Your Soul destination, cosmic elements of your soul

Hello, I am Lani linking us together again like threads of a cobweb spanning vast distances and they are connecting elements of the energy matrix, the grid of consciousness. We make up that grid of consciousness.

So, as I gather you together, feel that you are with us as a large group gathered in the receiving area of the Station of Light. Instantly we are gathered together into the central space which connects us very deeply into our inner core and possibly into the inner core of a specific field of consciousness. Cosmic.

This is the way we begin today.

"Welcome. We are with you. Orem speaking on behalf of the cosmic beings surrounding you here, encompassing you, embracing you in this field.

Have you realized that the more that you enter the field of cosmic consciousness, the clearer it becomes within you and around you? You see the many threads that are drawn together in your current exposure in your life circumstances.

We are speaking to you as a cosmic soul and as you are presented here, you are this Being of light – a field of light yourself, but your particular field of light is your cosmic self and soul individualized, and yet in a very vast comprehensive embracement of the consciousness field there is only one Source.

We always direct you to your individual prime point of origin. Even as we draw your attention to this again you will feel energy shift. This happens with every inner connection you make there is subtle adjustment happening to you which, as it enters and unfolds through your body intelligent system, you will observe there are powerful changes as you become more attuned to the cosmic frequency patterns.

In the wider field of cosmic connections of the energy consciousness matrix field that you connect in with, there are continuous changes happening as the ones connected with you in some manner, some linkage, receive the corrections themselves. This is the way new creations come in, in accordance with the cosmic intelligent systems.

This is brought to your attention again, because in this way you a facilitator of the creations which will come forward in accordance with the master consciousness field. That which is above. That which is the pureness of the intention for souls to come into creativeness in this particular area of the galaxy on this particular planetoid named Earth. There are many connections that will go to your other named and known planets in the system. That will have a natural flow-on effect and in turn you will be receiving energy systems and intelligent creations that may be suitable for Earth but which the concepts of which are coming through from other stations, other civilizations existing in other dimensions on other planets.

You are within this cosmic creative matrix.

We draw you into this space regularly so that you continue to feel there is positive creation occurring, even though what you may hear about or see visibly would not conform to your natural knowingness of what the cosmic creation could be around you. In drawing you into these spaces of higher collective consciousness you are uplifting your energy field. Some would say in your languages uplifting your spirit. It simply engages you back into your point of origin and your soul presence.

Now we speak to you about various changes that have been created, made and moved around in civilizations that you know about. These are when specific souls chose to come in to create substantially new concepts, new ideas and facilitate those. Until in many instances there were not enough of consciously aware souls present to formation the creation in accordance with the cosmic field. This is where you have become aware that civilizations have disappeared. Yet, here you are again, consciously aware and you are bringing in the higher field of energy and information.

The difference to earlier presentations is that there is a greater support system in place for the coherent creations collectively coming through from cosmic origins and this is why your current life cycle is being given energy to enhance that life cycle so that you maintain your presence here and you bring in the creative potential to manifest.

Feel this. You are immersed in the frequency patterns of what we are verbalizing to you. In this way you may sense many other souls that have come in, into different circumstances and you may observe where some of those souls were aspects of you in different areas, bringing forth creativeness. So, the information patterns that you have always been choosing to bring in to enhance life patterns to create the higher intelligent field of consciousness, you are able to draw on those particular elements to enhance you now and what you are realizing – making real – in the life pattern, the life cycle currently.

You are able to draw on the elements that you know will work in accordance with the cosmic dimensional fields of creation and inherent in those is the absolute alignment - you would say the correctional alignment patterns. Anything that is not purely connected to cosmic source does not remain.

Therefore, you are connected into that cosmic source and your destination was this current life cycle that you are known as a particular individual and yet you are a community and you are part of that higher dimensional field consciousness.

We came here to tell you this. We came here to tell you that you can call on the elements of creation that are naturally part of your soul presence. And thus it is.

Your body form, your body intelligent systems, are relating to and responding to the streams of cosmic consciousness coming into Earth.

You see, Earth's atmosphere also changes. It becomes enhanced as is necessary to rise above and create a cleansing frequency pattern within the Earth biosphere and as you become aware of this, you become aware that your body is absolutely suited to a higher field of creation and systems. Many of you have felt adjustments and opening up of various processes that enliven you more. This enables you to have clearer access to the potential of your soul – the essence of that.

Keep continuing your process of alignment with your pure origination point and that is bringing in the cosmic intelligent systems.

We are here to remind you of this and so you will naturally carry this through you into your life cycle, into all the ways that you are present.

This ends my deliverance to you at this session.

Orem out “

“Thank you, Orem. This is Lani again and I feel excitement at some of the explanations that came forward in this session. We all experienced those aspects of which were appropriate for us as individual souls and also as we are as a collective consciousness working with the cosmic intelligent systems.

This is such a beautiful presentation that I am filled with lightness that we think of as happiness and joy. So, allow this to excite you and that of course raises your frequency pattern.

Again, its time to bring all this back through your soul pattern and into your energy field and your cosmic bio-energy field – your body mind intelligence, beautifully located where you are, as you. Remember also that this enhanced energy goes all through your life cycle. Of course it always has been there, but here it is, we recognize it.

Take all this into you now with a natural breath and as you let it out, you will feel the difference in your body, right from the top of your head and even above your head in your energy field, right through the body, down to beneath your feet, bringing it into the Earth system, the Earth consciousness. So beautiful!. Thanks again for receiving this, sharing it in the ways that you do this.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.
