Omega Communications Portal

Different Time Reality? Cosmic Plasmic Being

I am Lani presenting these transmissions through the Omega Communications Portal.

It is all about assisting you to remove yourself, with your intention, from the outer circumstances of where you are and move your attention away from the body and into the streams of energy as you step into expanded consciousness fields, existing all around you.

Initially, it is always about closing your eyes, taking in a natural breath, breathing in naturally and as you let it out, be with all of us gathered in the receiving area of the Station of Light. The Station of Light exists in a field of consciousness. Everything exists in a field of consciousness.

So, here you are with us all, ready and curious to receive.

"When you step into this field of consciousness, we are with you, we are the support team, we are those as you would know us as the Galactic team, we are observing you, we are present,

I am known as Orem delivering this energy and information to you. At this time, there are many disturbances around you, as you become aware of them, and they introduce vibrations into the commonality known as the mind-set or the field of civilization that the population is present in.

There may be times when you feel you have entered into a different time, separate or different from that which you expected to be within – yet, here you are. Every time you move into the field of consciousness that aligns you directly with Source Energy and the prime focus for life – the Prime Intention – then you automatically shift yourself into the correct timeline that you chose to express.

We speak about this as an expression of your choice and intention. Within that choice and intention you made and you are making, are various realities. Therefore, at this time come back to your sense and true alignment so that your reality shifts to be in conformity with that higher intention of expressing, amongst other things, order, a sense of rightness that each individual Being has within themselves.

In this session it is about restoring the knowledge you have of being fully connected into the reality, the expression of the reality as time and experiencing civilization, but within that alignment – the true alignment – you are effectively shifting the field of consciousness around you.

So, as many of you do this, you bring into reality the clearer systems of light, the systems of repair, the systems of support. You can reflect this in the way you live as you express your rightful intention and connection to Source Creation.

If you are wanting to understand more what that is, you must firstly come into alignment with that original intention of creation. Then the natural opportunities appear quite naturally to you – spontaneously – and you receive the sense of knowing what it is that you need to do, or that is being presented to you as an opportunity. All of this is inherent in your true connection to the reality of time and the essence of what that is as a relative experience within what you would think of as your lifetime timeline. You have had many shifts along that lifetime timeline immersion into experience and you are creating the next from your immersion into the original intention – for all creation.

This serves to clear from you, distortions from that field. Every time you present yourself into the energetic field with us there is clearance of distortions that have been discerned on many levels within you or around you. Feel that alignment, the correction, dissolving away those disturbing patterns.

As you are aware, we do not individualize what these are because of your individual patterns of experience. Even within the over-lighting expression of your pure Source Energy you have accumulated various distortions which in many levels continue to be dissolved until you are right back within the clear pattern which you now bring in and through you.

While you are present with us as a consciousness form which you can experience as an energetic body form here with us, which is the reality of you – an energy body unit, you are receiving the clear intention because you are more clearly connected to the pureness of your creation. This will flow back in you and around you as you continue your daily patterns.

Do not consider, do not think, that information is being withheld from you. You have the full field of information available to you and you do this, again, from your pure alignment and connection. Then, what resonates with you, you will be receiving and interpreting.

We make this as simple as is possible in the presentations to you and the presentations will continue and the simplification or clarification will continue as you draw yourself into the field of informational patterns available to you.

Consider this. You are moving through time experiences and various bodies or entities or systems appear to you. Now, you have choice. Will you draw that to you, will you move through what appears because they are not relevant for you in the way you express your pure point of existence? That is the simplistic pathway that you work through the complexities of the daily existence patterns.

We present this to you especially for the ones who have become aware that you are in a different timeline to that which you were intending to be present within. Remember that your presence had been necessitated on some level as you became aware on some level, that your presence would be needed. Therefore, you are already in the correct, or corrected, timeline for you because your presence has become engaged in the process of expansion, of correction. It is simply aligning the essence of you back to the original point. You will understand individually what this means for you and it also will help you to understand some events that have happened in your lifetime that may have had a dramatic change upon you. Your true essence is always still aligned with your original point of origin.

Referring now to the energy from that point of origin, from Source energy creation, remember the cosmic plasmic field. You respond to this. You relate to this because you are a cosmic plasmic Being yourself. This is what you are. This is what you came as from the point of creation.

So, the cosmic plasmic Beingness of you is with that field – that field is not fixed – it is a flowing life form. You are a flowing form of life and you are always adjusting to the prime source codes. This is what you are using more frequently as you remember.

Bring all the memories back into you currently, into your lifeform. The life essence present being, as it were, an anchoring point as the shifting of consciousness comes into the true alignment pattern, both for planetoid Earth, yourself and the civilization, even though you may feel there are many different civilization expressions, or pockets, currently being recognized around the planet.

So, the shifting into integrating the higher point of correction for you is all that is required. Be that. Do it now. As it is.

As you are this now, this presentation is complete at this time. I withdraw now.

“Acknowledged, Orem.

Lani again with you all, with us. We are those plasmic lifeforms from a plasmic field of creation.

It is very interesting, the words that are presented to us currently, indicating that everything is changing and shifting especially, or only, when we correctly connect back into that original field of creation. It is simple. It is exciting. It is mind expanding and maybe it is more than that for you.

Bring all this energy immersion fully into your presence as a Being of Light here and bring all this now as you breathe yourself back into your body form.

Did you feel the connection? Did you feel the flow of energy that we refer to as this cosmic energy all through you? Did you experience as I did momentarily, as being like an enormous galaxy – millions and billions of points of light and within it all, you are the central point of light. I acknowledge this in you. I acknowledge this as me. And so it is.

So, as you become aware you are consciously breathing again, bring your awareness back to time as we know it, as we are immersed within moments of experience, so you bring your attention back fully into the present, fully connected in your point of existence. Take this sense of wonderfulness that you are into you.

This ends this session through the Omega Communication Portal.
