Are you ready? This is how we being today's session.

"We are with you in this collective consciousness Gathering of Light Beings and as you more strongly connecting into this field, there are various others attracted into the field from different dimensions – a higher frequency level – who observe what is occurring for you as an individual, but also around the collective consciousness of this planetary system and in particular this planetary consciousness known as Earth.

There are specific threads or frequencies that you each are representing simply by being your true self and as a result whatever is needed there will be the corresponding or resonating field brought into this situation where you are here and whatever situation you may be experiencing in your dally livingness. There is the automatic attraction, an automatic response, to the energy that you are emanating, putting out or requesting for some support in whatever way.

There are many unconscious acts of course that you present into the collective consciousness field and so some of the energy which comes in may not be consciously registered in your body mind intelligent system. However, in the overall dimension of the energy field that you exist in and as, everything is acknowledged and registered and it is there, waiting for the connection to be made so that you integrate the field that is accurate and which is ready to be active within you.

This is another part of your existence and your training and your desire and your presentation into your physical body form. There are these revelations of further functions that you are naturally presenting and being and undertaking in your life patterns.

These are a natural component of the greater collective field of consciousness.

These moments when you gather together in the Gathering of Light Beings such as this, you are replenishing many of the stores, or many of the aspects of the energy you have accumulated and you have used. It is a replenishment time, a refreshment time and of course, a reminder is always included in these sessions, reminding you to be the greatest field of light system from the quasmic intelligent system present in the body.

We do come through and remind you of this as a continuation of the information gathering that you do. You may hear similar information presented in a different way, from other speakers, other presenters, and whatever is appropriate for you, you naturally respond to the frequency pattern. It depends on your individual frequency as to what you will receive, hear, what you entangle yourself within, what you have a passion about in your livingness. Some of the passions people follow and have are separated, in a sense, from the overall betterment and upliftment process and the evolvment of you all.

Focusing back on you and your individual evolvment now, there are further openings that have come in simply since you have been receiving this information presence and the present of the information to you. In a sense you have given yourself the moment to reconnect fully and reconnecting fully means that you have necessarily emptied out your own judgments and thoughts to allow yourself to fully be present and receiving the information presently presented to you.

It is important for you to understand this.

Replenishment. Designed for this Life-span.
Fully Present. Light Stations beyond Earth.

I am Lani presenting these sessions and here you are ready to participate again in the collective consciousness field. Already you are understanding that it is your true essence of you, the light body, your soul essence which gathers into these sessions, you do this much more easily than having to travel physically and meet up in a particular room. In this way we gather as a collective and we are shifting into the gathering of the collective conscious Beings and we meet together in the assembly area which is the Station of Light. In this context, the Station of Light is an assembly point for us to meet in and to communicate with the Beings of the collective consciousness field from whatever dimension exists. What is appropriate will come through.

Now, moving into further dimensional activities, we remind you there are various, shall we say outposts, or stations of light, in various other centres beyond Earth planet itself.

Some of these are becoming more visible and identified as other star systems, or a distant planet. It is all in respect and in response to how you are viewing the quasmic intelligent system of creation.

The more that you embrace yourself within that field and you embrace it around you and in you, then there comes supportive evidence, supportive illustrations and indications of further intelligent systems of consciousness. It is all about consciousness, livingness, creativeness, from the one source of creative intelligent design.

You are designed to interpret this and designed to live as this quasmic intelligent design in every aspect of you. In observing you in this presentation, your individual energy field, which is your frequency pattern, has shifted. Whatever you have accepted and responded to and that which has been activated in this deliverance, enables you to move further into an expanded field in the consciousness state – the quasmic intelligent consciousness. Again, you are living this, you are being this in your entire life span.

We have spoken about the entire life span previously, where there is no limitation on your life span in the current body form you have. The body form, as it engages the energy structure of consciousness, then it shifts the frequency pattern and the pattern of experiences of the timeline that you exist as. It is a continuation and you will see the continuation being active as you and as you become more active in the quasmic intelligent field and its design.

This is the basic teaching, of course, the basic understanding for you to realise.

Following from that there are many who go out and they are what you call your inventors and creators using the consciousness field to create a more ideal pathway or passage in the expansion of the planetary consciousness field and its movement in the quasmic creative field.

It is unfolding. You are unfolding yourself, receiving the activities necessary from the prime source code.

You may follow others who are talking about travelling further into space or moving more deeply into creating false images of the body. Maintain your integrity, the strength, of your personal energy field in the quasmic field, so you do not become contaminated by anything else.

This was the energy system for you in this session. You may be responding to the extended field of your consciousness, and so this was the achievement and the purpose of this session. You have become this.”

Lani again bringing this expanded field back around me, so that like you, I am feeling I am me, I am that, within the centre of this expanded quasmic field.

This is another interesting expansion.

I trust it is adding to your sense of being strongly present within the strengthening field that you immerse yourself within during the connection time.

Be fully present again as this Being of Light and this ends this session of the Omega Communications through this Portal.
