The Trajectory

Lani speaking. This is a great group to work with in the multi dimensions and multi ways that we receive the energy and information as a connected network.

Welcome again into the gathering of this group.

Begin as usual by being relaxed, take in a lovely natural breath and remember as you breathe out that you are a Being of Light. You are a vessel for the Light, for the energy and information from cosmic levels. This is what you are present in your Earth body to be.

Now, when you are ready, again take in a natural breath and be with me in the receiving area of the Station of Light. This dimension, this existence of the Station is always with us to move into, perhaps as an initial space for you to use to connect in with the pure levels of energy and information. Remember whatever you receive here will remain here for you to access again or to refresh yourself with what you previously received. So, this is how we begin today.

"We are with you, Beloved and addressing you I come forward as the speaker as Orem to you, presenting you into this space again and to strengthen your connections.

Remember, you have always had the ability to communicate and connect with the deeper aspects of your existence. Even the original pattern of your existence, what we refer to as your point of origin, exists for you to connect with, always. The communication may not come to you in significant ways that you may want it to be with you, but the impulses and the energy field which include various basic elements – frequency patterns – will come with you and you resonate with the appropriate level of information needed for you at this time. So, your specific needs, if we refer to those as just a term, may change from day to day. They may change according to your circumstances of experience. Whenever you do reconnect firmly through perhaps this connection, or directly to your original point of existence, you will receive just what you need to receive and so you will be accessing all of the energy and information that you can understand and integrate within you.

Already you are absorbing information, not directly through us as presenters, but we have engaged you in the flow of energy from your point of existence. Allow this to be.

We again bring your attention to existences you might say external to your particular individual sphere of experience but still existing overall around the Earth Being and there is balancing occurring.

You will understand that Earth is following a trajectory and it is moving in accordance with other connections in the multi-dimensional views that you may recognize within the consciousness field – the matrix of communication throughout creation.

Earth is following a particular pathway. Your presence and what you are bringing forward is also initiating and assisting energy flows, because you are, as it were, drawing the energy in and in turn the Earth Being receives this and it strengthens it on its trajectory. You are all involved in an expanding pathway throughout creation.

There is of course a multidimensional interpretation to this. You will be understanding it with what resonates with you, with your knowing and your active participation in accordance with your soul energy. Today, as you experience this, and every day as you experience this, remember the expansion of you – your soul essence – into an expanded view and perception of a trajectory that you are also on and within and creating.

This is the view that you could experience in many of the alternate ways, the multi-dimensional ways, of viewing your presence. Your presence has experienced similar information and ways of movement and expansion of movement in many different aspects of existence, whether that would be on the formation of the planetoid named Earth or elsewhere. Remember, this is where you are existing consciously, and you consciously gather into you the information necessary.

So, again the natural resonance you have is also sending out those ripples of energy. Remember that you are a central point of information for many people with whom you have contact physically or in some other communication method utilized currently and it is all relevant in accordance with what you feel, what you know to be present and to be the reality that is creating around you and it is creating. Your presence and acknowledgement of your soul presence is always creating.

Again, the creations come forward through your acceptance of the energy from your original point of creation. It is the cosmic natural flow. You might say it is natural law, but remember it is not a confining law. There is no limitation. It is a central internal guidance for you.

All of this which you are receiving in this current session will be resonating in different aspects of your energy field. Some of you may experience this as a flow, or as if you are in a powerful beam of energy and information, pockets, codes, packets, of the data and what is data? Codes of information, patterns to be followed. You are receiving these in the natural way when you recognize your cosmic creation source. Always this is the prime information for you to realize.

Following that, you expand into other ways of communicating or being present. In effect, you are bringing balance into the reality around you and from the balanced point, creation forms because it brings in a number of potential aspects and when you are purely aligned, you naturally select and follow the potential that is always active within you.

This is the information for you in this moment for you to receive and to expand into, for indeed, it surrounds you in the field of potential of your original presentation of the soul into these experiences. In doing this, there are many patterns dissolved, as we have brought your attention to in other sessions. The ones that dissolve are those that are not apparently needed, no longer necessary as you move forward in your expansion on your trajectory.

This is presented to you today. I withdraw now

Orem out “

“Into your presence again I am that known as Ulea with you simply acknowledging you and again affirming that this is you in this reality, maintaining your presence and expanding the sense and the knowing of your soul presence individually working and yet in a coordinated communication field in the cosmic matrix of consciousness.

Remember this always.

Ulea out”

“This is Lani again to bring you back focusing within and around your body form, your lifeform, your essence that is already naturally returning and restoring and integrating all this energy into your current life experiences.

Every moment, just like every breath you take in and release naturally, you are changing the reality, depending on what you are following from deep within the knowingness that you have.

I trust this session again has conveyed to you something you needed to receive or understand. There is always a pattern in what is presented through the words and around the words and around you. Bring all this clearness right into your living pattern.

You may already feel new creations emerging. The new creations of course already exist in the expanded dimensions of reality. As you recognize them, you bring them forward. This is You manifesting the creations necessary.

Again, I thank you for being here receiving this and sharing all of this through you in the many ways that you do this.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

Remember to bring all of this in, right from above your head right down to the soles of your feet, the tips of your toes through all the energy pathways through you, and of course this expands through your entire energy field. It is wonderful. Thank you.

Lani
