Serving Energy. Crystalline Light Cities

Here we are again, connecting into the soul-ar portal through the Station of Light. Are you with me in your Essence – your Soul Essence and presence? Remember, taking in a conscious breath helps you to step into your energy light body and this is that which comes easily into the receiving area in the Station of Light. We used to call it the transition space and indeed, this is what it is.

This is Lani introducing you again into this receiving transition space. You will be bringing in with you questions. Perhaps those questions will be answered in what we receive, what we collectively bring through today in this session. Let's begin.

"Welcome to you again, Orem addressing you and helping to establish your reconnection to the energy you already have placed in this state, this dimension, that you are familiar with.

As you enter this dimensional frequency, your individual energy vibrates to that frequency pattern. In this way you will understand that there is your pattern of vibration, of your consciousness, already here in this dimensional field. Also, your energy frequency pattern, or we would say, aspects of your consciousness, is already existing in the energetic crystalline light cities of existence. As your vibration synchronizes and matches with that more correctly and in a stronger field and in a continuous field, this is when you perceive the emergence of that light city civilization around the planet coming into your reality, into the reality of people existing amongst you, even who are unaware of this. Those ones who have not adapted to the higher light patterns will often be aware of a shift in energy, perhaps they would say a shift in temperature, but it is an unconscious, or a sub-level response to the higher frequency patterns existing.

We would have you understand it is not the same as a re-emergence or reconstruction of previous civilizations you may be aware of because those civilizations, as you are not existing in them now, did not correctly align with the true elements of the cities of light. There were certain aspects that were manifested but because of the state of consciousness in the many individuals present in the body form at that time, the true reality of the light streams of information did not continue to exist and so that civilization did not continue to exist.

The original pattern is what we say still exists and you touch into that each time you enter this vibrational space within this vibrational dimension of the Station of Light.

Remember. Remember your activities. Remember the purpose. Remember your reconnection to the full potential of you.

You may be questioning this. You may be questioning when will this emerge, this light civilization. It is not dependent on your yearly measurement. It is dependent on your state of consciousness and because you are aware of this, you are instrumental in manifesting this true light stream energy field of existence surrounding this beautiful planetoid, this beautiful world you are aware of.

There are many existing natural aspects in your world that remember, that hold the vibrational frequency assisting you and the process. Continue to immerse yourself in the natural life force provided energetically, visually and to bring the light photons into your cellular formations and those processes within the cellular formations and codes then utilize the light frequency patterns to assist the absorption of more light within your energy systems. It is inherent within the foundation of the formation of the healthy body form for you, for you as a population.

There is of course the reminder that you have existed in many other body forms and other realities which sometimes may seem to cross over into your existing lifestream pattern. Be aware of this. Be aware that you are holding the vibration of your original pure existence and this was modulated and created for the present physical formation and that present physical formation responds to the patterns of light frequency. You are drawing into your energy formation these patterns of light that come through the soul-ar portal and your central soul source connection. You are receiving this naturally throughout your energy field, surrounding your entire energy field and structure.

What we have been assisting you with over many cycles of presentations to you is to assist the clearing away of any previous introductions to your energy systems that have interfered with the process of Light and so this confirms to you the resonating effect that brings you into alignment with that higher field of your consciousness. You have expanded into that field.

There will be a witnessing within you and realizing that there are many attempts made to artificially create what is natural and the informative energy and you will be aware that those artificial creations do not continue to sustain life. It is not the original life force, the original principle of life. Think about that with everything you do, everything you touch, everything you inhale or take into you in any way. This is a natural reminder that we are aware many of you do this consciously, so this is reinforcing what you are doing and you will be stepping away from interference and that which is not natural to your process. You will become more aware of this as you continue in your life experiences.

Enjoy your presence here in this dimensional field and be aware of your existence here and be aware that this field of existence you are experiencing with us extends into various places around and within the planetoid Earth.

We are aware that many of you felt you were instantly transported to various areas, whether that would be in a cold space or warm space or within the field of manifested areas of living within the earth, under the oceans, even within spheres of light such as within the Station but in a separate sphere of light above the surface of the land. You could be anywhere experiencing what is appropriate for you, for you to present this flow of the stream of life force – of information. It is not forcing it as such. It is just using your word to understand the presence of the flow of energy information of the life essence.

Therefore, you are presently existing and working in different ways serving the best possible way that you can serve your creative aspects of potential, serving that into wherever you emerge and exist, fleetingly, momentarily, because remember, this is beyond the measurement of your time.

This is a multi-dimensional field of existence.

Remember you are in a continuous cycle of drawing in the energy that matches your frequency and you are sharing that, serving it outward.

Your attention now is being brought back to your assembly point here within the Station. Draw all this experience into you, expanding your field of realization and energy. Receive it all.

As you do that in your individual way,

I withdraw now.

Orem out “

“Thank you. Orem. This is Lani again but of course I am present here, as you are, within the essential energy form – Light. Feel this Light integrating back into what we call your physical body. It is becoming strange to call it just a physical body form. It is your essential light life form, so thinking about yourself in that way also shifts your understanding and recognition of who you are.

Again, consciously take a breath in and as you let it out, feel this increased and clear light coming all through your body life form – the life body form. It is interesting to play with the words that we use!

Feel the ignition – the lighting up – in different areas in your energy field as it moves throughout different spaces within you where it is needed. It unlocks more of those codes that we know as your sequences contained in your DNA, as it is labelled. Divine Natural Aspect of the energy formation that we are.

Thanks again for being who you are, for being present with all this amazing energy and light you are bringing in.

As I end this session through the Omega Communications Portal, I would love to hear comments from you as to what country, or city, or where you are located around this Earth planetoid (as they like to refer to it as this energy formation). Thank you.

Lani 🍷 🌍
