Absorbing the Frequency Becoming the New Species

Hello – Lani speaking and welcoming you into this space again and as we continue with the inner journeys, then you will find that your perspective on your own life changes and the life that is existing perhaps in parallel dimensions around you, other realities that people are creating around you. You find that you are the central space and you design your own life in terms of will you react to chaos or create chaos or will you be in the still centre.

These sessions are reminding you of your powerful presence.

Come with me again and present yourself into the quantum field, the collective consciousness and we have established that there is a Staton of Light as a place to position yourself in where you recognize you are part of this quantum field. It takes you away from distractions of what is occurring in your daily life experience.

This is where you are at now.

“Greetings, and as you come into this space what are you presenting to help this space, this dimensional field in the quasmic consciousness field? What are you doing to enhance this field around you and within you?”

This is the true question that you could be asking of yourself and a continuation of asking yourself why do you present yourself into the quasmic collective consciousness field on a daily basis.

Do you simply restore your energy field?

Do you simply come to recharge your energy field?

Are you aware you take in the essential energy frequency for every aspect of what you know about yourself in every dimension, every reality of existence?

So - become this presentation of yourself as this fulness of the design of your quantumness and present yourself into this space again.

You will be delivering into this space and you will be receiving what is needed in your individual time space reality.

In this space as you continue you will be aware there is no judgement. There simply is ongoing clarification of perhaps your energy field that you would describe it as.

Does your energy field need clearing? Do you understand that the nonphysical field is already clear and is already clearly absorbing the original intention of creation?

This is the refreshment and as you refresh yourself through the nonphysical aspect into the physical reality that you recognize, you are also changing that reality and you are changing the reality of your nonphysical presence simply because you are one with that, completely and fully.

This, you could say, is resurrecting the physical existence into the nonphysical existence and yet it is simply joining it together, absorbing one frequency that is all frequency of energy, of patterns, of life.

Moving forward through this now, you emerge as a newly formed individual Being – perhaps as a specific species that was needed to be present in the ongoing civilization you are participating in.

You are presented as this new species simply because of the absorption process of the quasmic field of creation.

This is what you are and so it is presented to you in this way for you to acknowledge your true self existence.”

Acknowledged.

This is Lani speaking again and so it is that you had moved precisely and clearly into the true self created state and space – that quasmic field.

There are many energy information packets contained in this session – that is my feeling about it – and so each and every one of us will be absorbing it and processing it in the quasmic field of intelligence that you are.

Again, I have enjoyed bringing this session to you through my space, through the space presented as Omega Communications and this is the session today. Therefore, bring in what you have received and you are continuing to receive – they said it is presenting a new species through your intelligent creative field. Wonderful!

Be aware that you are wonderful and you are presenting this as yourself, as this new Being, within your life system fully connected into the consciousness field that planetary Earth is.

You will feel the strong energy field around you from this session.

Thanks for participating. I acknowledge you.

Lani
