Omega Communications Portal

Your Presence is Important. Excitement.

This is Lani presenting the Omega Communications to you today.

Begin this session by being aware of your body, relaxing your body, relaxing your mind, opening your mind and being with us in a communication field. You individually are with me and others in the communication field and as you are present in this field, it is easy to remove yourself in your energy field from the living circumstances currently around you, any disturbances, any thoughts and move easily into the presentation of us all in that state of consciousness and space labelled the Station of Light.

This immediately shifts you out of Earth time and space into this altered consciousness, a greater free state of consciousness and in this space known as the Station of Light, you are receiving already energy and information beyond my words.

Allow yourself to be fully present receiving energy and information patterns. Thank you.

This is how we begin this session today.

“Welcome into this energy system within this Station. Here again you adjust your awareness, your sensory perception of your consciousness state here in your body of light, we call it. You adjust this to the frequency pattern that is being brought in around you through we who address you simply as collective consciousness.

We are an assembly of conscious Beings from many states of existence. That is many dimensions, that is many spaces or places. The intention is to bring you into that existence where you are aware you coexist with the entire field of creation.

This field of creation is created, is generated and you are accessing it through your original connecting point to the existence of creation, to the entire collective consciousness state. This is where you became individualized and this one that is receiving this, this is you presenting it already into the physical dimension – what you call reality of your local existence.

It is necessary to remind you of this again simply to renew your sense of purpose of being here, above everything else that is engineered and created maybe to lock you into a field relative simply to the evolutionary processes relating to the planet.

You are more than that. You are engaging your true pure order of existence of intelligent consciousness, engaging that into your local existence presently known as you.

The energy of support of the greater collective consciousness is constantly presenting energy fields to you, observing the energy fields around you collectively as those on the planet and elsewhere but individually there is a constant need to adjust energy patterns so that you become clear in your consciousness field, in your awareness, in your sensitivity and you enter this collective consciousness state.

It is an important state. Your presence is important. You are upholding the higher intention – the original intention – for creation, for establishing a higher point of civilization and the point of civilization of course is to raise the frequency pattern of wherever you are presented.

You consciously present yourself into many different places in your daily routines. Are you also aware you are presenting the higher field of consciousness there? Therefore, you need to consciously connect in with the pure elements of creation in a daily basis and frequently reminding yourself. This is what you are doing. You are connecting to the pure design system and you are bringing this in, in many different ways that you function and exist as, into the time reality of existence.

As you recognize this, you already are submitting into the time reality plans and the overall pure intentional plan – although it is not a fixed laid out plan – it is the intention to uphold frequency patterns, to enliven those ones or those areas which have become out of synchronization with the prime intention of creation. That creates order. There is order in the prime intention of creation. This does not mean as some of you will be thinking, what is the purpose of the natural processes in nature that are designed to break down other substances to form new substances. This is an ongoing process of creation.

By linking yourself with the highest order of creation you are infusing your life pattern in every way with the appropriate energy field. Here again, if it is your intention to consciously bring in this higher field energy of upliftment, ongoing, increasing life energy, this will occur. If you have already decided not to participate in that way, then there will be the gradual releasing of your higher consciousness field from the body.

Here you are – you have chosen to connect into this field of energy and information. The frequency patterns are already further enlivening you, upholding the original processes that continue to renew higher vitality, renewing new cells, providing, generating new cells for the ongoing existence.

You chose to do this. You chose to be here to receive reminders. There may be many who do not understand you and would not understand what is being presented to you. What is important is that you acknowledge the vitality, the consciousness field, that you access individually.

You also realise your individual access gives you access to the greater collective field of conscious creation. Allow this to perhaps awaken the energy within you that you call excitement.

This excites cellular processes within you. It excites memory processes. It excites and activates, in other words, the necessary pathways and those pathways then allow you to truly bring in that pure design system, into you.

This explains generally what is happening when you consciously connect to your original point of existence and creation and you bring this into you.

There are many words that can be used to describe what is happening. You may hear and interpret the words in a different way. The intention is what you are receiving in the gaps between the words. It is always the way. Your frequency responds to different frequencies and automatically there is the connection, the pathway, that is there for you to correctly access the streams of vitality in every way – the elements in every way required for you in your life pattern. Be this.

This is our presentation to you today.”

This symbol =

Consciousness rising to Quasmic Consciousness – energy flowing through all dimensions.

This is Lani speaking again and I am aware that the consciousness field existing around us that brought this to us, it seems they recede and perhaps the truth of it is that we gently recede from them so that we can carry the frequency clearly into those of us here in our pattern of frequency, our light systems, and thus we bring this truly and clearly strongly into the current life pattern that we each are creating – recreating, changing, shifting, increasing vitality, new designs, new people perhaps, new ways of communication, communicating new information.

All of this and more, because you have your individual purpose of being here on Earth, bringing in the unique energy frequency that is you and that is always of the pure intelligent design.

Now, bring yourself into the current time reality. Remember, time is not fixed, time flows through experiences and yet you need to bring in this frequency pattern into the time reality as we measure it. Firmly, clearly focused, more alive, more energized perhaps than you felt you were when we began this session.

Thank you and this ends this session through omegacomunications.co.nz
