Deeply connecting. Shifting. Your Design. What is required?

Lani with you again, or greeting you as a person who has recently found these sessions. It is all a lovely way to gather together with other like-minded beings / souls present here on Earth, using the physical body to bring in light energy information.

As we connect together as a group, put aside your thoughts and everything that you may have been feeling about your life or world events and connect with your true self – your central soul quasmic intelligence. It is this aspect of you, this consciousness, that gathers with us in the area labelled the Station of Light. It is a different dimensional frequency pattern that exists, just as you exist as a frequency pattern that is consciousness.

This is how we begin this session today.

“You have entered this field named the collective consciousness to help you identify that it is that field around you that surrounds you that you are very familiar with. This is the supportive field and this one speaking represents the collective consciousness.

We go beyond definitions and name labels and we help you to open to expand into this greater field of consciousness labelled the quasmic energy field of consciousness. It is all about bringing you into that collective state of existence from which creation arises and continues to unfold, so as you connect into the quasmic intelligent field, you are intelligently creating life around you from your central soul position.

Your central soul position – the one consciousness that you are – is of the quasmic intelligent creative field – the origination space. As you gather all that realization into you, then it expands out and out through your environment of your livingness – the capacity that you have to love your life, to enjoy what you are existing as and what you continue to create.

We have always guided you to connect with your prime intelligent source. Therefore, what you are creating, what you are revealing around you, is the prime creative intelligence of the collective field of creation.

This simply is to assist you to recognize the expanded field of creation that is always around you and is available for you. It sustains you. It supports you. It does not contain you or limit you. It expands you into a higher energetic field process.

From that higher energetic field which you enter as you move more deeply into that collective consciousness field, then you find there is, generally called, upliftment and new civilizations appearing that are part of the collective consciousness in the original design pattern. From that original design pattern you tap into the full potential that is your collective intelligence.

In this way you are changing formations that are being created. You can apply this to simply your own living vehicle or you can apply it to the entire planet station that you exist within and as in its consciousness field. It is a combination of the quasmic intelligent creative field existing everywhere throughout all creation.

Everything that is a creation is of the collective consciousness field initially and as you more deeply resonate with the deepness of that and from the deepness of your soul connection then you see the potential, the possible creations to come forward. This might be an ideal situation. The fulness that you could create that is perfection and wholeness working as a great community creating more and more beauty to sustain the beauty already existing that is the planet's consciousness field as a representation, as a creation, of the prime intelligent creation field.

When you focus into this collective consciousness field, shifting takes place. A shifting in your awareness, a shifting in your attitude, a shifting in connections you may have with people, shifting connections you may have with places. You become more strongly identifying with the prime collective consciousness. This is the quasmic field that exists and it exists where you are because you exist. Your consciousness, your soul presence, has come in to continue the formation and creation and sustaining of the creation of what you consider you are and your life.

There are areas, spheres of existence, that are not completely connected into the quasmic intelligent field. There is choice and free will. Being here receiving this information through the quantumness of your self indicates your choice and where you have placed yourself and how you are continuing an unfoldment – perhaps you could call it betterment, improvement in every way.

Initially of course you improve yourself and the containing vessel, the body, firstly with the intention of improvement and as you perhaps query how do you do that, what is required ~ what is required is that you connect consciously with the cosmic intelligent field of the creative life force that you individualize. In individualizing the aspect of you that has been created out of the quasmic consciousness field, then you are bringing in that particle of that field right into you and you are establishing that newness, the vitality, the brilliance of the new creation and this is your story that you are unfolding. The story of creation existing in you and through you and around and through the consciousness of the planet. It is a continuation of the collectiveness.

Perhaps this was something you were needing to understand and consider. Perhaps it has answered a question you have. Questioning and focusing your question within the cosmic intelligent field always provides the creative, the pure, response.

It is part of the design principles of life. Your design. You are designing and redesigning your life pattern in accordance with the original quasmic formaton for unfolding expanding beautiful life.

You will understand that we are presenting these sessions to you in words that you can understand and resonate with them, can resonate with the intention of them. Then it goes beyond words. You simply exist in the collective field of consciousness that is a total support system in every way.

You are accessing the total support system. We see you understand this and this was the deliverance today.”

Lani present again with you and I am experiencing that field of connection. I see it as one of those beautiful fine intersecting mesh energy systems all around us. Around us as a group, around us as the planet, around us individually. Its that – what they call the energetic matrix of creation. it is beautiful and it is alive and it is living and it is expanding more deeply into that prime intelligent field of creation. This is all around you.

This is what you bring back around you and through you to your physical body, the physicality that we exist as and how we move around the environment of this planet.

Make sure you enjoy this in some way, enjoying yourself in some way today and every day.

Thank you for being here receiving this and this ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

Feel the clearness around you from this session.

Thank you.

Lani
