Omega Communications Portal

Past Present Future existence the cosmic frequency

Lani speaking to you again and I open the Omega Communications Portal to be with you so that together we form a vast group, an expanded group, more than the number who would fit into my space where I am recording this. Welcome into this energy field and welcome yourself into the dimensional space known as the Station of Light.

To be here means you have stepped out of the concept of the physical world and the reality you may have been experiencing and you have stepped into the reality of the highest potential, the reality where you exist as a pure point of consciousness. That means, every aspect of you is also receiving the flow of energy from Source / creative consciousness.

This is how we begin today as we are gathered here in the receiving area of the Station of Light.

“Welcome and Greetings upon you, around you, within you. Orem addressing you as you come forth again into receiving everything that you have brought into you into this dimensional field of consciousness.

Every pattern, every code, every aspect of you is here receiving the same information packets and codes and sequences. The frequencies that you are drawing into you in this space elevate you, they lift you up, they expand your energetic field and this expands the consciousness of you. Therefore, you have already expanded well beyond the present aspect of you existing within what you recognize as the present civilizations on Earth.

We remind you there are overlapping dimensions of civilizations. There are consequential effects upon what you would call your physical aspect, your physical life and environment and in the overlapping, you can perceive the aspect you might call your future aspect that has already moved through the expansion process into a finer point of existence. We are using language that you identify with, so the concept of the words finer dimensions, or finer existing consciousness fields, will bring to you the state of existence that is relevant for you.

It is all about uplifting you. Clearing your energy pattern and then you facilitate the shift. It occurs first in your energetic field. The concepts come in from your pure point of origin and then they are interpreted in levels of your conscious mind and the emotional response to that.

Then this activates different aspects within what you know as your physical body form.

The codes. The patterns. You understand now why we continue to bring you into consciously connect with your high point of consciousness, of existence.

You may be aware around you of many aspects of you. You may be familiar with these as parts of your present life span. They might be present, they might be earlier, what you might call past, they might be what you call future and you may also be aware of different aspects of your consciousness activated within different civilization types. So, the focus that you have and the way you bring in the potential and the pure element and aspect of you, is distributed through the different aspects of you into different civilizations, perhaps timelines you might refer to them as.

What you do in your current focus clears pathways, processes throughout your individuality as pure essence of Creation of Source Energy because we are addressing your Soul actively present within your current timeline focus.

It may seem you are emerging into a different formation of reality, and this is what you proposed, what you sensed, what you knew was capable of being enacted as you and through you. Is this why you chose to connect with these issuances to you, surrounding you in this field?

We have mentioned in earlier gatherings, the processes of a timeline shift, the processes of synchronization with the prime intention of creation, the prime focus of the creation pattern. It is all relevant and it becomes revealed in a different way as you continue to process the energy frequency informational patterns.

Again, you may be feeling the dissolving from you – the clearance from you – of irrelevant patterns, perhaps disturbances in the patterns.

These are all easily dissolved and cleared from your energy pattern, coming back to the realization that you are energy.

We are addressing you as a single point of consciousness.

Again, it is the particle that is always present in the principle of Creation, the particle of Source. It is One. You resonate with that. You become activated, enriched, refreshed, as you consciously connect to your point of creation and The Point of Creation.

There is the vibration, the frequency pattern, contained within each of these deliverances and you may be aware already that you step beyond the words. You shift into the frequency that the words represent, or contain, in the deliverance and so you are simply this point - this particle – conscious of everything.

This is the point of realization that whatever field of cosmic processes or cosmic realizations and revelations come to – it is the same One point and in many ways this baffles and disturbs some scientists, simply because they come to a point where it cannot be analyzed or pulled apart any more because what exists is a frequency – a vibration. This is what you experience when you step through the words, when you step through the concepts or the limitations that may presently continue to exist around your life pattern. You step beyond them, you step through them into the frequency pattern and you resonate with the frequency pattern. It is the vibration of Soul.

Correlate your Soul as you speak about your individual Soul, with the presence of the Solar Portal, the Sun – the Sol – and then there is the resonating effect that you are drawn to, to immerse yourself within.

And here you are within this. Beyond the physical at present visible spectrum of colours or light that is visible as different frequencies.

This is an expanded field beyond what is visible through ordinary normal vision until you have elevated and expanded your perception and entire consciousness field into the dimensional frequency already existing which has the variations within the frequency patterns. We realize that many of you will respond to this as it is presented to you in this way.

It is clearly within your energy pattern – the energy field around you – the cosmic frequency pattern.

Take this into you. Experience it. Experience the emotions that might be activated with this experience. The highest vibrational frequency that you are resonating with in this presentation of you into this frequency of the dimension.

Also, do not be limited by any definition you might know relating to the word “dimension”. Again, this is a moveable energy field and state of consciousness. You are everything.

As you continue to absorb this, I withdraw now,

Orem out “

“Hello. Lani again speaking.

We have been experiencing something deeper, beyond words, although Orem was presenting it as words.

You may have experienced the presence of other Galactic groups or Beings supporting you in this expansion.

So, you may need time to go over this session, to repeat it within you. It appears to me to be a very strong frequency pattern that is needed in individuals and as individuals absorb it all, it increases what is around us in the consciousness field around the planet, without us even doing anything. It is just focusing on our own activation of Source Energy, alignment, immersion within that. Continue to do this as a daily practice, reconnecting to the energy frequency pattern – the pure point of You.

It is time now to become conscious of your breathing. Take in a natural breath and as you let it out, bring your focus back through and around your body, from above your head, right through your body within all the channels of energy, all the particles within you, into the soles of your feet, the tips of your toes connected into the consciousness field of this planetoid.

Here we are – we have come back to the body form. We have been together in a vast gathering and now we carry that energy field into the life pattern you are living.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Thank you

Lani
