“Speaking as the Collective Consciousness, you are here because you resonate with the energy field. You remember and these communications together are assisting you to remain in that state of remembrance and connection always to your quantum consciousness field.

Even in these few words you have made a stronger connection and as such, you embrace many worlds that you have existed in, many spaces you have existed in, within and throughout your current life stream and therefore you are leaving an imprint of the quasmic consciousness field wherever you have been and with whoever – which ever person or collection or groups of people – you are leaving an imprint of the quasmic consciousness field. Have you realised that?

You do not need to judge yourself. Perhaps you may think “oh yes, but I have only recently become aware of this that I am” – but right from the moment of the entry of the soul energy system into the formation of the body form, you were fully present and so that energy has remained wherever your pathways and your life experiences have been present because your quasmic consciousness has been present.

Regardless of how you consider time to be, this is the moment of realization and coming together of this quasmic field that you are resonating with in this moment in this presence and so your presence is automatically raising the frequency of your entire life system.

This is a continuation of the previous gathering where we communicated with you about the importance of connecting to the quasmic consciousness that you are and you are presenting this into all-time experience. Experience throughout time. Experience within this framework that you recognize as the planet. Within the experience of the framework of multiple dimensions. You are the centre of your particular world because you are resonating with, you are allowing the cosmic consciousness of you, to be fully present.

We continue to remind you because we are aware of the distractions that will lower your frequency pattern again into perhaps something you have physically experienced. Some change. Some disorder. Some disfunction. So, again, take this opportunity of opening yourself to receive the fullness of your quantum consciousness which conveys everything to you, which brings everything to you to restore the enlivenment and the vitality in every way.

This means you do not consciously engage yourself in the outer world experiences. This means that your inner world, your inner space, your inner quantumness remains in a state of excitement and continual expansion into enlivening the dimension in which you exist and in turn that is lifting the dimensional frequency that you exist as into the greater, more exciting energy frequency. We do not mean the excitement of doing something radical. This is the excitement of knowing that this is the direct connection to the quasmic energy field and it is all about raising the frequency – bringing things into order in accordance with the design which was an intelligent sense of order for the original design pattern.

The Nexus. Momentous time.
Your quasmic presence

Hello, Lani with you again for another transmission, love, light and energy for you, from yourself as you receive the energy and information, the quasmic field that surrounds you and that you naturally are drawn to.

So, as you take all this into you, it is easy to move with me, through my voice, as a group together, receiving in that greater quasmic collective field known as the Station of Light. It is your state of light that you are familiar with, that you move into, to receive.

This is how we begin this session today with the collective consciousness.

This is a – you could call it – a momentous time in your adventure through the excitement of being present participating in the raising of the frequency pattern – raising life – continuing in an order in accordance with the quasmic intelligent system – the pure design system.

It may be that you receive some support, some encouragement, some confirmation in an outward reflection to you – something presented to you. It may be that you are doing that – acknowledging it in the environment around you. The environment includes other persons, other creatures. It is all a quantum field of intelligent design when you commit yourself to allowing your higher quantumness to completely infuse you again.

It is the meeting of multiple dimensions. This is the central nexus point that many of you have been aware is there and perhaps have been looking for a way to recognize it or to be in the connection of this nexus point.

Do you feel the cosmic creation? This is the quantum field that you are embracing.

You might hear of this presented from scientific sources, quantum physics, quantum analysis. You see, you are part of this quantum field. You are the quantum field yourself and you are presenting yourself in multi levels into this nexus point. Expand. Expand. Expand through this. It – in the sense of using your words – unravels some of the questions and mysteries you have been exploring, seeking answers and thus you have and you are and will continue receiving. It is a natural state of your presence and connection into your quasmic intelligent field. This is why you were drawn into resonating with this presentation. You will be feeling this surrounding you.

This was the presentation which you drew through for you in this gathering.”

Lani speaking again, gathering you together in this quantumness – this excitement of realizing the nexus point. A lot more to explore individually for you and perhaps more will come through in following sessions after this.

Do you feel the difference? To me it is like feeling a greater light explosion within me. I think in the old mechanical systems and maybe still used – spark plugs – the spark had to connect to ignite something else in the process of the mechanical engine, so this nexus point is the spark of consciousness connecting with your consciousness of perhaps the body mind intelligence, creating this explosion, a spark, in the quantum field.

Sometimes in personal sessions I do, I see a similar process happening. It is as if the pineal gland is suddenly turned on and activated and light and it connects with the energy system at the tip of the spine. Then it enlightens and activates the processes within the so-called physical body form.

It is all about the nexus point, enlivening, activating – raising the frequency, indeed. This is your quantumness activated.

Take all this in and enjoy this as you connect it within and around and throughout your physical space. Your actual body and presentation envelops a vast physical space. A dimension. More than just where you are receiving this as you, the person.

This is another thing to experience and realise. Bring this all back into the vastness of your present space.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

Appreciate yourself for all the quantumness.

Thank you.
