Your Creation Story from your Soul

This is Lani presenting this and again, welcome to this space. This is a space that, in a way, you have created along with myself, along with our Soul and along with the cosmic frequencies and all of the Beings, all the intelligence, all the consciousness that exists.

So as you receive this, you are entering the aspect of your consciousness to receive more, to expand into the greater field beyond any limitations you might be affected by within the physical world.

This is a nice way to begin today – to allow yourself the time to enter the space of what we identify as the Station of Light. Here we are, gathered together.

“You are acknowledged here. I am addressing you as Orem and I am the aspect that comes forward to you from this collective consciousness field. In this field there is the energy frequency pattern which in turn gets transformed into words which you are receiving,

So, you are drawing in the appropriate words that you recognize that are part of the system of your consciousness and the system of your physical element – the physicality. In this way you are clearing many of the lesser, or lower, vibratory systems that have been part of your life existence. This life existence we refer to may also include other life experiences.

You understand that all through this current life experiences there have been choices and different pathways. Everything that you present here as your Self into this frequency field, you are bringing everything in as one unit to be receiving the benefit of the energy frequency pattern.

In this way, you may feel that you step into a different frequency pattern and as you do that, you may have the sense that you lose a concept, or a control system that you recognize that holds your life together, that holds you in a particular pattern of physical life existence. This is part of honouring yourself, to allow yourself to go beyond the physical experiences, to complete an association that you have with the cosmic frequency patterns and this of course is what you identify as the Soul in its infinite wisdom in the infinite creation.

You become the creation story that you tell yourself, so view what you tell yourself, because you are creating the unfolding story.

When you shift your perspective into aspects such as you are here in this consciousness field within this Station area, you are creating a different story for your life, for yourself; to understand aspects of the story that you had created to this point of presentation of yourself into this field.

From this point, you may consider you are writing a new story. You are creating a greater expanded existence for yourself. As you do that, it is automatically creating a different story around everywhere that you exist as and with the people you associate with in the life pattern.

You may recall some of these words as you move about your daily life, of changing the story. Of course, this needs to come from your attunement to your Soul presence. The Soul presence is always the presentation of the cosmic creative frequency.

So, in this way you have initiated and activated the aspect of you, that part of your Soul intelligence intended to be fully present, delivering and experiencing this aspect of life into the surroundings on the planet. This goes back to your first presentation as an aspect of the Soul within the Earth construct. In many ways therefore, you are rewriting the story of your creation on this land mass.

We go beyond this again to remind you that the land mass is not solid. It is a consciousness field. It is a vibration manifesting in different stages of creation and again, it is an aspect of creative source energy frequency. It is an aspect of variations of the light field manifested into creation, as a creation that you acknowledge, that you recognize.

You will be finding opportunities, or ways, to rewrite, to recreate, or create in an extended field of consciousness.

This is what you came into the presentation here to receive. This has been thought patterns that have been in your mind, in your feeling, in your sensory perception. This is what you brought forward into this Station, in this energy field here and thus you brought forward this information for you.

Remember, there are layers within the fulness of the presentation, simply because all of the ones drawn into this presentation are linking in from different frequencies of their consciousness and thus the specific elements will be a variation of the cosmic frequency that is appropriate for the individual.

The basic principle is the same and it is the main source of energy frequency that is creative.

This is for you today as you move forward creating in a different way, remembering that your Soul is always in tune with the frequencies of the potential and everything that is required for you. It is the source of supply. It is the resources and all of this now is more readily available to you simply because it is the effect of you consistently reconnecting to the cosmic frequency patterns of creation.

Thus you are the sole / Soul creator of your story, of your life cycle. This will deepen your understanding. This will clear energy patterns around you and this is the presentation to you in this session.

Orem out “

Lani speaking again.

Thank you, Orem. This is wonderful. We appreciate the opportunity to experience this energy field in this way.

Everybody, now it is appropriate for you to bring all this into your consciousness field here. On that level of course, your energy field has already taken it in and so, knowing that, you simply come back, breathing yourself back fully into your lifeform and into your presence, in the present moment wherever you are receiving this.

Whether you are listening to it or reading it, it is the same presentation of the energy and information for you.

Thank you again for being with us, and a reminder again – make sure you are fully focused, fully present in your life cycle in this moment, feeling the expanded field of energy around you – the clearness of it.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.
