Omega Communications Portal

The Current of Time Above any filters

Hello. Lani with you opening the Omega Portal for you to enter this space to be with me simply as the person who is going to help you enter the state of consciousness – that aspect of you that is always present, the higher aspect of you, and in this way we simply, easily, find ourselves to be within the higher frequency pattern that we know as the Station of Light.

Even if this is the first session you have received coming through the Omega Communications Portal, it is easy for you to be in that energy field that has been created. We wait here to receive the flow of energy and information that is appropriate for each one of us today. Thank you.

“Orem with you within this energy structure within this formation and the frequency that is around you here,

You will be adjusting to the frequency. The frequency in this space that you are drawn into in this Station is not stationary. It changes. It moves within the flow of frequency of the cosmic frequency, indeed, which is not stationary, it is an expansion always and it has a flowing effect which you would recognize measuring it perhaps as time.

Time is an energy and it has been labelled as time, as a measurement. It is a field that you enter, so you have easily entered this space within this energy frequency pattern.

The purpose of this is so that you, in a sense, refresh yourself because you have stepped consciously away from the energy field of the actual reality of the civilization that has been created and you have freed yourself from that to enter this space of an expanded viewpoint and an expanded energy field.

As you immerse yourself within this, your energy field which of course is your consciousness field, absorbs the frequencies that in one way will be instructing you, as you continue your experience through the current of time – the flowing field frequency that you create experiences within and you allow many of those experiences to drift away from you within the flowingness of time.

This is the introduction to you to view the life experiences perhaps in a different way. All those that are currently around you that you might think are fixed or perhaps are disturbing in some way, they are all part of the fluidness, the flowingness, of the current of time and experience. In this space with us you have that greater viewpoint.

You also are accessing the element that is part of your energetic formation for you to enhance yourself, because it comes from the cosmic inheritance of you. You are an inherent application of a cosmic field of creation. It is an aspect of you that already the essential aspect of you known as Soul is absorbing, is aware of how you have come to be within this gathering and it could have been prompting you and leading you to this conjunction aspect.

Now, again we explain to you that the field of energy that this Station exists in and as, is able to absorb and interpret the energy frequency coming through the solar portal – the sol that you are aware of, that is described, you are aware of it on a daily basis.

There are important aspects of communication that you in your greater cosmic consciousness field are receiving.

In this space gathered here it is easier for you to accept and feel the energy frequency patterns without it being filtered through the layers surrounding the Earth station and the filtration of that can alter many of those pure frequency information patterns that come through the Sun. Some of it gets distorted by what is apparently uploaded into the layers around the Earth sphere.

Whenever you make the conscious choice to connect to the pure elements of creation of the cosmic field, you have stepped beyond any disturbing layer that alters the frequency pattern that you may otherwise be receiving.

It puts you into the clear alignment to receive all that you would be needing and which offers you potential innovative type energy formations to come naturally around you and perhaps through you, if you are in the designer field. Remember also, your higher energy system already knows what is needed and it is already being formed in the energetic frequency field.

Also, what is unique for you will be already being formed, it has already been formed. You would not be able to think of it unless it had already been formed and your consciousness field was interacting with that formation. This is the way that you are creating the reality that you would be designing and desiring for your individuality and therefore those that you interact with in your stream of life experiences.

There is balancing occurring as you are receiving this – we are observing this around you and you have taken into you an amount – measuring again. You have taken in a greater field of information in these few moments of immersion out of time, but in this field, the frequency patterns of it, in our communication with you.

Absorb this. It is what you have drawn to you, so naturally you will allow it to be assimilated, understood and realized in the way that you examine or allow the energy frequency to form into words or actions within your current timeframe and the flow of that within you.

This is the purpose of this gathering in this session.

We withdraw now

Orem out

Lani speaking again as Orem has withdrawn and it is now my turn to be consciously with you again and to draw the focus of your energy field and every aspect of you back into the current time. The flow of that. Again, the emphasis is on the current of time and the energy field that you experience as the flow of time within and around you.

This an energy field unique for you as an individual, but in a general presentation to all the Beings around the planet for whenever they are ready to access the expanded field of frequency surrounding this planet form and throughout all galactic creations.

The focus is always upon you so that you correctly identify the pathway and the presentation of all the quantum energy of the Soul within you and as you.

Therefore, breathe it all into you, breathe yourself back within and around your body form – your lifeform here created to exist within the planet form and the civilisation at present.

You will feel the shift in energy all around you from above your head right down through you to beneath your feet, and here you are – back within the current flow of time.

This ends this presentation through the Omega Communications Portal.

Be fully present as you present yourself again into your surrounding situation and existence as that. Thank you.

Finally, there is a great connection happening – confluence is that the word? When we gather multiple streams of information patterns in together, in a precise alignment, like a confluence of it all together. Perhaps it is a different term, but you will understand what I am saying, the words are a representation of many different threads of information coming together now.

It seems to be an important conjunction point occurring energetically, consciously, now. In other words, it is the right timing for you to receive this.

Thanks. We will meet again next time.
