Plasmic Field Connection. Soul Intention. Joyful consciousness

I am Lani beginning this session today and as I always say, relax your mind, relax your body and be open and curious as to what you will receive today.

Take in a natural breath and as you let it out be with me as we gather in the vast gathering space of the Station of Light. I feel this Station exists in the energy field, or perhaps it's the plasma field between the Earth and the Sun – this is just my feeling about it today.

Be within this field where you can receive more easily the energy, where you can also update yourself and integrate everything you have received in the higher vibration field. Let's begin.

“Welcome into this field. Orem addressing you again and as you increase your area of consciousness, your field of sensitivity and receptivity here, you will be aware you are also embracing levels of consciousness of existence, a pattern of you, which has experienced many different fields of existence. The purpose of this is to remind you of your powerful presence in every moment. In every moment in whatever reality you have access to the full potential of our soul essence and the principles and the mission – the purpose – of the soul integrating into whatever level of reality that would be.

Therefore, we address you as a multi-dimensional being. We ask you to assemble here as that. Therefore, you will be aware you are expanded more than what we would say is your upbringing of your physical life on Earth, the one you have presented yourself into here. You are much more than that and we are helping you to understand that by being present knowing that your soul exists as the individual first created soul from Source energy, then you see that you have all the energy systems and the creativeness to either explore dimensions for the purpose of gathering information, or to assist you as you are harmonizing and synchronizing and elevating civilization around you. We stress this for you at the beginning of the session.

This is the point of realization, the intersection point, the juncture of all the threads of your soul essence, bringing all the information into you that will assist you as an individual and you as the collective consciousness.

The collective consciousness of course is expanded through that, but the essence of bringing you into the energy field and sphere of this Station is to clear all your energy patterns that are irrelevant in your presentation as a pure Soul Essence.

Your pure Soul essence we are addressing and acknowledging has existed in many different creations. The original intention is existing in the present moment in all dimensions. This is the powerful point, the core essence of you.

From this moment of realization and integration there simply needs to be you fully expressing joyfulness as a Being. This is often overlooked simply because of the different realities you engage within have certain monitoring levels and patterns that need to be honoured and adhered to as part of the growth of that civilization. What needs to be remembered is the pure essence of you.

In other realities we referred to you as bringing in a specific energy pod or sphere of patterns of creativity to be connected into, in whatever was needed. Some of these are to be replicated and drawn upon in your current focus. Some of them are not relevant and will remain in a dimensional field until their appearance is needed. In the same way, you do not present yourself into the civilization until your appearance is needed as the soul essence and as you expand and grow in the body form you are always expressing the pure essence of creation, underneath all the intersections and intermingling of experiences of a community.

You exist in the present as your pure soul essence and we keep reminding you of this so that you naturally remember and utilize the inherent patterns within you. Remember, by observation of whatever you observe, you are there in the observer role from your pure essence of creation. In the same way, this is the field that you receive through the solar portal and the ultra plasmic energy field that exists everywhere in the galaxies.

This you naturally present through you, around you as you observe and participate in the joyful happiness level of consciousness. That is a consciousness field that exists within and around every soul. It is inherent within you, so therefore within your reality. Remember to reconnect with that and this is the sense of you being present here today - reconnecting with all those inherent aspects existing within your consciousness field which is vast, which is intergalactic – throughout all time space existence – if you want to relate it to some physical meaning, or relativity, in some way.

Within the ultra-plasmic field of existence it is a living sphere of intelligence, of Beings, and this is infused naturally with the pure essence coming through the solar portal – the creativity. This is the natural bringing together all aspects of you into this point of existence.

Referring to our previous gathering, we recalled you to the moment where all layers of disturbance are simply peeled away. They simply fall away as you embrace the dynamic flows coming through the solar portal. These are present within and around all the energy structures which are considered to be the planetoid of Earth. There are many energetic structures that are not readily visible to your visual capabilities until you expand into the higher resonating field with those energetic structures. As you do that, you will become aware of the pathways between Earth and you and various other planetary bodies that all are drawing in and through the solar portal. You see, these is one connectedness within the plasmic field of creation.

Many of the galactic beings you are aware of around you and ones you are capable of interacting with and requesting information or assistance in whatever level because they are aspects of you existing in some other reality and dimension - they are all with you. You are with them. In this sense you are never alone. If you choose to separate yourself from other people then you have a clearer field to access communication and even though you may do that, it is not necessary for you to resonate with that galactic field and be present with them and receive them. It is your choice of how you want to change realities, of how you think you are needed to be somewhere. You are needed to be connected purely with your soul essence everywhere wherever you are.

This we have assisted you to fully integrate, to understand, to infill yourself with this. In this present moment you are fulfilled in this resonating field incorporating the labels of happiness and joy.

So, this presentation envelops you.
I withdraw now.

Orem out “

“I have come back to be present with you again. Lani speaking and in this state I am aware of what is presented, I experience it and yet I do not hear every world.

In this sense, perhaps initially you have not heard every word, but your soul presence has received what was within the sphere of energy presentation. Therefore, in the days ahead as you listen to this, you understand it more and adjustments are made within your energy field, just as you are continuously adjusting to the streams of energy which appear to come from the Sun and yet we are told the Sun is a Solar Portal and the energy of Source Creation comes through that Portal. It all makes sense really, when we observe the different rays of light which people are seeing and photographing currently.

Look forward to resonating with the higher energetic structures referred to in this session. As you bring your awareness back to being in the gathering, take in a conscious breath here and breathe yourself back into your body form, remembering your soul essence which of course had expanded to be in that energy field of the Station of Light. So gather it all in again, in you, around you, through you and through every particle and aspect of your life that has ever been. You are harnessing it all, harnessing all the potential.

Breathe it all into you and bring your focus and attention back to Earth time as we measure it in terms of the Sun and the Earth, times of day. Be filled with happiness and joy.

This ends this session through the Omega Communication Portal.
