Energetic matrix field. Synchronize

Lani with you again presenting this energy and information to you.

Begin as usual making sure you are comfortable and as you take in your next natural breath and let it out, be aware of your energy system. Your personal energy field. Often it is that space at the elbow width distance from your body if you hold your arms up at shoulder height. Make sure always that your energy field is clear and strong.

Beginning this way means you are already clear to enter the dimensional space where exists the Station of Light. You could say that this is your Station of Light, this is Your Space created for you to connect with other Beings around the world who receive these transmissions and also the other dimensional Beings. So, here you are in your beautiful energy space, your energy field, your Soul Presence. Stabilize yourself here and this is how we begin today.

"You are indeed a field of higher frequency patterns.

Orem addressing you, welcoming you into this space and into this energetic space here that you have resonated with. The field that is offered to you helps to bring you up into a greater resonating field and this is renewed and refreshed continuously. Therefore, whatever you need will come to you as you directly attune yourself to the energy frequency pattern that is your space – your specific energy field as a Being of Light – a conscious Being – connecting back into the unit formation of your original space. Your original space is in perpetual motion as you enter the energy flows of Creation.

While we talk about your original space and energy system from an original source creation, there are emissions of energy to again enhance you in every aspect of you wherever you are present.

Remember the energy frequency pattern that we would describe to you as

- your field of influence,
- your field of support,
- your strength of your Soul Being Present.

We refer now to the energy systems which are resonating with a field of conformity. This is beyond the conformity that is possibly presented to you as the enforcement upon you.

So, if something is being told that it is being enforced upon you, you must reconsider your own individual energy presence and your indications that come up to you when you are out of alignment with the core energy system of creation – the cosmic energy flow.

You can present this to every aspect of your existence, whether that would be on the planet where you are presently located or other aspects presently located in other dimensional realities, which are always in synchronization with the harmonic energy field of where you are presently located. We are speaking to you as the prime focal point for the creative energy systems and it is those higher field cosmic creative systems that you synchronize with, you resonate with and this is the new set of creation codes that are manifesting in you and as you.

Have you come to the realization that there have been perhaps specific conditions or something similar that have been of concern in your immediate vicinity of location, or as you are located within your physicality unit? Remember the prime source of energy and information for you – the original pattern – and the original codes have successive incremental messages or informing patterns that are there for the continuation of the body form as long as it is needed.

There are many reference points you could locate within your immediate physicality that could be drawing in more specific resonating field codes for those specific areas. Think about it as an energy matrix, the energy grid, that is visible throughout the energy field of which planet Earth is one aspect and then think about the energetic matrix field throughout your space and you will see where the energy patterns are there as an over lighting system to be called upon, to be linked with. You make the energetic adjustment when you align yourself with the appropriate resonating frequency for you from the cosmic creative source.

In this moment you might feel you are replenishing every aspect of yourself and as you do that, you may be observing the surface and the inner core of the planetoid Earth. You will be observing changes, shifting vibrational fields. You will also be aware of what needs to come into harmonic synchronization with the higher resonating field.

There are movements, there are shifts, just as there are within your matrix and systems. So, feel and know the higher cosmic field is bringing in the corrective, informative, informational frequencies. These are adjusting frequencies.

Many of you feel the frequency patterns within your energy field and you can feel when you are out of synchronization with all of those and you can also feel when you are back within the harmonic frequency pattern and this lifts you into higher energetic fields.

This is all reminding you of your composition as an energy field and so this is the purpose for this gathering session.

Remember your connections to the greater dimensional field of Beings, or support, and this is for you.

Orem out “

“Thank you, Orem.

This is Lani again. My feeling is we have been replenished throughout our energy field – the matrix of creation. Perhaps it is giving you a higher perspective, even as we were told and reminded that we could observe the planet from this Station of Light and to observe certain changes occurring.

There is a depth to this information that we each will be processing in our own way.

Draw all this back into you now, into your locality, into your physicality and be aware that you are bringing in what I think of as a stabilizing presence and energy flow.

We know there are ongoing disturbances in different land masses around us, but we must continue to bring in the resonating field from Source Creation – above it all. Creating balance in some way and [arising] out of balance is new formation, new creations.

Take all this into you, breathe it right in, and you breathe it out right into your body, all through your body, right into your energy field from the core energy essence of you – from your Soul Presence – into every experience. Perhaps it is creating new pathways for you in alignment, in resonating energy harmony with your original Creative Source.

This ends this session through the Omega Communication Portal and as always, bring your conscious attention back to your body, back to time as we measure it, because this is how we are involved in the consciousness field of the planet as it is connected fully with cosmic creation and perhaps the centre of this particular galaxy and perhaps as we associate it with the solar portal – the sun. It is a great energetic matrix of creation.

Thank you.

Lani
