Reshape your Reality

Lani calling you together, and the You I refer to is the wholeness of you, your body unit, your energy self, your true essence, into the present moment.

As you take in a natural breath and let it out, bring yourself into the receiving area of the Station of Light and establish yourself here in the presence of the energy field. You are bringing energy in and you are receiving energy within this space. Being present here in this dimensional energy field allows your field of consciousness to integrate and mesh perfectly with this higher energetic field. This is why you are here today with us. Therefore, let's begin this session when you are ready.

"Universal Greetings and acknowledgement to you. Speaking on behalf of all the Beings in this Station, I am known as Orem. In this way you are able to give identity to a spokesperson, to someone who is able to express the energy movements, shifts and input of information you are receiving, putting it to you in words you will readily accept.

You know it goes beyond the words but it is necessary to present words to assist you to feel you are enveloped in the field of energy which is information, which is light.

Always, as we begin the session as you are here, you are receiving the energy field known as light and this in turn is moving through your energy field. Do you perceive your energy field as a pattern, as a matrix, as pathways receiving many flows of energy and information? This will go entirely deeply within your energy systems – so deeply that you may be aware that you simply are an energetic field of light yourself. Within the centre of that is the core energy essence of you.

Remember, this core energy essence of you is the approximate centre and could be identified as the centre energy consciousness field of the Earth-being and also you could identify your central core being as being the field of light – the flow of light – known as your Sol, your Sun, and it is all linked in the energy matrix field. It does reflect the state of consciousness. You will see there are people on the earth plane who identify simply with exercise, or food, or financial gain in some way and that is where they feel they get all their energy from.

The deeper you go into expanding your field of consciousness, then you come into this centre – or core energy centre – connected with everything that is appropriate for you. Connecting to the full potential from your soul essence and that of course is the essence of creation. Always remember this. Always draw upon this to refuel yourself in all ways needed.

Now you have done this, and you will feel the shift in your energy field, this allows you to receive the matrix of creation which is the manifestation of the next level of existence. Your participation in this is required. It is part of your essential presence and you will be already resonating with that field of creation which is more closely being manifested around you and through you.

For this to be manifested in your reality needs you to recognize this and to draw upon the energy matrix field containing everything in that which you will want to be living in, living amongst, bringing it into you, recognizing the existence of it within and around other people. There are many people doing this already. We are describing to you what is already happening around you in the existences; you might refer to many of them as parallel existences, but when you gather all the aspects of you into the present, this is you living in that higher manifested creative light city.

Look for the signs of this. Look beyond what you would physically touch, look beyond - where you can metaphysically sense in the many ways that you have perception, that what you are working to achieve is already around you. This particular presentation to you is allowing this to be more realized within you and around you. Actuated and activated in your perception. You will be able to draw upon what already exists in this field of creation. Therefore, what you brought in with you as you are receiving this will also have some aspect that is needing energy and information from this realized level of creation. The dimensional field of it is all around you.

You are of course recognizing this more and you will be taking the steps which allow you to recognize it more strongly, powerfully in you, through you and around you. Do you realize it is needed to be recognized within the essence of you? Your absolute pure point of origin knows this. It already contains it and what is happening is you are merging with that more strongly and this allows it to come very strongly into everything that you recognize as who you are in your present locality and your presence.

Following this and you may be sensing this, you have the deeper connections with the pockets of civilizations we are describing as light cities which are coexisting with you in different areas of the land masses and throughout the waterworlds and beneath the land. It is everywhere.

With the shifting of location of Earth station, this also is bringing into a clearer connection and awareness to people of these what had been otherwise very separate areas of the civilization. You can focus on these and in focusing on these newer aspects of creation, you are no longer focusing on what is the distraction or distortions of patterns existing.

Your presence is already accessing the dimensional field of what we have been describing to you and so you are allowing all this to reshape your reality, to reshape your physicality unit – the base unit – and what you consider to be your living space and surroundings. All of this arises from the actions you have been taking to clear away the patterns that have been in place, that have been there, Interfering with your clear connection into this dimensional sphere pattern. Place yourself firmly within this.

There are new forms of what you would call construction, engineering formulae in some way. It is enough to simply be aware of new ways of manifesting the thoughts, to be created.

Those thoughts flow out directly into your methods of creation or into those who have already established ways to create new types of materials or new alignment patterns and designs. They are already existing. By your intention, you can connect into those and draw them more clearly into your reality.

You will be aware arising from this also, that you feel your physical body has changed. There are times when you absorb other aspects of creation that you have known, simply because it will bring in the aspects that are useful to you in this current phase. We have been working with you to bring to your awareness the activation of the hidden codes within your energy systems and some of those are activated by the different aspects of you who come forward from a higher evolved space to assist you in your evolvment now, because that changes the whole dynamic field of creation that you exist within. It has been said before that it is you helping you to evolve. As you absorb that into you, then you understand what we are presenting to you in the energy of the words.

In this space you can bring all this into you and what you will be bringing into you is only that which you resonate with for your present phase of creation. The potential still exists until you are ready to bring in more of the creative potential. It is simply an ongoing process for you. In some ways it is reorganization of your life pattern and in the life pattern for the consciousness field of that Being known as the Earth planetoid. It is all one. Feel the resonating effect within the field of this cosmic creation of order.

Thus this ends this message to you, at this time.

Orem out “

“As Lani again, I am with you and I give my thanks to Orem and all the ones he represented, the consciousness field surrounding us all and this is always available for us, for you, to draw upon because you have experienced it. You can move into this state at any time and then you bring that back into your full awareness.

Just as now you are bringing all of this back into the full awareness of this body form we recognize as your name and presence in the life pattern. The difference, I feel, is that we are all emanating a greater field of light and there is a greater field of light within us. The luminosity has increased. The Soul Light has increased and envelops you, surrounding you and completely throughout all of you and this is how you are all the time in the higher dimensional frequency of existence. You are creating this.

I acknowledge you and thank you in this.

It is time now to take in a conscious breath and bring all this back into you from above your head, down to beneath your feet, all though you and into you and into this clear life pattern now that you are living. Breathe it all into you. Remember to be aware of the time as we measure it currently – the Earth space time.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.
