattern are receiving streams of energy and information that is more important for the continuation and expansion of your consciousness and energy field. In this way you will see that you are fully receiving – you would term it support for you in every way. Within that support, within those beams of encoded energy patterns that is support, then you travel into other dimensional energetic frameworks, or in the quantum matrix field of creation. In that there is the principle – the first principle of life – and that does not receive any interference. Therefore, as you immerse yourself within the first principle of life which is the beams you are receiving, you are receiving a greater sense of order, and out of that arises the inspirational creations.

This is important for you to realise and realise also that the gathering of Beings from other galactic dimensions are part of this expansion, support, balancing, realignment and there is balancing occurring within the stages of evolution within the consciousness field of the planet that you have been drawn to.

This explains to you why you have the impulses to extend yourselves to receive clearer energy information patterns in any way that you feel is necessary for you as an individual Being and to support the beingness – the physical framework – of what you have created around you. In the multi dimensions that you are receiving this within, you are also receiving the patterns that will be identified by you as support in multiple dimensions, in many different ways.

We are with you. We are familiar to you, just as you are familiar to those of us surrounding you here in this presentation of you.

What is a requirement is your allowance of this to fill you and to expand you.

In many people, from the first breath of life within the body form, felt pressure upon them or felt an imposition of some sort upon them and therefore there was a form of exclusion of what you perceived around you that was not resonating with the source from where you originated. The whole point of bringing this to your attention is that you identify that origination consciousness field and if this had been realized from the moment of your birth, you would have been more powerfully present, consciously. But here you are – consciously, powerfully, present.

In this process now you will be aware that there are specific alignments happening which includes the quantum field of Beings who are drawn to this pattern of expansion. It is like a new birth happening in what you are experiencing and so you need to allow that to unfold you, presenting you into the framework, which is an energy field, and it is that quantum matrix of energy that is consciousness that we help you identify.

Many beautiful creations exist around you, within you and so you are always beauty in one form or another and that beauty also is identified by you in the living natural presentations of the field of creation from the earth into plant life and creatures.

As you recognize this, we identify that you have absorbed the streams of energy information to you at this present moment.

Thus I withdraw

Orem out “

Acknowledged, Orem.

Lani again. I feel that I am breathing all that expanded energy field into me and I am aware of the natural trees, natural plants, even the grass and weeds that appear in tiny cracks or in the earth surrounding us all. The plant life within the water. Everywhere – existing.

Now this is the moment when I ask you to take in a breath and bring your awareness back into and around your body form. This is required of you, to fully bring this energy field right into you, down the soles of your feet, the tips of your toes, all the energy pathways that move throughout the body form and around it in the energy field and this of course connects deeply into the planetoid through your humanoid form. There is always a play on words in these sessions which fascinates me when I continue listening to them during the week.

This is the pattern of this stream of life for all of us in this moment.

Thanks for being here. Thanks for sharing. Thanks for subscribing.

Now bring your attention back to the present moment as we measure Earth space in time.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Thank you.

Lani
