Omega Communications Portal

Intelligent Design. Natural Systems

I am Lani opening the Omega Group Portal - Omega Communications.

Again, today we come together to expand into that greater field that exists all around us. If you extend your awareness from within your deep self – your true essence – if you extend your awareness out to your outer field and then extend it out beyond the country where you are and then extend it out beyond the planet where we are and into the greater existence, that is the quantum field that is all around you at any given time experience.

So, this is the way we are coming together today, as this expanded consciousness field and we focus within the gathering space within the Station of Light. It is a wonderful station and state of light to be within to begin this session today.

“We greet you in love, in light, in acceptance, in oneness within this greater field and we are helping you to experience this extra-ordinary field. Extra-ordinary to perhaps what you think you are living within, within the parameters of your present life experience within the physicality unit.

It is always more and we always bring you to focus deeper within the ultimate consciousness field that you contact. This rearranges aspects of your thought patterns. It rearranges aspects of the energy systems and pathways within you and throughout you and the rearrangement is all about opening to connect to the greater quantum field.

This has ongoing effects, very subtle affects you might think for some people and for other people it allows the creators to access that energy field because you are bringing it in closer into the consciousness field that other people are connecting in with. It is that creative matrix field of everything. Remember you are part of this.

You may think you do not know how to create anything, you have never created anything, but you have not viewed your lifetime in the correct way. Viewing it from an overview you see what you are constantly creating around you. This is why we call on you to focus within the higher consciousness creative field – that cosmic intelligence.

There is the expanded network – that framework you become aware of – that is presented to you through perhaps science studies which indicate that there are patterns of life all around you, unseen by you. Some of these your attention is drawn to gatherings of ones from distant star systems. Some of them are simply patterns of ancestors around you. It is only significant as you relate it to your own timeline experience within the flowingness of time and what is important for you to realise.

Many of the important things for you to realise are there for you to understand they were representations and were not to be continually stuck within your thought patterns and mind and your energy system throughout you.

You are designed to be clearly flowing with the cosmic intelligent system above what has been forcibly created on the living existence. As more becomes realised and revealed within patterns of the earth structure, then you realise there is an ongoing system of presentation of life force within all systems of life, all you would say decades or civilisations.

There is one stream of intelligent system of life presented in many different ways. Here you are being present and consciously being present as a representative and an activator of the cosmic intelligent system. This is the way there is a natural correction of imbalances that has occurred through improper creation stories. There are stories upon stories. These are woven into the civilisations that are passed on through word of mouth and written stories etc. so, every time you connect back to the prime source of creation – Your prime source of creation – you are expanding back into receiving the fulness which is correct for you.

Focusing upon you, there are often misconceptions that had arisen in your lifetime which gave rise to misinformation patterns which gave rise to a different formation within your cellular patterns or codes and therefore perhaps affecting you in some way, whether you see this as physically, emotionally or mentally, simply being constricted in some way. Again when you access that quantum intelligent field of the original design, you are bringing into you the energy systems which will activate the natural regeneration, natural repair systems. This goes on in a natural process when you allow that to be within you as an individual unit and it reflects out through you into the timeline experience of the civilization.

We tell you again – you are important in the presentation of the cosmic intelligent frequency.

It is not yours to present individually through your thought patterns simply because the thought patterns are still immersed within the previous layers of construction. So, you want to be focused always within the prime source code of everything – that prime quantum intelligence.

We continue to reiterate this to you simply every time we do it, it is activating more which needs to be activated within your consciousness.

Remember, we are supporting you, we are upholding you in the true creation story. We focus on this. We do not focus on what has been. We focus on the original and in a way it is like a new pattern coming in through the solar system, solar portal. Flows and flows of energy coming in touching everybody because the light field coming in through the solar portal is always present. Even in those times when you think the sun is not visible to you, the energy is still flowing in through the consciousness matrix field surrounding the entire planet sphere.

It is all one system being enlivened, being uplifted, being correctly placed, correctly guided just as you are being guided with the cosmic intelligent system. This is what you came into receive at this time. Did you feel you were out of synchronization with the true guidance system?

Remember it is an intelligent system, not what has been created, technically created. This is the cosmic plasmic creation field that exists everywhere. It always has, throughout all creation and more and more there are signs of this being revealed in what you say previous civilisations.

Focus on the present. You are fully present. You are the presentation now, the presentation system of the quantum intelligent field. The pure essence of that.

Speaking these words to you in these ways you recognise this within you and as you.

Therefore, our presentation in this gathering is complete for you.

As Orem, we withdraw now as the collective consciousness field around you in this living station.”

Acknowledged.

Lani speaking again to you. I feel expanded already in the aspect of me that was receiving this energy, in that sense that I was able to bring it through as words. The words were just representing the energy that was flowing to you and around you and through you. It is a beautiful system, this quantum intelligent system that is the vital life force of us all.

I know you will appreciate this. I know you will experience this and bring it into you completely as we conclude this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

Here you are – fully present again – the cosmic intelligent presence in this Earth space time reality that you are creating.

Thank you.

Lani
