Infusion of Streams of Light into civilization

Welcome to this dimension again. Lani speaking and as I connect with you and connect with the Galactic Beings – the Cosmic Beings – of the Station of Light and that dimension, then this draws you into the state of the happiness factor.

This is a nice way to start today as you focus your intention of being in this space to receive and to allow your body form to relax and so it is easier to come into the gathering space with us all. It is just your choice and intention to be in the higher possible frequency for you and then you will draw in specific words or energy for you. We are all individuals and yet we are connected to the same higher frequency of cosmic intelligence. This is a nice way to begin today.

“We welcome you again.

Orem addressing you and you might find the energy changes in the deliverance in this particular assembly. At this moment as you receive this you are being gathered into a specific framework of energy. You might feel this as a geometric shape in your thought pattern and awareness. Indeed, you are being gathered closely together in this time and enveloped in the field of information that pertains to what is occurring generally within the Earth biosphere. It's necessary to assemble many of you into a very strongly connected grouping, because then as a combination within the field, you are identified very strongly in a different way.

We speak many times about activation, as do other ones who bring in collective consciousness from a higher energetic pureness of the quantum field and thus the energy which you are receiving again is amplifying specific patterns within you and this is an activation in your modalities as you recognize it. What this means is that you become more aware of the specific streams of energy and information which enliven the particles within you.

This is important for you. It is a necessity due to the disturbances which have been interjected into the consciousness field. These are energy patterns. Thought-wave patterns, you might say. Pulsations. We do not refer to the pulsations of the light streams coming through the solar portal. We are talking about streams and pulses which have been artificially created. Being aware of this and also being collectively energized, or activated by us, means that in a sense you have a very strong energetic field or shield around you.

It is not that you need to be shielded from anything. It is simply to keep your energy fields clear so that you are clearly connected to the information patterns that might require you to say specific words to people, or to amplify the direct intelligent streams of cosmic intelligence received through you to be implemented and dispersed throughout the lower energetic fields.

This is part of your work you recognized you would be needed to do upon your entry into the civilization. Therefore, all other civilizations you entered into will be experiencing this infusion of the streams of light. This could appear to you in a dream-like fashion because it is activating you in the various life streams where you exist and continue to exist in the multi-dimensional existence of the initial core Soul presence of you.

You would see the importance of being present within the core energy framework of what we are delivering to you in this time. You are being delivered into it. You are naturally receiving it because you are resonating with this energy field.

You will continue to participate in many of the Earth story participations – all the activities supporting the life stream of you but there is this higher stream of energy and information that you are attuned to. It is necessary to remind you of this, even though it might seem to be a new connection, or a stronger, amplified, connection for you.

There are movements occurring within the various supporting groups, or the various parts of the Galactic assemblies around Earth. They are also working around other planetary systems where the presence of you may exist, supporting you everywhere in the times when you brought pockets of codes and information and assistance to vitalize and uplift populations. It is an ongoing service which you participate in because you became aware of the necessity to do this, to implement the original intention of life forms, of life, of consciousness enveloping many different levels of creation.

There are different groups in the cosmic gatherings of Beings who support all of this. There are times as individuals when you will feel you have expanded and you feel the essence of you, or you feel the body is not a physical body form but is an energy body. Those are the moments when you are receiving the individual attention and focus for you and this will flow automatically into all the experiences you have had.

This brings you into a unified consciousness state of your pure essential element of the Soul present, being present.

It is similar to you being what is infused or injected into the civilization from the higher, purer intention of the original creative pattern. This intrinsically clears away patterns that are not of that original intention.

You are being infused in a slightly different manner to other presentations to you, simply because you were needing to understand more of what you are doing and your presence, and is being consciously present serving a purpose. This confirms to you indeed very subtly in some areas of your life pattern as you move through individual daily routines with people. Maintain the awareness of the increasing level of frequency patterns, or light, that is you.

This is always in agreement – your agreement – that happens, that you work more consciously with the support team you connect with. It may bring memories into your current thoughts of working with these Galactic Beings, the Cosmic Ones and this reinstates your memory as one of those Beings. You all have existed in many patterns, many life streams, many exact definable planets or spheres of existence moving through fields of existence. The focus where you are is the most important and so you are the Cosmic, the Galactic Being present in the civilization as you know it today.

You are unfolding this and presenting it all around you and through you and thus we have achieved the purpose of the gathering in this moment with you. This moment with you in this space is ongoing. It is not limited by measurement of moments in accordance with Earth's rotation.

We recognize you and we do support you.

Orem out “

“Thank you, Orem.

This is Lani again.

I thought I would share with you, as he began, I felt we were within, at first I thought it was a pyramid shape, but more like a cone of energy, a vortex maybe, receiving energy patterns and I was aware of it coming in through the sentences as pulsations, as higher light.

Perhaps you saw something similar or experienced it in a different way. It will all be recognizable by you and acceptable by you, that you agree to. Maybe this makes sense of your life pattern and where you are at in your realizations currently. It is all beautifully synchronized into the oneness.

There are many of us gathered who receive this activation amplifield and of course we are gathered from all parts of this planet and other satellite systems.

Breathe all this into you. Take it into you as if you do breathe it in and as you breathe out, breathe yourself back into your body and around your body from your Soul intention and presence, enveloping all the lives that you exist as, all those patterns of experience. You are recognized as a Cosmic, or Galactic Being here – a Star Being. Interesting words that imply or infer something wonderful that you are.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

Just a reminder – firmly anchor yourself, connect yourself into your body and time as we know it in this world.

I am beginning to feel it is not even time. It is the energy around you with every thought that is important.

Thank you for being part of my life here.

I end this transmission today, thank you.

Lani
