Intelligent Systems. Solutions Civilizations in the Timescape

Lani speaking again welcoming you into this energy frequency, into this pattern, into this overlaying energy field that this presentation is consisting of, and you consist of an overlaying energy field. So, how are you feeling? Are you feeling vibrant, full of vitality and an expanded sense of awareness?

This is a great way to start this session today and as you take in a natural breath and let it out, allow yourself to realise you have connected instantly into that space we call the gathering space within the Station of Light.

This exists in a field around planet Earth but my sense is that it also exists throughout different dimensions and galaxies. All of that is a bit like saying connect to your point of origin and if you like to define things and say – where is that?

– but you have a greater sense of what that is for you and it is a “sense”, because it is beyond our physical logical framework of definition.

Are you with us now in the Station of Light? This is how we begin today in this expanded field of consciousness.

“We are with you. I am Orem addressing you and we are indeed amongst you. We are always amongst you. There are always energetic Beings amongst you in your daily life pattern, but here in this space we draw you into a stronger connection with the galactic Beings and all the systems that are in place.

We speak about systems in the sense that you are a system, a biological energy system, and you are a cosmic intelligent system and we are of a cosmic intelligent system. It is incorporating many different layers of consciousness, except that they are not separate layers. They are fields of energy which are changing and the fields of energy always allow the smooth flowing of information through all the layers of energy, right into you, around you, through you, everywhere in creation.

These fields of existence and energy create different lifeforms and there are different intelligent systems in the different lifeforms.

The intelligent system of you with your presence as a Soul is one with the cosmic intelligent field that we are with you in and around and so everything we bring through to you in the words, in a sense, you already have received it, you already know it, it is familiar, because we are reminding you of what you know and what you know is what you brought through your Soul as it entered the body form and within the life systems, the supporting systems that you exist in currently in the reality that has been created.

Indeed, it has been created. Everything has been created, so when the creation is from and through the Source energy, then this is the creation and the vital energy field that you respond to and everything that is necessary for your individual continuation as an individual lifeform is part of the overall field around you.

You will realise from this as you come to recognize fields of information that have been around you, that you have sensed, perhaps they have been incorporated in your individual energy in some way, those fields you recognize are out of harmony with your vitality and intelligent system, those are the ones that you are able to now consciously dispel and expel from your entire energy system.

We have brought this message to you in many different ways and it is always a reminder to you, to bring you back into that central, focused alignment with cosmic energy frequency patterns and it is that intelligence that is of you that recognizes the elements within you that are not necessary and could be in a sense, interfering with your cosmic intelligent systems.

This is something that we who are addressing you are familiar with and we observe these alternate systems that have been around you and the focus indeed, as you will remember and be aware, has been upon clearing your individual energy field so that you clearly bring in the cosmic intelligent systems.

We are able to reveal to you that these overlaying systems have been enhanced – they are very active, and it simply needs people to be aware of the higher intelligent field above much of the general life patterns that people lead.

While you may sense there are different levels of control, the major centre of everything of existence is – to use your words – the cosmic control function of the intelligent system. It is informing you, telling you in many different ways what the natural sequences are to be and what has been encroaching upon the reality around you that is not part of the Source controlling cosmic intelligent systems.

In a sense it is a control but it is dependent on individual connection and recognition of it and recognizing it does not control but it does give you impulses and direction in all of your choices, your daily choices.

As we continue to embrace you in the energy systems here, you are aware that you are making choices as you align with different word patterns, the energy frequencies and what they bring up to you, reminding you of what is going on around you in your individual world.

We are aware and we know that you are aware of many different systems of galactic intelligent beings, supporting you, assisting you, perhaps visiting you, perhaps inspiring you to enter into a greater field of communication. In this central Station of course there are different areas of communication and as you enter those spaces, if you are drawn to be with some of the galactic Beings, you will be aware of different systems of observation and where energy can be introduced into different areas, into the pockets within the reality systems of the civilization. Thus you will see individual people are being drawn to meet up in different groups or different places in the natural world of the Earth system, with all the elements, the layers of the elemental systems and the energy fields relating to those.

So, when you are aware of those, there is vitality that is available for you to draw upon, refreshing you in particular with the energy rays coming through your solar portal and always this is significant because there are increasing rays coming through bathing you all and offering opportunities to consistently align with the higher frequency field.

Remember this. Remember that this contains important solutions for you in many different ways that the term is used - as answers or as something you ingest or apply to yourself, but it all comes through from the central intelligent Source, from the systems there. If you are presently communicating in the Station with some of these individual control centres, you will be aware of this activation. You might be aware there are signs of different civilisations appearing that have not been visible previously in the timescape reality you exist in. Many of these are what you say futuristic. They are part of the crystalline energy system of the cosmic field and it is there presented and there are entranceways into those. It is a matter of you raising your frequency pattern to align with the precise area that you are drawn to and then many other patterns are revealed through that.

This is information that will continue to be presented in various ways to you at the appropriate times of your expansion of consciousness. It has always been around you in your life pattern. All of this is acknowledging that you have been ready to receive this extended field of information clearly in words that you will understand and accept. The energy of it has always been around you. This is what you have been considering, questioning and this brings the information to you.

We leave this with you to continue to allow the energy field to be fully incorporated in your intelligent systems. We will connect again.

*Orem out

Lani speaking again. Interesting. Thank you, Orem, for this reminder. It is good to be reminded of some of this information that we know in some level of our consciousness and the intelligent connection fields are interesting to feel around you.

This has been another session to clear, to uplift you, to inspire you and it is all brought forward through your presence. I thank you for that, I thank you for your presence.

Now take in a natural breath and as you let it out, bring all of this sense of your super consciousness self back around your body, through your body and deeply through and in every aspect of you. That is how you bring it in to vitalise, repair or whatever is needed in your current lifetime, from this moment of course, and throughout your entire lifetime.

Now bring your awareness back to feel you are grounded, fully connected to Earth, aware of where you are, aware of new creations and of time as we measure it, aware of the light, always existing.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Thank you.

Lani
