Light Systems The Necessary Connecting Elements

Hello – Lani bringing you these sessions – continuation of your unfoldment – unfolding yourself in such a way that your senses expand from deeply within you to all around the outer edge of your energy field, however far that extends into the quasmic field and you initiate the connection, always. So, you have initiated the connection to this session and we will continue together receiving what you need, what we all need, what we all are becoming - aware of our true natural system of light. The light system.

Readily we assemble together to receive, even though you will receive individually just what you need, but in the gathering together we present ourselves into the collective consciousness field that we also recognize is named the Station of Light.

And so we receive in this space.

“As collectively, we who address you as a collective consciousness, connecting with the collective consciousness that you are – it is simply that you were chosen or you were assigned or you chose to come into the field of experience that you currently are within in planetary system, the planetoid Earth. Already some of you are existing, have already been existing and will be existing in different aspects and facilities known as different planetoids.

This is the experience you are having in a multi sensory, multi dimensional existence. You see, you are not limited to what you physically see with your eyes or what you physically touch with your body. You are experiencing in a much greater multi dimensional quasmic field of intelligence.

It is always the purpose of bringing you into these sessions - for you to release what you realize is not real in your capacity as a bringer and receiver of the quantum field systems of light.

Light is consciousness and you are consciousness and you are consciously bringing in a system of intelligence that you know as the quasmic field intelligence – the light system – into the “you” that you know is you and releasing it out through your entire energy system into the connection within the matrix field within and surrounding the planetary system that you are within and focusing in particular on planetoid named Earth.

You see, there are multi layers to the connections that you have, but in one sense we refer to it as one quantum field of consciousness.

You would find whatever you are creating in your world, creating some significant event or some improvement in some way for yourself or others, you will be drawing into your creation and your central system the connecting people or advice or intuition – simply, the systems of light that are required.

The systems of light that are required can come through individuals, because as a species currently you already are accessing the quantum field, so you draw into you the necessary elements.

Remember, we have spoken to you before – the necessary elements are not always what you would think of as physical elements. They are the nonphysical that your nonphysical aspect of you identifies, recognizes, is already absorbing because it is already part of the quantum nonphysical consciousness of existence.

We are using many words to describe the field of your presence and this field of your presence came from the original quantum field of consciousness as a point of that – a focal point and you naturally identify with that focal point – the nexus point of your origin.

Again, we reiterate you are surrounded by connecting points. The connecting nexus points. It is all relevant as you understand your experiences. Even more, the experiences that you remember or you recognize will move into, are all imbued with the light system. The fields and pulsations of light is the continual feeding of you and this is what you are recognizing in this session and you intuitively came to receive the fields of light.

Your true essence of your quasmic intelligence will utilize the fields of light you are consciously and subconsciously, physically and nonphysically accepting and integrating.

This is who you are, this is what you do and so you are fully present in the concise connecting point of your life experience.

All is in order when you consciously connect to your point of order – the original creative order or construct or blueprint – it is the same thing that we are referring you to. The original pure design for you.

Let this settle within you. It is already active as you, as your life pattern. This is what you are receiving currently in the current of frequency patterns.”

Lani speaking again.

They quickly withdraw. We are fully consciously present, of being immersed within that quasmic field of intelligence and so now this has initiated a further unfoldment, further activation of the system of light within you.

You will feel it in your individual way.

As this is absorbed within you and you bring it deeply within you, down to the soles of your feet connecting into the consciousness field that is the Earth station, this is how I complete this session through Omega Communications.

Thank you for participating and being present in the system that I recognize as this life pattern.
