“We welcome you into this space. Orem addressing you as the representative of the collective consciousness here. There are many, of course, Beings as you know us to be, as we know you to be as a Being of consciousness, a Being of information and a vehicle for the greater intelligent information to come through into a more conscious state of awareness in all your activities.

This is simply refreshing you when you enter this space, refreshing you with the presence of the continuation of the expanding field of consciousness around you. So, as we are participating in this with you, then we are able to envelop you into the clearer state and this entails presenting you into a higher field of vibration and in the field of the frequency pattern which it is, there lies a depth of understanding, of realization, that is necessary for you to make it real into the civilization around you.

There are of course, different pathways and different streams of information that are more appropriate to individuals gathered here with you and as you, so it is entirely your receptivity of what is appropriate which is coming through. Even in this gathering it is coming through from your individual point of origin. This has the frequency pattern that is not able to be replicated in any other way. It is the original information coded pattern that is you, it is your Soul life, it is your individual expression in the levels of consciousness that you function as and through.

The information which comes to you in these sessions is to help you identify yourself as the individual and you access the information that is appropriate for you to present through all the layers of your existence, your thought patterns and emotions.

We have emphasized and brought to your attention that there are often entanglements in those other layers, yet throughout it all is the eternal Soul existence, the pattern necessary for you to present in whichever dimensional world reality that you move into. Your individual world reality in this current time is bringing forward some of the originality that was necessary for you to produce into the current circumstances around Earth and these are always changing. There is always repositioning of levels of information patterns distributed to you through different sources. When you remain connected to the ultimate source – the origination point of you, which is the origination point of creation – then you can ascertain and really see truly what is real, what you resonate with from the depth of the interpretation that your Soul has as it exists within you, the personality Being on Earth.

All this is relevant in the overall expanded field of consciousness as you move into repositioning yourself into the aspects of reality that maintain specific patterns of life essence and particular frequency patterns that you recognize as different worlds. There are many of these linked with you.

We know you are told that Earth may be unique and the only place where life can exist, but that is only life as it is recognized in the biosphere of the planetoid. When you are ready, more will get revealed on a greater scale and it comes through the different vehicles like yourself who can present it to others, you can talk about it. You can show them the realities that exist.

What we do with you is to present the opportunities that are a representation of the potential of you as an individual and the potential of every other individual which, on a high collective

Be Clear. Your individual frequency

Hello. Lani with you again and I welcome you into this gathering, into this space of meeting, into a clear space. So, allow yourself to be clear of daily activities, to clear your mind, relax your body and to be open to travel instantly into the gathering in the Station of Light.

It is this beautiful state of energy field, or consciousness, that makes it easy for you to connect to the higher field of information and energy for you to bring into you and so you are bringing it into the world. It is as simple as that and here we are together, ready to participate in today's unfoldment. Thank you.

consciousness framework – the quantum field – have all the same intention, the base intention, of expanding, of enlightening and of creating civilizations that are working in harmony with cosmic frequencies.

We do indeed have different assemblies of Beings who will be manifesting in different time realities around you all and everywhere in creation as a support system, also as a viewing system to understand the depth of the consciousness that inhabitants have been able to raise themselves up into, into the quantum field of intelligence.

It is similar, in a way, to perhaps wiring a certain station where you might live and there may be adjustments being made continuously because of the changing frequencies which the biosphere of Earth is exposed to from the quantum field. When you are ready, you are able to resonate with those and then your entire energy field system lights up, in your terms. It increases in the frequency field to match the incoming cosmic frequencies and this is also part of the exchange of information such as you are receiving now and it enables the information patterns to come in through the ones who are focused on new ways of facilitating a more compatible system of creation which is compatible with the organic frequencies of the human population and the natural creatures existing in the population within the biosphere.

You will see this is not speaking about mechanisms that have been experimented with to create other types of bodies or creations or food or anything which is separate from the original quantum field of creation that you must continuously harmonize your body with and resonate your body with the quantum field. Ripples of this, streams of this information, is moving outward from you consistently and while what you are aware radiates from you can change, when you consistently attune yourself to the cosmic intelligent systems this changes the frequency of what you are emitting. It is a natural pattern of your energy field and you will recognize that your energy field can be measured.

Certainly, you would understand that your medical instruments can measure frequencies and patterns but there is another frequency also that can be picked up on a different type of device. This way of perception is naturally worked with, with some of the individual Beings who have carried forward that ability of seeing, measuring and sensing what is occurring generally in the pattern on the Earth or specifically around individuals and we remind you of this because many of you have this ability or potential to observe. When you observe into energy fields it is also naturally presented into gatherings such as this in the higher collective consciousness field and therefore adjustments can be made or perhaps the concerns that you may feel arising from which you sense, see, feel in some way, the disturbance around you is cleared so that you do not resonate with or attract any more of any disturbance.

Be clear. Let your energy field be clear and this is the clear message to you in the energy field you are presently immersed within here. This is easily engaged in your conscious fields of information because it has come in from a very clear pattern of energy around you. A clear space. Everything you think about as drawing on the quantum intelligent field to clear your space assists you to modify your frequency so you resonate clearly with your original quantumness and you bring that into all your faculties of your life existence and you will find as a result of this that some of the underlying reactions you have had which disturb your true energy flow, they will be diminishing because you are accessing the higher potential your Soul brings in and functions as. This is very instrumental for you as you finely attune yourself to the quantum frequencies.

Take all of this into you. We withdraw now.

*Orem out

This is Lani speaking again and once again I give my thanks and appreciation to the cosmic intelligent field and Orem presenting this to us.

We drew this around us at this time, so evidently there are aspects of this session that you had been needing to receive, perhaps to understand something on a different, deeper level. Whatever feels right, of course, is what you needed to receive and then it puts the rightness into every aspect of you through all your time-frame here on this life pattern.

This was our session today and it is now appropriate for you to bring yourself back around and within your physical body – many layers of it. Perhaps you will feel the clearness of it. It may feel stronger all around you and through you. I find that to be exciting as I realise this myself.

Thanks again for being with me as we continue to bring in this energy and information and it stays in the consciousness field. It is able to be received and perhaps it helps some evolvment and if you are like me, every time you listen to the sessions you receive more – I receive more in the energy field and understanding and it shifts patterns. It is an interesting process that we have engaged ourselves within.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. Again, make sure you are fully consciously present. Feel alive with it. It is beautiful in its brilliance. Thank you.
