Natural Patterns. Understanding your presence in the Biosphere

Hello. Lani speaking, linking us all together as a group, although individually you are very powerful and as a group together we are very powerful, not a power over anything but simply a very strong energized presence. Is this how you want to be in your daily life? A very strong energized presence? By that very statement that you are, then you become what you state, what you think about, what you talk about. You become that because you are creating that because you are an aspect of the pure intelligent creative system of that which we call life.

Leaving aside your daily business life at the moment, step into the precise connection that you have individually with your point of origin and the consciousness of that is part of the collective consciousness of source energy. This is how we gather together in the gathering space named the Station of Light.

Remember, you are here to bring with your presence any disturbances that you are aware of around you physically and you are also opening to receive the energy information system required.

This is how we begin today, being fully present in this collective consciousness field.

"We begin. We are with you and we present ourselves through this voice as the collective consciousness field. A way for you to understand the rhythms and the patterns and the processes that are the essence of creation. Delivered in the way of a human voice is the way that you can interpret it yourself because you receive the energy field, the concept, the presentation, the intention of what is delivered to you and as we surround you all in this space, you automatically receive through your natural receiving energy field, you automatically receive the energy that you are drawing into you.

It is always the same message – that you come to recharge yourself, to replenish areas and more than that, you are naturally absorbing the frequency patterns that are increasing as they are delivered to you through the central portal of energy field to you, to all life, to all experience, whatever that is or wherever that is. There is the natural expansion of energy field and the energy field is interpreted in actions or processes, in creative activities. You are fully supported in the natural creative essence of all life. Patterns.

Whatever you take into you in the form of ingestion is a frequency pattern, so your discernment will deliver to you the understanding – is this a natural frequency pattern that my body can utilize to increase the vitality or is it a substance that has been manufactured and does not carry the frequency that the body needs. There is always the choice. There are the natural formations created from the substances of life – light – air - water and the true creative presence – the essence – that is encompassing everything.

Now that you have been absorbing the frequency pattern of what is delivered to you, come to the understanding that each time you move into this space, you are participating in an overview of what is occurring around you upon the planetary system.

In the overview it is determined, it is discerned, what is needed to lift the general population above the abnormal creations and sensations back into the pure life stream from the pure originating system for life.

When you are here experiencing this with us you are naturally going through a cleansing process of your entire energy field in your nonphysical presence here and this is what you carry back in your presentation within and throughout your physical body system.

You are a necessary element that is present. Perhaps you go through stages of not understanding your presence – what is the purpose of your presence? This is when you question and that is when you receive answers, when you are open to connecting to the pure point of life – the essence of creation.

This is the necessary aspect that you come to regather and to regain the understanding of your energy field presence.

Again, you have moved into a greater progressive energy system – patterns. You are surrounded in a pattern, a frequency, here. We also are surrounded in that pattern of frequency because we are assisting the process of bringing it in from the pure aspect of creation into the biosphere that you recognize as planetoid Earth and beyond that, we are also assisting the process into other biospheres existing.

There is ample opportunity for you to expand your horizon – that is, expand your understanding, your realizations and this arises from you accepting the intake in the flows of the patterns of frequency. Refreshed daily. Renewed daily.

From this pattern of renewal you carry that out through your conscious actions and thought processes in your daily life. Therefore, you are creating new patterns in your life consistently. This follows on from your consistent daily practice of aligning to the pure original pattern of creation.

You will become aware that there are many of us of the collective consciousness working alongside you, present with you, because we are all one consciousness. In that sense you are receiving the direct intelligence from the aspect of you that comes forward to assist you from this collective consciousness field. This is the quasmic intelligent field you are immersed within and you utilize and you simply are One with this.

This completes this session.”

Acknowledged. Lani speaking again. It is interesting as they conclude their message for the day, it moves deeply within your nonphysical presence here. You probably feel that and then because it is always connected into your physical life system, you are automatically receiving it.

It could be enlivening something that needs enlivening within your physical presence, often it feels there is a reconfiguration of the physical presence of you if that is what is needed. If it is needed simply that you become more aware of your quasmic life system, then you are reflecting that, as you know that to be. Many facets make up the composition of what you think of as you.

Now, become aware that you are anchoring all of this within your life system, enlivening you through this experience through the passage of time and you are immersed within the flowingness of the pattern of time that we recognize with the experiences. Be fully present again within what we call time measurement.

This ends this session through Omega Communications. Thank you for receiving this.
