"We are stationed in this dimensional existence and we observe Earth and we observe you and we are part of the quantum field of consciousness, indeed. I am known as Orem and I am familiar with this way of communicating with you, using the consciousness field and the vessel of this person to communicate with you in the many ways that have evolved recently or in the last few decades to make this deliverance available to you.

You of course are not new to this consciousness field. You have felt a connection and a drawing into the higher field of intelligence – of Source intelligence – and you have found many pathways to follow. It is simply a reconnection to your pure intention, the intention of your Soul, your life essence and because we are here in support, we are making this facility available to you to assist you.

Every time you enter this space it is a frequency field that you enter and this frequency field is naturally making adjustments to clarify energy and information around you and through you. It also assists the clarification and the restoration of the quantum energy field – the matrix of life – around the planetoid and around various other dimensional galaxies and presences, presentations of different various forms of life.

You are in the interesting position now, you might find it to be, with changes occurring. More people are rising up out of a denser layer that has existed and had been developing in an underneath layer and yet here you are.

You are aware of this, you are aware of being able to connect to a higher pure intelligence field. This is what you are doing. So, in your daily presentation in your daily existence you are accessing a higher field of cosmic intelligence. Remember this always. Align yourself with that cosmic intelligent field which is so familiar to the true essence of you and this brings in the appropriate actions for you to think about or to take or to manifest in some way, simply to keep your existence stabilized as if you were within an energy field over you, around you. You might sense that to be perhaps like a sphere, a dome or a large column that you stand separate in many ways from other people who are functioning at a lower level of energy frequency pattern, until they become aware that is what they are doing and that there are ways to free themselves from those patterns and align with the greater intelligence field. Meanwhile, you are existing in the clear space.

The purpose of the presentation today is to completely enfold you in this clear space and state of energy patterns and frequencies

There are multiple adjustments occurring around you and through because in this sequence of events, and it is a sequence of you might say intergalactic cosmic patterns coming together in a conjunction, then this is what you are feeling. Many of you may have been feeling disturbances in your electrical system. This gives rise to emotional conditions or thought patterns that you realise are not your happy state of existence. This may explain to you some of the symptoms of disturbance you have been feeling. This is why you have been brought into this presentation today to receive the stabilized energy field which in turn is stabilizing the energy field and flows and patterns all throughout you as we recognize you as the physicality and yet you are more than simply a physical structure. On an energetic level and on the higher life force essence of you, which is the soul connection, you are readily adapting to the clearness that has come forward to you in this presentation.

In the Dome. Lightning, clearance, release

Hello. Lani with you again, welcoming you into this space and into this state of consciousness together. So, as you relax your body, breathe easily, simply and naturally, come with me simply by linking into the consciousness field that has drawn you into this space.

Together as a group we enter this state of consciousness and it is like a space which can be actualized, or realized, and this is the area we come into identified as the Station of Light. It is many things. It can simply be a state of consciousness, but it is also a very real actualized dimensional existence and it is a Station of Light. In its positioning within our consciousness field now, the Beings who come in, come forward representing a quantum consciousness field of support. It is as simple as that. So, here you are, presenting yourself into this field of support and energy and information will come forward to you, to me, to all of us. Just relax and be curious. Thank you.

So, the necessity of this had drawn you into this space because you had been seeking and drawing upon the supporting cosmic field all around you that we have explained is always present around you, always has been.

What is required in this conjunction you are experiencing is the distribution of this higher energy pattern all throughout what you would call the memory of your life path, and what you would call the subconscious elements of your life path and as we have explained, you can allow this energy to go all through you, through all the cellular memories and the energy field attachments, going all the way back to before the soul presented itself into the evolving body form. There are different ripples of presentation of that – different levels. You see, the soul does not enter fully as one moment of connection in the developing body form. It comes in, it senses, it makes changes and there is the fluctuation of in and out presentation of it until the time of the actual birth into the atmosphere. This is why we say take in the energy field we are presenting you with here, right back to that time and it fulfills a cycle where the soul originally knew all that was to be required and would have the energy pattern available and receptive to install this energy frequency pattern right throughout your lifetime.

It changes many adjustments or disturbances that you, the person, had experienced in your life cycle. You will feel the lightening, clearance, release from you of many instrumental type experiences that changed the systems within you.

We have referred to you at times as an organic functioning creation or mechanism, but of course you are more than that. Every part of you is alive, is receptive and responds to the corrective patterns coming into you.

This is the presentation for you in this timing, in this intersection and the conjunction point. You have been coming close during several sessions, if we could relate it to the weekly sessions or other sessions you have been receiving that draw you back into reconnecting with the pure element of creation of you, the original source pattern.

You may also sense the changes this will be presenting in an ongoing way throughout the civilization around the planet currently. From this moment you are clear, in a very clear pattern of creationism with the original intention of creation, of the origin of all life and from this moment you are restarting your life. In many ways you are restarting many of the basic functions of the body form.

You may feel you have come up to a higher platform and you are viewing your life and you are making adjustments. You are sensing where changes can be made in accordance with this higher energetic field you have entered and you are drawing this into you. You are bringing this into you in many ways, in many functions in the way you function within and through and as the body form and as the activities the body form engages in the life pattern. We remind you, you are supported in this. You are part of this support system because we are all of the creative source pattern, in the many ways you view what is happening. It comes back to you drawing in the frequency patterns that are clearing you and bringing you into the presence of the soul and the initiation and activation of the correct, the right pattern for you and for all of your life. Surround yourself in this, just as we explained that you are in this sphere or energy field unique for you and recognized by us because of the frequency that you are.

This is presented to you in this session.

*Orem out**

Lani again with you and I have the feeling that the beautiful Being known as Ulea with her softness and a different type of support in this consciousness field is with me. Together we are helping you to absorb what you have access in this presentation, absorbing it very deeply within your energy field and therefore you are immersed in the energy field all around where you are currently physically situated. The physicality, the locality and the extended consciousness field of that.

I am sure you will notice a shift in your, a difference, balancing or clearing in some way, so let me know what you feel. Give yourself some time to absorb it all. There are different layers in every presentation and you absorb the different layers, the different energy fields which are all part of one energy field. We don't need to complicate it. It is simply the area that you access and allow your body to assimilate and work with, your beautiful body mind intelligent system.

Thanks for receiving this and being here and this ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal. So, from Ulea and Orem and myself, do make sure you are fully consciously present to enjoy this frequency you have received.

Thank you.
