Star Beings. Inheritance

Before we begin, I want to remind you that if you stop reading this part way through, remember to bring yourself back to the present moment. That is important.

Another session coming to you, enveloping you in an expanded field of consciousness and you are already in that field now that you are reading this. You have chosen to put aside the daily activities and go deeply within the energy system of your self to your core intelligent system and this core intelligent system connects – it is always connected – to the quantum, the cosmic intelligent system. Together as a group we place ourselves within the receiving area of the Station of Light. This is where we connect verbally and perhaps in a visual context to an extended field of consciousness. A reality, an existence, that is real and you are here with us in a vast gathering ready to receive. Thank you.

“Greetings. I am known as Orem and as you enter this space with us you are collectively delivering into this space the aspects of your living existence and the parameters of that and the experiences of that. In a way it is similar to releasing what you had gathered at the point of your entry into your body form and now that you are able to clear those accumulated patterns, you are freer to establish yourself again as the cosmic intelligent being.

In a sense this is verifying who you are by your presence here. Those who are not attuned to the cosmic intelligent systems will not choose to enter a space such as this. A space such as this is offered on a continuous basis and existence throughout all of the composition of what you would say the incarnations into the various civilizations of the planet lifeform and elsewhere in the cosmic existences. For the framework of your individual session in your particular individual lifeform, this is all that is necessary for you to receive.

On another level, the soul existence of you, the pattern of that consciousness, is aware of every aspect of its existence.

For now, your primary focus is to establish the fullness of your cosmic self so that energy field is surrounding you in your current lifeform. Remember also, as we have reminded you elsewhere, that as you do this you are enveloping your life framework for this body lifeform within this cosmic intelligent system.

There is that relationship and inter-activeness with the aspects of you. In this way we are reminding you of perhaps disturbing events, or powerful events, in your current lifeform and you remember them. Now you can remember them from the point of your cosmic intelligent system and be fully present consciously, cosmically, intelligently, infusing the aspect of you that may have been experiencing a disturbance in any way. You are changing the reality because you are changing your perspective of it and you are allowing the information patterns that you experience currently in this gathering to be fully present with you.

There is in this sense, no past indicated in the life-stream, in the energy frequency that is known as the life pattern. It is all now and so now you are consciously, intelligently, presenting yourself all through your lifetime. From this point also you are consciously intelligently creating the suitable life existence in accordance with the quantum intelligent field and the full dimensional coordination of many systems of life. You are doing this currently.

You are fully, consciously, aware of the consequences which might arise if you choose to connect into a life-stream or a powerful outworking on the planet that is in any way a limitation. You do not connect yourself into any such experience because you have now consciously connected into the cosmic intelligent systems.

This is your true inheritance. This is the life structure of creation of the one creation impulse for the experience to move into every creation and you are a creation of the one creativity pattern that is called the life-force, the vitality of you.

It is an openness – an open field you have entered within the cosmic energy structure – that is what we call the energy matrix of consciousness, of the greater, of the one consciousness field.

There is balance, there is harmony, there is co-existence, there is co-creation, there is coordination with all the evolutionary pathways that are collected and are connected entirely with the prime source of creation.

This is the cosmic starfield existence. The cosmic starfield existence has that supportive field of perhaps you could call them Star Beings who will interact with you when you choose to raise your consciousness to source energy frequency. This is all part of your total – the one frequency that is your life system, it is the soul system of you.

We recognize you have been trained, and it is part of the existence in a conscious intelligent system to consider, to evaluate, to think about what is being presented and also to consider what you choose to create – the areas that you choose to move into. When you are consciously connected to your prime intelligence and the frequency for you, you are naturally drawn into the right pattern which includes thinking, it includes emotional response to the thinking and it also includes you connected to your conscious intelligent systems.

Now you begin to see the unnecessary patterns that are a continuation throughout civilization simply because they have not been expanded or uplifted into the prime intelligent system beyond the limitation of perhaps domination or greed in whatever way.

We understand this is simply a reminder to many of you and perhaps you needed to receive this in the patterns of these words – the framework of it and while we deliver the words, you experience the frequency. This frequency is part of the flowingness of your time-scape, your time flowing through your pattern of experience within the lifeform. This flowingness becomes clearer and lighter because of the frequency patterns that you are bringing into your lifeform and the formation of the life as you continue to expand and work within the cosmic intelligence and the intelligence from the core centre of your beingness.

This is what you have drawn around you to receive in this way in this presentation of self into this frequency pattern here. Thus it is.

We withdraw now

*Orem out**

I am Lani speaking to you again and I am still within that great cosmic existence – the intelligence of it here. It is often experienced as we enter this gathering within this Station, that we enter a large sphere of protective energy, although it is not really protection from anything. It is a field that is beautiful, as if we are immersed in a beautiful bubble, filled with everything that you need, and so it was created. It is a support system presented in this way.

All of these thoughts and words perhaps will be flowing through you in the time flow.

Now we come back again to bring all this energy into your timescape, into your lifeform experiencing the flowingness of time – the frequency pattern of it – right from when you are receiving these words, through this entire current lifeform you have and possibly, what we call the future is incorporated in this. It is all interesting. It is all frequency.

This frequency now that is you and your prime frequency from your point of origin is fully present as you and within you. As Orem said – you are the cosmic intelligent Being here, in your life and bringing it into this life pattern on the lifeform of the conscious Being that we recognize as this planet lifeform.

So, here you are – fully consciously present.

Breathe in your presence and every breath you take in and out brings you into the powerful present moment.

Thanks for being here.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

The energy of this session today reminds me of the words I was prompted to use when I was establishing Omega Communications, which are ~

Happiness is the Natural state of You.

And so it is.
