“Welcome. Orem addressing you, and indeed you have entered a deeper, or wider, or stronger energy information field especially for you. One that you have connected with, one which you have created in the flowingness of time in that reality.

So, as you enter this field within what we refer to as the Station of Light, you already have shifted many of the energy systems around you, even around your body of light energy structure you have shifted some energy patterns that you would say are uncertain, which needed clarification or, indeed, clearness in some way.

Initially as you enter this space you do feel freeness because of this shift. This arises because the energy field you enter as you expand and receive all of your energy systems, heightens the energy frequency that is you, known as you, the Being of Light. This enables the freeing up of some of the circuits, perhaps some of those energy connectors that we call the nexus points, all through your energy field and so always when you enter the higher frequency fields of the cosmic intelligent systems there are automatic adjustments occur.

All you need to do is consciously connect to the frequency applicable for you which is of the cosmic frequency design. It is an overall design. It has an intention built into it because of the creative energy structures, the codes, the information sequences.

This is what you are receiving. This is how you become fully connected, fully conscious of the intention for your presence within the energy field of a humanoid body within the planetary system.

Even though you might be stationed on the planetoid known as Earth and known as other names, your presence is noted. Your presence is felt in the resonating energy fields in many other dimensional structures. We call them structures because they exist as fields of energy and from viewpoints they can be witnessed as an energy structure. You are witnessed – observed – as an energy structure.

This is the depth; this is the expansiveness as you accept the full awareness and full consciousness of your energy systems of the soul. This is how you recognize you are present in many other realities known as other galactic systems. You have entered the cosmic infinite presentation of conscious life systems.

This automatically makes adjustments wherever you are present, consciously. Being consciously present as the human being with a name label that you have, you are assisting a process of change, a process of eliminating disturbances, a process of enhancing the matrix of life patterns, the principles, of life and this is what matters to you, is it not. This is the matter that can be considered as the idealism that many of you have. That arises from the knowingness that the pure soul connection has of the prime intention for life.

In your upbringing in the conditioning of the human intelligence, you may feel often limited and labelled perhaps as an idealistic person, as a person who is a dreamer. Dreams manifest in accordance with the energy frequency which you resonate with and which you are bringing in through the conscious intelligent system of your humanoid life pattern connecting and working in harmony with the soul presence of creation.

Idealistic energy intention Present everywhere. Shine

Hello again. As Lani speaking to you as a Being of Light, I think of you as shining Light Beings – brilliant in your connection to your true self.

As we gather together, let's celebrate ourselves with everything we have been achieving and move together as a group to assemble in the receiving area of the Station of Light.

Here we are – ready to begin.

You see, we give pause between words as you listen to this, for the energy intention to be received by you. You receive them individually – the energy intentions and the frequencies – you receive them individually in the capacity you have in accordance with your senses which are existing and moving throughout you and around you. It is a constant living energetic field that you exist in and as.

As you bring this into your current life pattern and existence, you already, in this moment, are offering the potential for change. So, the change comes from, naturally, within you and as you and of you.

You have a saying we are aware of “shine yourself, shine your little light self” and yet we say this is not little. Shining yourself, or allowing your true soul self to shine, is not little. In this session this has expanded as you have opened to receive the cosmic intelligent frequencies available here. You know this. You experience this. This is why you entered this state in this presentation.

This was the purpose. We withdraw now.

Orem out

Lani speaking and thank you, Orem.

I am aware of a conscious, intelligent field surrounding us. Within that field I have the understanding and I see the appearance of many other Beings structurally, energetically, present.

You may often feel these around you in your daily life existence, when you raise your frequency pattern, when that part of you is open to that deeper cosmic intelligence frequency. This is why it is apparent in this session, reminding you. Reminding you to open, to be receptive to that, working with it, working with that field – the cosmic intelligent field.

You are realising this, I know, I see.

Bring this now back into the time stream of your locality, your location, where you have chosen to be and you have allowed yourself to receive the ongoing energy information systems.

Breathe in naturally, and as you breathe out, bring your awareness fully back through you, through the centre of your true self into the present moment, within the flowingness of time. Here you are – fully present. Enjoy this sense of exhilaration and perhaps acceleration, an increase in your capacity of this soul presence.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

Do please share this message and Omega Communications everywhere that you can to spread the energy in the many ways that you link in with many people. Thank you.

Lani
