“Welcome. We are all present within an expanding field of consciousness and existence. We exist in a dimensional field around you, but we draw you into this clearer space so that you are free of many of the disturbing thoughts or activities that prevent you from moving more strongly into the collective consciousness field.

This is the prime intelligence field. The quasmic intelligence field which surrounds you, so in this presentation of yourself into the clearer aspect of the field that, we could describe that to you in these words, you are more able to have an overview of your present life circumstances and that includes the present life circumstances of all life within the planetary sphere that you know as your Earth planet where you are stationed temporarily.

The temporary stationing of you in the Earth station may be for several hundred years, it may be less, it may be more. It is determined by your presentation to continually update your energy systems and to integrate the quasmic field of energy which is presented to you.

You see it presented to you on a daily basis through the external, perhaps you would see it as external, the source of light for the planet, the central source of life for many of the vectors of existence of life which surround your presentation of the life cycle, the life light that you call your sun, the solar portal. So, here you are immersed within the intelligent field of creation.

How are you using this in your life span? How did you propose to use it when you chose to come into this lifespan? Many will tell you that you came into experience certain conditions and to resolve or dissolve those conditions.

That has been a limiting factor in the consciousness that continues to get recycled during ancestral passageways. So, in presenting yourself into this existence of this prime central intelligence we are immersed in with you, you are more able to understand that those were lesser conditions. The greater condition, the greater intention of being present, was to bring in the pure element of creation and to raise the frequency of everything that you consider to be an aspect of your life process.

You might consider your life process to be many incarnations into physical body forms. You might consider this to be the one and only presentation of your life essence, your true elemental soul consciousness into a body form. It is irrelevant how you view that. What is relevant, what is important, is for you to be fully presenting the pure design systems of life again.

This naturally clears distortions. It naturally clears anything that had been accumulated in your energy field which of course is consciousness. So, you understand the importance of the presentations that we bring you into and offer to you, presenting to you this infinite way of moving into the prime source of intelligent creation.

We might just say, moving into the creative life force. That is it, you see, and when you view what is happening around you to people you know, or anything you witness, you will be observing it and understanding where people have deviated from the prime creative intelligent life force. You may also observe where people are moving back into that prime situation where they have chosen to brush aside the existing contaminated or distorted view of life. People have become engrossed in that.

Now, you see you have freed yourself from that. You have risen into that prime intelligence of creation – the life force.

What is Real? Sustained in Natural Life Light Field

Lani speaking to you again, opening this portal, opening this area of consciousness for you to connect into the greater field of consciousness and to help you to be more than you think you can be. That is, to move into the potential you brought in with you from your point of origin and this is one way of assisting you in many different ways that you might feel you have a need for.

So, relax and tune into your true essence, your life force, your energy presence and move with us into a receiving state within the Station of Light.

Here we begin this session today.

These words and these energy situations presented to you as you come together in this way are all part of components that you are drawing into you so that you realise more and more what is important, what is real in your life. The real is the materialization of the quasmic frequency, the quasmic light field and this is the light that is the source of light that comes through the central source of light. Filling yourself with this is the essential life infusion for your life that you might think of for the physical body life, for your creative joy and expression of creative joy by being fully consciously present as a conscious light life form.

Here you are! You are absorbing this. Refuelling yourself constantly is still considered to be maintenance to sustain you and to enliven you more so that there is flourishing of you as this life form. In the current situation it is still necessary to engage yourself into the life light sustenance.

This is infused and you are infusing it within the natural produce that is your natural food source supply. You are enlivening that source as an overlaying frequency every time you consume any of the natural produce that is produced to nourish the life form that is grown and needs to be grown within the light field and the natural resources. It gets recycled through you. It is a process, indeed.

Having reminded you of this, we complete this immersion today, asserting, saying to you, confirming to you that you are this intelligent life form present in the life form. Acknowledge this. Feel it and be it.

This is the message for you in this gathering.”

Lani speaking again, helping you to absorb this, so just through my normal speaking voice you are recognizing that you, in your normal speaking voice, you are voicing the field of light that you have taken into you in this immersion.

For many of you it is confirming what you know and it is increasing the frequency, the vitality, your consciousness field, clearing it if it is needing to be cleared, enhancing it if it is needing to be enhanced by the true creative field of intelligent life.

This is who you are and what you and why you are present in your current physical body form. I acknowledge this.

This ends this session through the Omega Communications Portal.

Remember to like and subscribe [internet, facebook, YouTube] and share if you are able to – or simply sharing the energy that you feel – letting it shine out to everyone you have contact with. It is that energy field that people sense, they know. It is a very beautiful space and state and thing that you are doing.

Again, this ends this session.

Thank you.

You are Shining
