Mission. Opportunities. Cosmic blueprint for the Lifeform

Hello, Lani with you again for another session. I call you together, like a team that brings in this expanded field of energy and information, a group of beings who want to be uplifted and cleared of everything that may be limiting any one of us, so that we bring in the higher cosmic vitality and field. This is what these sessions are all about – helping us to do this.

Come with me again into the receiving area of the Station of Light, ready to receive, ready to give forth what you know and what you have experienced since we last came together and definitely ready to receive the inflows that continue to bathe our planet and they inevitably will be working throughout our known universe and beyond that.

Be open to receive ,expanding your perceptions and into the presence of your true light self.

"Welcome, we welcome you into this space. Orem addressing you because I am familiar with the energy of this one who is speaking and I am familiar with the energy of you all gathered here and you are embraced in this field of energy – the light frequency pattern.

We continue to use the words you are familiar with, that you understand and resonate with as we continue the expansion of you and working with you. We acknowledge your cooperation in allowing the energy frequencies to keep you tuned into the cosmic vibration – the creative life force that is identified to you as the cosmic intelligent field of creation. The vibration of those words will be vibrating you in your energy form here because you have come into the frequency pattern, resonating with it and this is the way to expand your individual frequency patterns.

As you move into this space, we observe the energy pathways through you, through the different dimensional fields that your light body brings into. your physicality. That beautiful, intelligent biological system for your life form also has different dimensions to it and the dimensions all need to be synchronized into the higher pattern of the cosmic vitality field. In this way there is a release from you of imprints, of matter of any form that disrupts your internal synchronization pattern with the cosmic field which of course is the pattern of your soul.

When you understand this, it is easier for you to understand the experiences you have had during your memories and the way that those memories dissolve and fade away as they become irrelevant to your particular purpose for being present in the lifeform.

Here we speak about what you could reframe as your mission. As an individual soul present in the lifeform there are many missions, there are many ways and energy systems that you came in to identify with to clear the patterns perhaps and also the prime one of course is to allow the clear functioning of the soul to bring in the clearness of the higher cosmic pattern, above and beyond.

Many of you realized there have been several patterns of existence, perhaps even where you are living which faded away or have been distorted or cleared away deliberately. This is to be viewed as opportunities to re-establish and to bring into establishment the new formations that are in alignment with the higher frequency patterns that each soul continues to bring in through the different levels of existences.

As we are delivering these words to you and the energy with the words, you will realize that from your existence as this awakened soul and fully aware of what is happening around the planet energetically, then you will also be aware that the souls coming into the younger lifeforms are easily bringing in the higher frequency pattern. In other words, what may have disturbed you as the lifeform in the early years or early decades of your current life cycle, those events or experiences will not be disturbing the souls and the lifeforms who are the younger ones. The souls coming into those lifeforms are already functioning at a higher frequency pattern. This is why you will see that many of them need to be supported and trained to be in a consistent line of connection to the original purpose for a healthy humanoid structure to house the soul. You may be aware that many of the younger lifeforms are being distorted as there has been introduced information which is not in accordance with the pure cosmic blueprint for the lifeform.

Those of you aware of this now are able to hold the awareness for the original blueprint for the lifeform, presenting it into the energy field simply by your presence. Knowing that there is the prime blueprint for the healthy lifeforms, you can by your presence or your thought have it available to the soul and the lifeform of those ones who may be experiencing distortions.

You will see that you are necessary. At whatever stage of your life cycle you are receiving this, you are necessary to hold the original intention of the cosmic blueprint for lifeforms. You are already receiving this for you, for your current lifeform and lifespan and so it continues to be functioning and activated within the dimensional field of your biological systems. As you realize this, then you realize that is available to the individuals you may be aware of who have become distorted already. Remember, this is part of your presence.

There are many of you aware of this system of activating the original blueprint pattern. That original blueprint pattern has been upgraded as a necessity of the distortions that were occurring.

You see, there are the cosmic observers who bring this information in through the Stations, as this one you are presently within, and this information is concurrently being distributed to those who are ready to receive this information. It comes into the layers of the cosmic matrix surrounding the consciousness fields existing of this planetoid named Earth. Also connected are other planetary systems and satellite spheres of existence so that it is all being received concurrently. This allows the greater expansion field into the cosmic intelligent matrix. It is a vast communication network. You are receiving this.

You will be aware there have been patterns within your lifeform that are being cleared or have already been cleared. They were simply distortions. As you continue to move into this cosmic field and vital energy, you are in the flow, you are receiving the flows, in many different ways that you receive it in your dimensional energy field. Multi-dimensional. You are a cosmic multi-dimensional lifeform allowing the presentation of your soul into all of the situations.

You are in a sense directing your life pattern, so remember to reconnect to your master code - your original soul original core station – and then the impulses, the directions, flow easily through your soul connection into your biological systems and into the energy field functioning in a multi-dimensional way, very necessary in the present frequency pattern of this developing Earth Station.

You will be receiving individual messages and impulses in this session as you review it and immerse yourself in it at other moments beyond this initial gathering. As we see you here gathered, we see the correctional energy frequency patterns throughout you.

This is the deliverance to you currently. We withdraw now.

Orem out “

“AnTur with you at this time, helping you to bring all of this into your realization. That part of your dimensional existence enfolds the dimensions within the layers of what you call your Earth structure. We work with all those multi dimensional fields, from deep within the central core of this planetary consciousness into all the layers.

You are participating in many different events, happenings, experiences, throughout the planetary environment and its consciousness, but the You that we refer to is your Soul presence from the cosmic systems of life and what you do is you enfold the information and sequential energy systems presented to you in the sessions, you are expanding it throughout the consciousness field of this unique planetoid. We wanted to remind you of this.

AnTur out.”

Lani speaking again. Thank you AnTur for coming through and Orem and all this extra dimensional information that has come forward today.

Allow it to activate all of the necessary pathways and information within your dimensional field where you are existing as the lifeform. It is a different view presented today. Enjoy this.

Now, it is also time to bring you back into time, so take in a natural breath and as you let it out, feel it is all coming in through you from above you all through you and around you into the dimensional field that is your biological system here on Earth and your soul is fully present.

Enjoy this and when you are ready bring your attention back to where you are receiving this and your presence – being fully present in the present moment. Thank you.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.
