You Exist Exponentially Creation exists as You Planetary Energy Shift

Hello. Lani presenting this and as always, I speak to you as an individual to bring you into the state that is well known to you and that is the state of your true energy self. Your true existence, that has come from an originating source and has entered the physical body that you have and that exists more than just as this physical body in this physical life.

There is always expansion of understanding and these sessions are part of your expansion of consciousness - of your existence – beyond the everyday physical life that you think is just your life.

So, as we gather as individuals coming together in a like-minded field of energy, I help you to be with me in the state of receptivity of what is known as the Station of Light.

It is easy to move into that deep relaxation space in this frequency pattern that is the Station of Light. You are frequency. We are all frequency patterns.

This is how we begin this session today,

“Indeed, it is always a beginning phase as you enter this state of consciousness where you bring all your higher senses and you position yourself here in the receptivity area of this State of Light stationed here.

You are of this. You exist because this Station of Light exists here. In this way you have created it yourself and yet you are moving into it as if it is a new creation for you. It is one. There is the quantum field sometimes referred to as the quasmic field because it is in the realm that is beyond your scientifically known realm described and yet it is a dimension of existence. It is a frequency. It is cosmic and so the quantum field is all to do with this quasmic state of existence of you.

In this state that you have brought yourself into, you are refreshing yourself again, remodelling aspects of yourself that perhaps had got lost or had become weakened to do with the conditions that you physically respond to in a physical body.

Remember, your pure state of existence is a nonphysical energy system and in this gathering space where you coexist in this consciousness field of the collective, you replenish yourself.

You bring yourself back into the precise alignment and that is a connective state, meaning that you collect again the information patterns. It is a renewable resource for you.

This is why you are drawn to enter such phases and states of existence, of reality. It is a reality and an existence you have created. This may not be able to be linked in your mind as when did you create it, where did you create it, why did you create it. These are the questions that are within your quasmic intelligent field.

It simply is that you have retained your conscious collection and connection into this collective consciousness field for you.

This is the introduction, always to bring you correctly into the nexus that then you envelop as you expand the field of your nonphysical presence here.

Remember, creation exists as you. You are creating creation. Therefore, as you realise your nonphysical presence is more than simply your physical body – your nonphysical presence because you chose to be stationed within the Earth Station, you are allowing the quasmic field to link with the consciousness matrix of the planetary station itself and therefore the planetary station itself is receiving information patterns, bringing everything into a pattern of order of creation.

It is a substantial energy shift which planetoid Earth is participating in. It is not the only planetary system evolving in this fashion, in this way. You are participating exponentially and yet you are primarily focused where this physical body is existing where you are receiving this.

This is not a limitation. You are not limited to this current physical body presentation.

It is simply a focus so that you orient your energy systems within it and therefore your nonphysical presence can exist within that and exponentially exist everywhere it has presented itself into formations of physical life.

This is an overall expansion of existence. It is an overall expansion of your reality that is existence.

This is the intention of you receiving in these words and in the energy presented with these words, so that you are informed and the formation of course is carrying into it the pure design system again and this is expanding as you are expanding.

You created this system of light to be presented through this Station of Light where you have been drawn into to receive this and you created that and you are still creating it. You are still creating life.

You continue to create life for the nonphysical, for the physical to continue to exist because it is an important existence in relation to your nonphysical quantumness to be present in the co-forming of reality around you.

This is what you needed to hear in this state of presentation.

And so it is."

Lani speaking again and I am enveloping what we have received.

Are you enveloping what we have received? Did you immerse yourself within it? Did you feel tangible and intangible results? This will continue to flow through you in the multitudinal ways that you exist and you cocreate reality.

You have been enhanced again. You might say you have been purified or have expanded beyond what you thought you were as you were evolving to where you are receiving this. It is much more than this.

This is a very powerful presentation that you have brought into you in this way. Bring it back now fully around you in the reality you are creating in what you call your current life space and so it will unfold as you continue through your days and you reconnect with the intention of this presentation.

This ends this presentation through this session through Omega Communications. Thank you for receiving this.
