Where are you Stationed?

Prime frequency field

Hello again, Lani speaking and I gather you into this space. Wherever you are, you meet within this group consciousness space as you tune into this session.

As you relax your body and be curious as to what you will receive today, allow yourself to shift your conscious sense of self into the receiving space where we gather in the Station of Light.

Here you are, receiving as your very expanded conscious body of light. The quantumness of you present. This is how we begin today.

“Welcome. Orem addressing you in this space and we see the various levels of your awareness as you are presented here. Yes, indeed, the multi levels of consciousness as you know them, or the different fields that you focus within and in your daily journeys through a day as you measure it, you move into various different fields of consciousness.

In this space with us, we assess the fields of consciousness that you bring in with you because the fields of consciousness you have moved within and through experiences, will have a residual imprint in them. This is how we gather information from you, because you are presenting it, you are presenting yourself and everything that you know about yourself, as a conscious field of information.

As you move deeply into receiving the energy field of the Station here, you are naturally delivering what you know and experienced and sensed in the multi layers of your fields and, at the same, time you are replenished, you are revitalized within the cosmic frequency pattern here and we have referred this to you previously as the prime source of energy and information. In this field of course, you naturally replenish yourself. You are of course a conscious aware Being who chose to settle within the framework you recognize as the planet's lifeform in the current period of time.

You entered within a sense of containment and you allowed yourself to be entrained in the energy fields of the civilization.

As you became more aware as your field of awareness expanded again to reconnect to the prime consciousness field, then you became aware that you are not limited to the so-called constraints of the civilization.

As you move into this energy field where we are gathered together you are open to the greater fields of consciousness and this is part of the revitalizing of your systems and your potential and you might say the knowledge that you have gathered in the various experiences you have had throughout many different systems of life. Therefore, you are accessing the quantum field of all creation above everything and so you are able to bring that overview and the way that you access that prime quantum energy field all around your individual energy field and thus it is moving deeply within the pattern of the construct of your lifeform.

Where is your lifeform stationed – and here we address those of you stationed on the Earth planet lifeform – so, where are you stationed? You are stationed within the lifeform but your quantum field is bringing in the prime creative conscious field into your precise locality.

You might feel that perhaps you might be in the centre of a large body of water. Your consciousness field will ripple out through the layers of the energy fields, or the consciousness fields, in the frequency pattern that naturally goes out into all of life around the entire planet lifeform, into the various layers which are consciousness fields. They are not separate fields, remember, they flow and you are aware of the energy field because of the frequency that you feel. You would feel the frequency, the lifeform of water. You would feel the frequency of the lifeforms you recognise as plants or animals or creatures. You would be aware of that and yet you would also be aware primarily of your prime source of energy and information. Remember that so that you do not get lost in other frequency fields of existences. You are primarily focused as the humanoid lifeform currently and yet you have access to the cosmic intelligent field.

In bringing this to you in this way in this current gathering, you will be more aware of the fields of frequency around your individual presence. It is in those fields around you that the images, the concepts, the experiences, continue to exist until you reach the place of full connection to your original quantum consciousness where you are able to clear away patterns that are no longer useful for you. In a sense they are naturally drawn from you because when you are fully connected to your prime source of creation it is a natural effect that you would call cleansing.

The frequency fields around you are important for you to realise and for you to access the prime frequency field of creation.

You have many opportunities when you are aware of disturbances anywhere around the planet lifeform to lift yourself into connect fully to the prime source of creation. Remember, that has in your words, a gravitational effect of raising the energy fields of the lower disturbances up into the prime creative field of quantum intelligence and so it tells the other energy fields the precise energy information that is needed and so that is the way that it is internalised into the frequency fields around people, around countries. It is all about raising the consciousness field of all.

Enjoy the sensation you may be experiencing as you realise this and you make it real within your own consciousness field – the frequency field all around you. Another way of recognizing what we are speaking to you about, is that you are within a frequency field as if it is likened to a clear bubble, a clear sphere, of energy around you and you can be transported within that energy field to view different areas within the quantum consciousness field of creation.

You can be accessing the energy information field. You might have many questions and you may be receiving the answers in this field around you that we have just described as a transportational field of energy around you.

It can transport you from a disturbing energy field in the locality where you are into a stable field of consciousness, of the quantum intelligent field where you will receive insights, oversights, information, data. You gather cosmic intelligence as you do that. Is this what you have been needing? Is this what you been knowing you have needed some deeper understanding and the answers to resolve some pattern that might be in layers of thought around you? It is another way that you realise the quantum intelligence of your own individual system for creation.

We have come to this point in the deliverances where you realise you are fully accessing the true energy life that you bring into your lifeform, your physicality, and the area of life, the pattern of life that you exist within, within the entire planet lifeform. Enjoy this as you allow it all to enter within you and around you.

This is the energy presentation for you in this session. We withdraw now.

Orem out“

Lani speaking again. Thank you, Orem, for this expanded viewpoint again, the upliftment and it is interesting the way it is presented. I feel it goes back from the present moment, back through the timeline of us, as this particular Being, and deeper within the consciousness field before we, the conscious Being, entered the lifeform.

We have been shown we can access the quantum field of consciousness. The word that comes to my mind is bio-engineering, as we would think about or hear it in our news items, if you listen to news. Bio-engineering, and yet this is the cosmic intelligent system that perhaps on Earth we would call such a system as an engineering design. It is interesting when we look into some of the words we use to describe certain activities on Earth without seeing the full potential and the higher field, the frequency, behind the intention. This session has brought a lot of information into our awareness again.

This perhaps might be confirming thoughts you have been having lately. It might be something else. Take it all into you now as we go our separate ways again into our current lifeform and stream of life that we are constantly creating. Enjoy your creations and enjoy the supportive quantum intelligent field that will be reshaping creation through you. Intelligently, with your own body intelligent systems.

I love presenting these sessions to you and as this ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal, do make sure that you come back fully present within your beautiful energy field, that sphere of energy, the clear bubble perhaps you might think of it as, all around you. Very strongly presenting the quantum consciousness intelligently in you, through you and around you. Here you are – fully consciously present.
