Ripple Effect

Lani speaking and drawing you in together to move deeply into your own consciousness state – your greatest awareness state – and how do you do that? Do you surround yourself in light, as if you are sitting in a beam of light, a cone of light, a ball of light? How do you bring yourself into alignment with the light of creation and the light of your creation, your sole creation and this is your point of origin?

In whatever way you do this, it can enable you to be more aware of the nonphysical aspect of yourself, your light body self, and this is what assembles with all of us in the Station of Light.

It is not like a destination but it is the existence that surrounds you when you open to allow yourself to be in the Station of Light.

You are stationed in your own station of light which is your physical form and physical life that you have created.

During these sessions when you are reading these you are drawn back into your home station – your Point of Origin home station – and in this way you are with the many others of the quantum field – the collective consciousness.

This is the way we receive the information and energy in these sessions, so we have already begun this session today. Perhaps you have already received everything you needed to receive, but now I recede and allow the collective consciousness to communicate with each and every one of us.

“It is that you are an aspect of this collective consciousness, as we are. We communicate as one energy collective consciousness, but you may visualize us as an entity or group of Beings. Many of you are familiar with the Council of Light and the Star Elders, which is all a component of this collective consciousness field.

In this field you automatically present yourself as a receiving energy Being, or a vessel, or an instrument, you automatically present yourself into the field to again reinstate the original pattern and order. This is because as you enter into different densities that are measured and you enter a physical state of lifeform, the access that you have can be diminished - the access you have to the prime energy pattern which refuels you, which again lifts you up out of the denseness into the field that you talk about as light – frequencies – dimensional frequencies.

This is what you do when you move into your state of conscious connection to your original nexus point which is the energy focused for you and this is the individualized aspect of collective consciousness necessary to maintain and sustain your living circumstances. When you completely focus on this there is a settling energy that ripples out from you into the environment.

Collected here receiving this in this Station, you are a gathering of Beings situated in multiple areas around the planet system. Therefore, what you take into you is rippling out into wherever you are physically stationed and we talk about that as your physical body form.

This is the importance of what you do. Every conscious connection and alignment again to the point of nexus for you – the connection point of all energy information systems for you – you are enlivening beyond yourself. It is moving out, rippling into the greater consciousness field.

Perhaps where you are living you might have memory of earlier ancestors and the way that they lived. If they had been able to access the energy you are accessing now, their state of livingness would have changed. What you are doing, because everything exists in this same quantum field, you are delivering energy information into earlier-type civilizations and it continues to exist there. There have always been individualized Beings of consciousness who knew how to access that and who were working to uplift other people into that same field.

This is what you are doing. You are creating a field of frequency around you which enables, in some cases it is simply self care, self examination, self repair of the physical self, emotional self, mental self.

In other cases it is bringing forward the systems of light to create improvement in the entire dimensional field that Earth station is existing within.

You are promoting the new civilizations. Civilizations of light previously known as crystalline light cities because it is a different frequency pattern than what had been existing within the construct of density. You have risen beyond that. You have allowed yourself to receive the increasing frequency patterns. These are increasing, you could say on a daily basis. They increase more frequently than simply on a daily basis. It is a constant frequency being pulsed into creation systems.

You are correctly aligning yourself into the highest, purest design system of creation. Remember that. This is what you are bringing into you in this moment as you receive this information pattern. It is a frequency pattern.

You are self-creating Self. You are creating a new self and the creation you are creating is creating other Beings in themselves – if we are talking about individual self constructs. – as a way for you to understand it and accept it.

Continue to move into your self creation in accordance with the frequency pattern, the increasing vitality, the increasing lightness. This is you self creating you, renewing you in every way.

Allow this to filter through every aspect of your quantum field surrounding you, surrounding the planet, but initially it must fulfill the basic need within you which is this pure frequency pattern.

This is the situation you have immersed yourself within receiving this.”

Lani speaking again and again we have been infused with frequency patterns, we have been reminded they surround each and every one of us, they surround all creation.

We are one speck on another bigger speck known as planet Earth in the quasmic field that is existence. It is consciousness. This is where you are existing in your presentation of it as you as a person in a physical presentation body.

As you realise this you may be feeling the light around you and through you so you recognize yourself as a Being that is enlightened, lightened up. It is alive, vibrant with the frequency that we know and remember as light. This is the completeness of you.

Now bring yourself into the movement of time as we measure it in the exact positioning within the field of time so you allow the rippling out from you in the natural emission. It happens beyond your conscious thought.

This is the session today through Omega Communications. Thank you and I thank the collective consciousness that is everything. Stay informed with the correct information from prime source frequency pattern.
