Brightness. Vital sustenance Repair distortions

Hello everyone. Lani speaking. Relax and enjoy the journey – it is a journey we are going on again today, a journey in consciousness beyond the realms of everyday thoughts. That is the intention – to connect to the original point of creation of you and the Source energy,

Again, as you breathe naturally and easily, breathe yourself into the gathering space. Be with me in the receiving aspect of the Station of Light. Focus here in this space with all of us.

“We begin and welcome you into this space. Orem again the spokesperson because I represent the collected consciousness here of all the Beings who participate through this vehicle, this Station of Light, and we move to and from different dimensions, different galaxies. You might think of them to be different galaxies but together here there is a collective consciousness field. It is the quantum of every aspect of conscious Beings and as part of that you are participating in the ongoing expansion of consciousness around you in the current civilization.

We focus on this because this is an important placement for you and we also acknowledge that you or aspects of you are participating in a similar function in other creation places. It is a quantum field of consciousness, existences, realities, dimensions. This is why we bring you into this space, to keep you accessing the intricate pathways and knowledge and information, which is energy, and so you can draw on what is appropriate for you in the current civilization circumstances around you. As you draw in that pure essence, the vitality of you, that is naturally the expansion, the raising of your frequency, the dropping away of constraints or disturbances and you focus more intently as you, the Being that is a Being of Light, of energy and information.

This also enables you to be more strongly present in the centre of creation for you – the central aspect of you which contains the energy systems that you might refer to as remedial.

Using terms as this does present to you the thought that you need remedying – you need the remedy. Well, in a sense that is because you had stepped out of the provisions coming to you through your point of origin creation and all the sustenance needed in an energy sense. Because you function on many different levels, you need the energy system in those multiple levels where you occupy time space in realities.

You see, you are receiving the consciousness field of your original source pattern and that is nourishing you and enlivening you in a frequency field and then you may be drawing on information that your thoughts might need some direction or clarification and so you are being vitalized on that level and then it flows down into many other levels right down to what you take into you as nourishment for the physical framework and operating systems physically.

Remember that it is the highest point of light from your original point of existence and that of course is the cosmic intelligence system – this is where you are drawing on, and you need to draw upon, the vital systems from that dimensional frequency field. So, already what you have been presented with in this space in this gathering point is feeding you, supplying you with the vital essence needed in any time frame.

We give you a moment to digest that – to absorb it – and following this, become now aware of the various Beings participating in this session, coming in, some to observe you, to observe the changes that you have already made. Some will be observing, almost as if it is from your very high evolved self, has come in to observe your timeline as you have made changes and have had many different experiences and so the observation from the higher viewpoint goes to the original point as your framework of birth point and the circumstances pre your birth. There is always this drawing in of the connection from the original point of your origin.

This is being over-viewed from the level of your point of origin that still contains the overall principal consciousness. Along with that there are also participating Beings and collective Beings participating in the overall shielding which occurs which is necessary around parts of your vitality system known as the Earth planet, the earth form.

There are many areas still needing to be upraised in frequency due to prolonged patterns that had been carried on in a lower field density. In a sense, it has fragmented the biosphere environment of the participants in the life pattern on the planet form. You would understand this. Many of you live in different areas on the planet form distanced from various other physical activities occurring elsewhere. This is where there has been fragmentation of the original purpose and intention for the planet form and this has in effect disorientated many people away from their original intention and purpose.

Then other ones came in to bring in the original intention and pattern, (bearing in mind that the original intention and pattern has been changed in frequency) so that it continues to be drawn into a sense of higher vibration coming into the cosmic ordered frequency pattern of always expanding and portrayed around your planet system, around your people. What has been created, has been the distorted view that any expansion must overcome or overpower some other aspect of reality, or populations. That again is a distortion from the original intention, so you see there are multiple groups commissioned, in a way, but with one intention of bringing back balance and order in a sense to repair the distortions that have occurred.

So, here you are, presenting yourself always into the correct alignment with your original intention and point of origin which is from cosmic creation source. So you see the importance of what you are doing and the importance of us reminding you to continue that alignment.

You may have noticed it is sometimes needing an effort to remember to connect to the prime source of energy and information, the cosmic intelligent system. Perhaps you need to record it or write it down somewhere to remind you.

This is the effect upon you within the continuation of the lower energetic fields around the planet form and its population to contain the level of expansion of consciousness. You know that you are accessing the higher point and from the higher point of cosmic intelligence, it is not a sense of over-powering anything or fighting against anything. It is simply realizing the presence of balance, of upliftment, and simply put – of the enlightened state of consciousness.

This is the intention always of drawing you into this space. This is all around you, so if you are feeling in this moment that you are surrounded in a field of brightness, this is sufficient for us to realise you have accepted the deliverance in this energy pattern surrounding you.

Our presence with you at this time is complete. We are always here to remind you, to support you, to bring in the cosmic intelligent field more strongly in you and through you. We withdraw now.

Orem out“

Lani speaking again and I am conscious of being present within that field of brightness that Orem described in his closing words. You are encompassed in this brightness, this lightness, in whatever way you would describe that, but do not limit it. It is an expanding field. It is always present and this is what has been presenting you into and now you must present yourself as this glowing bright Being, fully back into your surroundings.

There is always disentanglement from you that occurs in these sessions. Those elements – thought-forms or emotions or some discomfort that no longer exist in the cosmic energy frequency pattern that you are drawing in through you and around you. So, continue doing what you are doing to keep yourself linked in, tuned in, tapped in, to the frequency field of your original point of existence – ongoing. This is the point of your presence.

Take it all into you now, easily and simply by a simple breath and as you let it out, feel you are firmly connected into the Earth space and you are changing your space, your Earth space, your energetic space by continuing to access that cosmic intelligent system.

Thank you for receiving this. This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. As usual, become aware of your surroundings, that everything has been created from a creative idea from source, so when you go back to the original point of creation it changes many things, perhaps it changes your viewpoint, which is the most important aspect, perhaps it is more than that. You will know. You will follow your deep cosmic intelligence, known as your intuition. Focus into the current time again and we will connect next week.
