“In this field of collective consciousness that you have opened to within this state of light, you may recognize various individual beings that you may have linked with. There are named ones. There are those of us who are simply the field that embraces all conscious life and this is what you are. You have embraced all conscious life.

You appear perhaps in your present state of conscious life as a specific individual and yet accompanying you are various other states of your existence, given different name labels and titles.

This is why we prefer not to focus your attention on one particular individual of the quantum field of collective consciousness. This field is a frequency that you resonate with and it continues to enliven, clear and awaken various areas of your own individual consciousness. Some areas of your individual consciousness remain closed - perhaps not fully open to the quasmic intelligent field.

This is not a fault. This is simply an aspect of you moving into states of consciousness where you remember and you draw in the members of all of the quasmic awareness of your initiation as an energy being to come into a specific civilization. In such way you were particularly designed to enter such civilization in different stream flows within the environment and within the consciousness of the environment of the situation and because of your design and intention, you are able to bring in the specific energy frequency that allows a shift to occur.

This shift initially must occur within your own energy field.

So, every time you enter this field of light – this quasmic intelligent field here, you are opening more and you are embracing more of your natural membership, if you like to use those terms, your memory of your original intention to bring in the higher quasmic field in and through your intelligent system of your presentation of the body system.

This may seem convoluted, but it is simple. We are here to help you remember all of the situation that you need to remember to initiate the awakening, the upliftment and, in particular, the clearance of your individual energy field. Thus, you are enabling yourself to be that quasmic frequency and present that quasmic frequency in and through your life pattern.

Indeed, we refer to your entire life pattern. This is the necessity – one of the points that you need to remember so as you continue your expansion through your journey of experiences, then you remember more because you are opening more to the quasmic field of your own intelligent system.

You become a central point of focus. You become a channel for the quasmic field of the original intelligent design to enter the specific environment within the specific - should you say, the years, the presentation - of the life cycle of the planetary consciousness which itself goes through stages and states of shift into a more expansive, a more brilliant life form.

Because you are shifting into states of a more brilliant life form then this will help you remember how to utilize the frequency in such a natural way that you simply do nothing except you remain in the central position of your connection to the quasmic field and that is the intelligent design system of all creation.

Shifting. Brilliant Lifeform The way of words

Hello, Lani with you again. Every time you read a session you may receive, sense, something different, perhaps in a different way.

Let us gather again in our deep states of consciousness in our true essence and be together in the Station of Light – state of Light – a different frequency.

Already you will have noticed the shift in your own frequency when we simply connect in using the phrase of connecting into the pure streams of consciousness.

This is how we begin today.

There have been many fundamental pathways that have been presented over many generations, perhaps even in the presentation of intelligent life forms which were beginning to use a spoken language, which also was a new aspect of the expansion of consciousness. Previously you all came from a point of creative intelligence which was connected in consciousness, so many generations and cosmic intrusions into life patterns did not require verbal language. Now you have come back to using language in specific tones, specific frequencies, specific ways of presenting the frequencies that words are and the patterns that words represent. It is important to think about the words that you use, the impact they have upon yourself and others, and what is presented through the use of words.

This was a simple explanation of how consciousness expands, and expands and expands and you are utilizing more of the quasmic perception of yourself and others where you pick up the intention through the words and through the presence of particular people, beings, creatures representing a pattern that you move into or you carry a specific pattern to wherever you move to in your daily activities.

Come back always to the core energy centre and focus of self, which is a quasmic intelligent aspect of creation and the intelligent design.

Everything that we bring to you is a sequence of the intelligent design helping you to remember and to shift into the prime connection for self, so that your core energy self is constantly in connection with the prime intelligent system and you recognize when you need to come back into that strong reconnection.

Thus you are amplifying your core energy presence, the vitality of all the systems of the vehicle that you might call a physical vehicle, your physical body, but it is simply a physicality system including the locality and including the items and the processes which are energy sequences and these arose of course from the original quasmic design.

This has been a presentation to you of many segments to help you understand and to realise why you are where you are and to realise also the aspects that you had accepted around your energy field that may have been affecting you which were not yours to experience any more. You are here to experience the fulness of the quasmic design for you.

This could be relieving you of any symptoms which simply were there to remind you to become clear. This will all become clear to you as you consider the energy information contained between the words and with the words that are utilized in your present state of existence.

That is all at this time.”

Lani here again. Even as I speak I am bringing in the energy system that was presented to us. It is almost like looking at a holographic image of the progression of life here on this planet system.

It is very interesting the way it is presented and there are always certain phrases or an element of the energy that you as an individual recognize and accept and other parts you will not even hear.

So, enjoy the presentation of this, allowing the presentation to be presented into you individually by your higher field of consciousness – your quasmic intelligence.

This is how I recognize you – as a Quasmic Intelligent Being here, thank you.

Bring your attention back now into the life pattern that you are creating and this ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.
