Conclusions - Realizations Embrace the creative field

This is Lani presenting these Omega Communications. Another session, a new entry point into the greater field of consciousness that is you and perhaps you might think that what you truly are is beyond a state of consciousness. This is something more to explore and open ourselves to.

Initially, come with me and meet up as if we are together and then together we transit from where we are connected, where we are consciously living in the Earth, we transit into that state of existence – consciousness – reality – named the Station of Light. This is like an interface point.

It is easier when we present ourselves into the Station, or State of Light, then it is easier to transit further in our exploration of self and coming back together into the original state of order, perfection, the point of origin.

Have you made that shift already? Now we wait to receive the energy and information coming to us in this state of awareness. Thank you.

“Continuing your presentation into this field of frequency patterns, we as the Collective Consciousness and you as a Collective Consciousness are open to examine many of the places that are open to you now.

There are portals that are open that are bringing to you the field of frequencies. These are mostly balancing, and they are regenerative and many of them are putting out an energy frequency that some of you respond to, as if you are being called to place yourself into a new receiving position, or into a new placement where you feel you are better situated or where you feel you are able to correctly align yourself and bring in that frequency that you would relate to happiness and joy.

This also is always contained in the presentations that you come into through this portal.

It is all gateways, or portals, presentations, allowing energy frequency to come in and it always needs to, in particular, balance and correct and lighten up the energy field directly around you and through you.

Yes, you are indeed an energy frequency device. A creation – an energy frequency creation that you are consciously continuing to renew the life pattern, the life story you are experiencing and creating and more than that, you are continuing to engage the pure element of creation in you and through you. It works through your consciousness field – the energy fields around you which are and indeed which is a collection of frequency patterns. The frequencies connect, and this is why we sometimes refer to it as the connected grid of consciousness around you. The matrix that is life, that is creation, that is energy, that is information.

Whatever you need when you realise this information pattern is around you, this is when you reach out into connecting consciously to that energetic grid which is of your point of origin of everything, then you are embracing the response, the answers, the provision. You simply allow yourself to be in that state of receptivity.

This is the information coming to you in this field of frequency pattern in this presentation.

There may be states in your existence where you feel divided, where you feel unsure, where you are moving in and out of the creative energy field that relates to the pure elements of creation – the purpose and objective of creation and of your life.

– and automatically you need to reconnect to that original pure state of order and creation of your point of origin – the collective point of origin for all beings – and yet it is seen as an individualization of that creative source frequency pattern.

There can be the times when you feel to rebalance or to be recreated in some way, adjusted, and as you know, when you move into the consciousness state labelled sleep, you are moving into a state to openly receive adjustment and clearance and the frequencies without the interference of the mind or the lower frequency pattern of a combined lower controlling mind system.

It is always an opportunity – it takes only a few moments, if you measure your time, to transit into that pure elemental frequency of being recharged, refreshed in every way. You can do it in that state of sleep consciousness or you can do it by consciously reconnecting into the point of origin for the same purpose. To receive energy. To receive information. The patterns are all there.

We take you further into understanding this and as you understand it, there are adjustments in the frequency fields of which you are comprised. You are the sum total of the consciousness frequency pattern and you are reforming your life through this. You are reforming everything about you that you allow to be reformed. Your choice, just as you chose to receive this individual presentation of energy frequency. It is yours. We are presenting it to you, reminding you that it is here, it is there, it is everywhere, and so you are experiencing this again as this presentation concludes in this gathering.”

Lani speaking again. It is a conclusion – you have come to conclusions – realisations. You have been following a pathway of understanding and it is including everything. It is not excluding, it is not a completion and full ending. It is just coming to the realizations, sometimes called conclusions, that resolve as you understand the interaction you have in this frequency field you have connected with in this way in this session.

It is all about you being this realized state of a Being and being here in the Earth process and that is changing the world that you inhabit. That is the importance of being consciously present.

Now be consciously present with all of this in you and through you and around you, back into the physicality you have – physical body – physical location and that includes the greater quasmic field of you. It is an ongoing increasing energy field that you are, that is your natural state of existence.

As I end this session through Omega Communications, make sure you fully reconnect into the Earth, into time as we measure it and that means you are bringing into time the greater realization and frequency you have immersed yourself within. Thank you.
