Information for your Soul Mission Cosmic presentation of You

Hello, Lani with you again helping you to be aware of the expansion of your consciousness field and so the expansion of your energy field becomes increased as you continue to immerse yourself within the cosmic energy fields. These surround us all the time.

Let's begin this way as usual by relaxing your body, opening your mind, breathing easily and naturally and move with all of us as a group gathering within the Station of Light. You may be aware of different people coming in separately and in other groups, from distant places. It is all a beautiful coming together in the consciousness field for the continuation and progression of the expanded energy and information.

"Welcome. Orem addressing you together with other members of the Galactic Command in this communication area that you have come into. Already you are receiving more of the energy connections in the communication matrix surrounding you.

You will be aware also that your communication matrix, your communication receiving patterns and pathways surrounding you individually on Earth and presented here, are receiving to a greater depth of energy field. This is a reminder to continue to align yourself into the different vectors of communication. There are consecutive levels within dimensions of the energy nodes referred to and thus you are able to move through these energy nodes as if they are presented to you at certain junction points and the junction points are to do with your realizations and activities and the special energy that you take in to be effectively working throughout your energy communication network.

This is the energy communication network we refer to as part of your biological system on Earth. You see, the entire system of your biological lifeform is receiving information patterns. This is why we continue to present these sessions to you, lifting you above the continual flow of energy that is pumped out around you within the atmosphere of what you know as planetoid Earth. Now, with us where you are received in this gathering point you are above that level.

You have already connected to the cosmic energy matrix and in this state you have come in contact with many of the levels and aspects of your individual soul which is one sense is completing some of the functions of that aspect within different formations known as different time periods or realities.

This means that the aspects of the soul which are completing or clearing or delivering what was part of the mission, once that has been delivered and cleared, your individual soul within your biological lifeform on Earth currently is receiving more clearly the confirmation of some of the patterns you have been considering and realizing there is an accumulation of some of the mission parameters surrounding you. They do not surround you as a form of confinement. They indeed surround you within the cosmic matrix field of expansion. Therefore, you are gathering in more information for your mission here in this lifeform.

As you consider this in your ongoing time period, you become more aware that there is energy you are drawing into you which is continuing to maintain or replenish as well as sustaining you in your life cycle. Realize this. This enables you also to bring in more information into the matrix that you connect with around the earth plane and the contacts that you have with people. This happens in the way of energy. It is simply energy that does contain concepts and information, but initially it is always about energy, just as you are receiving energy in this simplistic energy matrix field surrounding you in this deliverance.

This is time for you to celebrate the expansion of you as you absorb all of this and you instantly recognize your soul aspect gathering all this in and enlightening you with this information, and indeed it is increasing the light field within you.

Subsequently from this and as a continuation in the life cycle, you are able to absorb more of the streams of energy and information coming through the solar portal.

Connections. Your connection to all the aspects known as your soul aspects and this is adjusting some of that energy network around you that generally speaking, has been missing some of the aspects of the soul. This is another way that you are bringing in the clearance of what has been, could we say, of concern in your thought patterns, or it simply is a clearance of the patterns that needed the pure elements of all aspects of your soul to be reconnected – gathered. The connections still exist to wherever the aspects of your soul exist and especially to the central core of the soul and so you are enhancing all aspects of the soul – the connections are made known to you. It is not necessary to shift yourself into other life aspects. We are saying to you that you are simply restoring more energy into your soul and therefore into your biological lifeform at this time. Many of the energy systems around you have been disrupted and this session is a continuation of the reconnection and where necessary, the clearance of the energy connections, the communication pathways, in every area of you.

You may now be feeling you have come back to the central port and portal from where you agreed to enter into the current lifecycle you are experiencing and creating and in reconnecting into this space regularly you are restoring yourself into the complexity of the Galactic Command Beings present here. You are part of this. It is part of the cosmic presentation of you through various intergalactic places or existences in the dimensional existences. All of this will be assisting you in your current lifecycle.

You have come to the point of realization where you easily step into the central core command station to replenish information necessary for you. That is part of the mission that you chose and part of that was accepting that mission to be within this current lifeform. There has been some confusion and misconceptions about this which have been presented.

So, it comes to light in this way where you become informed in this informal way and so it makes your life easier, because the answers come in with the realizations that you are working very well in the communication level as part of the cosmic presence surrounding this planetary lifeform itself and everywhere throughout the cosmic existence, presence.

This is the presentation of you being restored and replenished within this central station here.

Remember. Remember this. Remember who you are and remember all this information is contained in your individual placement within this station. It is a place where everything relating to your soul is collected. The information you have been presented with is collected. It is part of the formation of your energy presence here and you reconnect with that every time you enter this core energy station. It is a natural process. It happens automatically in a similar way you naturally are drawn to the energy junction points, the nodes, as described to you previously. This is all being adjusted around you, so you can acknowledge your placement, your cosmic presence.

We acknowledge you.

Orem out “

Lani again speaking and while I am absorbing everything presented through me as a vibration, as energy information put into words, I am also aware that you are gathering this into you. So, it is time to go back to your lifeform and your current lifecycle and be fully present.

This is the expansion of many of the sessions we have been experiencing and it will continue to expand through you.

Bring it all back into you, breathe it into you, breathe out the old pattern as you allow this to come in through you and around you.

When you are ready, bring your awareness back to your presence, fully present in the present moment within your lifeform and your life experience.

Thank you.

This ends this session through Omega Communications Portal..
